FBI Enters Wide Search For Fugitive

Held 14 Hours
Freed Unharmed

SOUTH PITTSBURG, Tenn. (AP)—The FBI Friday threw its resources into a huge manhunt for an Alabama fugitive who held four persons in terror for 14 hours while making his freedom bid.

The object of the search is William E. Smothers, 38, who was serving sentences totaling 160 years on six robbery convictions when he overpowered an Alabama highway patrolman Thursday and took his service revolver.

Smothers is a small, cigar-smoking man who boasted he would not be "taken." He was described as extremely dangerous.

It was believed he was trying to reach Chattanooga about 35 miles east of here, where he has relatives.

LARGE POSSE

The posse included at least 50 Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia highway patrolmen and numerous county officers. They were using bloodhounds, and a Tennessee patrol helicopter.

The search area is the Tennessee River Valley where the three states meet. Surrounding mountains contain several large caves in which a desperado could hole up.

The fugitive held his victims most of the time in automobiles. The first was a patrol car in which he gained control over an officer and a convict driver. The second was the car owned by a married couple taken so the patrol car could be abandoned.

Smothers turned out his hostages unhurt early Friday on a road near Flat Rock, Ala., about 25 miles south of here, saying he did not want to take them across a state line "because that carries a death penalty."

The hostages were Alabama patrolmen Otto Dees; Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keith of near Birmingham; and Ted Easley, a trusty convict serving 25 years on a murder conviction at Mobile, Ala.

Easley was driving Dees' patrol car to Birmingham from Kilby Prison at Montgomery when Smothers used a homemade key to free himself of handcuffs and chains.

"He was in the back seat and I was in the front," Dees said. "He gave a stranglehold on me and held a piece of steel against me and took my gun."

The Keiths' automobile was taken when they were kidnapped at their home. Before leaving with the hostages, Smothers made the Keiths feed him.

Rackets Probe Counsel Tells Of 'Buy Off' Offers

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Robert Kennedy, counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee, said Friday that management and labor representatives have tried to "buy" him off with promises of political support for his brother, Sen. John Kennedy.

"More of them came from management than from labor," Kennedy said of the attempts.

Kennedy, here to attend the Midwest Democratic Conference, would not reveal what kind of support had been offered for his brother, who is regarded as a front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

He also did not spell out what was asked in return, except to hint that the men who contacted him would have liked to see him let up on the pressure when the committee came to examine their affairs.

Kennedy told newsmen there had been "a number of such offers," all within the past year. In two cases, the men who made the offers "could have executed them," he said. One of these two offers, Kennedy said, came from a management source.

Another management offer came from a man who later took the Fifth Amendment when he appeared before the committee, Kennedy said.

By UPI

A paralyzing winter storm, one of the worst in decades, pounded the northern Middle West Friday night with roof-crushing, highway-blocking snows. Drifts mounted to 10 feet and highways were clogged with abandoned cars and trucks. The storm howled across northern Michigan and crippled most of Wisconsin and Iowa. The East also felt its power as gales and lashing thunderstorms swept the Eastern Seaboard.

Arms Plot Is Charged By Castro

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro charged Friday that enemies of his revolutionary government "are openly buying arms in Miami" and that neither Miami authorities nor the FBI are trying to prevent it.

"We are not bothered about this matter because we are not worried about any landings by expeditionary forces," Castro said during a television appearance. "We would even lend our enemies landing ships because our government has a popular base and arms cannot prevail against us."

In Miami, U.S. Customs agents said there was absolutely no truth to Castro's charge. Joseph A. Fortier, supervising customs agent, said, "We're right on top of everything that's going on here, and there's no truth to that (Castro's) statement."

"There has been no concerted effort to buy arms or ammunition to export to either Cuba or any other country. Of course, that doesn't mean there won't be. It's the same old story—the outs are now in and the ins are now out."

Castro described himself as still a revolutionary although he is a member of the new Cuban government. He said "the revolution" would fight to the last man "any" (Continued on Page 2-A)

Educator Confident Of Schools' Future

University of Miami Vice President Charles Doren Tharp said here last night that U.S. education need not fear Communist advances "if we continue to run a little scared."

Dr. Tharp, vice president and dean of faculties at the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla., called for closer unity between high schools and colleges in a speech at the first general session of the 21st annual Louisiana College Conference.

Dr. Tharp pointed out that the four years of high school and the following years of college are sharply divided.

He called the four years of high school and the four years of college "pieces of eight."

"I do not mean by this that I am going to recommend that you keep the eight-year elementary school and then go into an eight-year high school-college arrangement," Dr. Tharp said.

"I do mean, however, that I am going to advocate a much closer relationship among the pieces in whatever way they are grouped, than usually exists in any of the states with which I am familiar."

The speaker said at one time he was "frightened and depressed" about the "Russian educational system," "or rather, with what seems to be the results of that system in the production of highly-trained technical people at least."

"Since then," he said, "I am less depressed and less frightened because I can see in America some real attempts to reevaluate our educational process and to accelerate our efforts toward producing real quality."

"I do not think that we will be outdone by the Russians, the Chinese or anyone else especially if we will continue to run a little scared."

Unity Pledge Given Ike In Berlin Crisis

Leaders Of Both Parties To Back
Stand On Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional leaders of both parties gave President Eisenhower a virtual wartime pledge of support Friday, in his refusal to bow to Soviet threats aimed at driving the Western powers out of Berlin.

The Chief Executive held two lengthy meetings with congressional leaders. He met in the morning with the legislative big four and then held a follow-up afternoon session of top members of the Senate and House Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees.

The President and his chief military and diplomatic aides gave both gatherings a 90-minute fill-in on what the White House called the "evolving situation in Berlin and Germany."

PARTIES UNITED

Underscoring the general unanimity at the sessions, Speaker Sam Rayburn, the blunt-spoken Texas Democrat, emerged from the first session with this assertion:

"The upshot is that we are united—we don't have any parties in this thing."

He was echoed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, also of Texas, who said that "the Communists will discover this country and our free allies are determined to preserve the free world."

Johnson also said there was no thought of yielding to Soviet pressure. But he said that the United States and its Allies were willing to constantly explore with Russia "every honorable avenue for peace."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) and House GOP Chief Charles A. Halleck gave their solemn agreement to the Democrats.

Later, in response to inquiries, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty confirmed that the President also had met from 5 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. EST with top Senate and House military and foreign affairs experts.

Present for this meeting were Chairman William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Sen. Alexander Wiley (Wis.), the group's ranking GOP member, and Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), the ranking GOP committee member.

River Takes Second Life In 2 Days

NEWELLTON (Special)—The deep and quiet Tensas river claimed its second human life in two days late yesterday when a Crowleyville farmer plunged into the depths in a truck at Westwood Landing, about 15 miles southwest of here.

This week's violent death rate in northeast Louisiana climbed to 10.

OTHERS
Franklin and Tensas parish sheriffs' departments at 11:15 last night recovered the body of Raymond Killian, about 45.

No detailed information concerning the tragedy could be obtained, but authorities said that Killian was trapped in the cab of his truck after it ran off into the river.

Thursday 18-year-old Walter Mullins, who lived near St. Joseph, drowned in the Tensas while running nets with his father, Cornelius Mullins, and a friend.

Also Thursday four Negro children were burned to death in a fire which destroyed two Delhi homes. They were Erma and Andrew Bailey, 2-year-old twins; Terry Bailey, 3, and Shirley Bailey, (Continued on Page 2-A)

Son Testifies In Behalf Of Mrs. Duncan

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Frank Duncan, husband of the victim and son of the defendant in the "for hire" murder of Olga Duncan, said Friday he was proud he had lived with his mother most of his life.

The 30-year-old attorney made the statement shortly after taking the witness stand in the defense of his 34-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan.

Mrs. Duncan minutes before left the witness stand with a shouted denial of any part in the slaying.

SON IS QUIZZED
S. Lloyd Sullivan, defense counsel, asked Frank, husband of Olga Duncan who was taken from her Santa Barbara apartment last November by two hired killers, if he lived with his mother most of his life.

"I have, sir," he said, "and then he added, 'I am proud to say it.'"

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson objected to the last of the statement about Frank's pride and it was stricken.

Duncan, who has stood resolutely by his mother maintaining her innocence, denied he and his mother lived in a San Francisco apartment which had only one bed.

Sullivan also asked: "Has there ever been an occasion in your adolescence, young manhood or manhood when you ever slept in the same bed?"

"Never," Frank snapped.

Duncan looked relaxed, composed and dignified when he took the stand after his mother had completed her long session under grueling cross-examination by Gustafson.

The defendant ended her testimony with a shouted denial that she plotted to kill Olga.

"You're a liar!" she shouted when the district attorney asked her if it weren't true that she offered $6,000 to Augustine Baldonado and Luis Moya to kill Olga.

Search For Two Missing Is Vain

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (UPI)—Police and medical experts theorized Friday that the sadistic kidnaper-killer of a family of four buried an 18-month-old infant under the body of her father and left her there to suffocate.

Hope faded that the bodies of the two still missing members of the family, Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and her 5-year-old daughter, Susan Anne, would be found near the same spot where the father and the infant girl were discovered.

A systematic search by some 30 officers of an area 10 miles in diameter failed to yield any trace of the missing pair 48 hours after the father, Carroll V. Jackson, 29, of Mineral, Va., and 18-month-old Janet Carol were found buried under a heap of brush in a rotted sawdust pit.

BY MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS

Police Salary Slash Restoration Is Asked

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

LAKE PROVIDENCE — North-east Louisiana municipal officials yesterday took steps to induce tourism and called on the state to restore a $1-million cut in policemen's pay.

A "Boost Northeast Louisiana" plan was adopted to attract tourists as the Fifth District Municipal Association held its annual meeting here.

In addition, the association passed four resolutions, including the request for state funds in paying municipal police officers.

The Miss Louisiana Pageant, sponsored annually by the Lake Providence Jaycees, drew unanimous support from officials representing 11 area municipalities.

In other action a resolution was adopted requesting Congress to eliminate the excise tax on communications.

The association also passed a resolution to support Lake Charles

Mayor Sidney Gray, who now serves as vice-president of the Louisiana Municipal Association, for state president.

Resolutions passed by the district association will be presented to the state-wide convention April 2-4 at Baton Rouge.

However, it was the potential of tourism in Louisiana that received most attention at the meeting which attracted about 40 persons.

Gray outlines a nine-point program now being conducted by the state association and urged municipal officers to appoint citizens committees to work with the program.

A Bastrop businessman, Leonard Pratt, introduced the "Boost Northeast Louisiana" plan for tourism. It was received favorably.

The plans include the distribution of maps of the area depicting fishing and hunting spots, in (Continued on Page 2-A)

South Hails Decision In 'Bama Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A federal judge ruled Friday the 1957 Civil Rights Act did not give the federal government authority to sue individual states accused of violating Negro voting rights.

District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., dismissed a Justice Department suit against the state of Alabama. State Atty. Gen. Macdonald Gallion promptly hailed the ruling as "the greatest decision made in the past five years" regarding the South's racial troubles.

The government suit, designed to force officials of Macon County, Ala., to let some 20 "qualified" Negroes register to vote, charged the county board of registrars systematically denied voting rights to qualified Negroes because of their race.

TEST CASE
The suit asked a permanent injunction against the county board to prohibit alleged discrimination. It also tested, for the first time, the use of segregated facilities in the registration process.

Johnson said a study of the legislative history of the 1957 Civil Rights Act showed it to be a "compromise measure and that the compromise reflected an intention on the part of Congress to give limited authority as opposed to full and complete authority."

"A reading of the legislative history of this act impresses this court with the fact that if it had been mentioned that this act authorized the United States to sue a state for preventive relief the act would not have been passed," the judge said.

Johnson, who was one of a three-judge federal court panel that ordered integration of Montgomery's buses three years ago, cited a statement made by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell before the Senate Judiciary Committee. He said Brownell told the committee the department's jurisdiction was limited to "commencing civil proceedings against individuals."

150 Men Escape Injury As Fire Rages In Mine

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—Fire broke out deep inside the huge Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates coal mine at nearby Grant Town early Friday. All 150 men in the mine at the time escaped injury.

Operations were suspended while crews fought the fire. Grant Town mine was aided by three from nearby Mountaineer Coal Co. mines.

The fire followed a roof fall in a mainhaulage-way. It was believed the fall short-circuited a trolley wire and caused a spark. This probably ignited coal dust.

No one was working in the immediate vicinity of the fall, which occurred about 4 a. m.

Federal and state mine inspectors joined officials of the mine in an investigation. The company said Friday afternoon efforts to extinguish the fire were proceeding "satisfactorily."

There was a possibility the affected section might have to be sealed off to smother the fire.

The mine, where a multi-million dollar improvement project was recently completed, employs a total of some 650 men on all shifts. It is among the 10 highest producing bituminous mines in the nation.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane went down near Hoblandale, about 20 miles southeast of the base. Cause of the crash was not known.

Skies will be partly overcast today and tomorrow and temperatures will be similar to yesterday's range of 34 - 58.

Thursday readings were 61 - 44.

Temperatures will rise today in the eastern and southern part of the state, but Arkansas weather will be much like that in the Monroe area with partly cloudy skies and no important temperature changes.

Son Testifies In Behalf Of Mrs. Duncan

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Frank Duncan, husband of the victim and son of the defendant in the "for hire" murder of Olga Duncan, said Friday he was proud he had lived with his mother most of his life.

The 30-year-old attorney made the statement shortly after taking the witness stand in the defense of his 54-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan.

Mrs. Duncan minutes before left the witness stand with a shouted denial of any part in the slaying.

SON IS QUIZZED

S. Ward Sullivan, defense counsel, asked Frank, husband of Olga Duncan who was taken from her Santa Barbara apartment last November by two hired killers, if he lived with his mother most of his life.

"I have, sir," he said, "and then he added, 'I am proud to say it.'"

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson objected to the last of the statement about Frank's pride and it was stricken.

Duncan, who has stood resolutely by his mother maintaining her innocence, denied he and his mother lived in a San Francisco apartment which had only one bed.

Sullivan also asked: "Has there ever been an occasion in your adolescence, young manhood or manhood when you ever slept in the same bed?"

"Never," Frank snapped.

Duncan looked relaxed, composed and dignified when he took the stand after his mother had completed her long session under grueling cross-examination by Gustafson.

The defendant ended her testimony with a shouted denial that she plotted to kill Olga.

"You're a liar!" she shouted when the district attorney asked her if it weren't true that she offered $6,000 to Augustine Baldonado and Luis Moya to kill Olga.

Search For Two Missing Is Vain

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (UPI)—Police and medical experts theorized Friday that the sadistic kidnap-killer of a family of four buried an 18-month-old infant under the body of her father and left her there to suffocate.

Hope faded that the bodies of the two still missing members of the family, Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and her 5-year-old daughter, Susan Anne, would be found near the same spot where the father and the infant girl were discovered.

A systematic search by some 30 officers of an area 10 miles in diameter failed to yield any trace of the missing pair 48 hours after the father, Carroll V. Jackson, 29, of Mineral, Va., and 18-month-old Janet Carol were found buried under a heap of brush in a rotted sawdust pit.

DELHI — The home town rallied to the support of its own and paid $1.00 a pound for the home grown grand champion fat steer raised by Dick Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shepherd.

Eight Lake Providence businesses going together to raise the purchase price for the 970 pound top steer were Banner-Democrat, David C. Bintliff, Tri-State Stockyard, Eudora Live-Stock Auction, Abney Motor and Implement, Co., First National Bank of Lake Providence, Lake Providence Bank and White's Motel and Restaurant.

The 90-pound champion lamb, owned by Alan Cochran of Rayville was purchased by John L. Land, Tallulah, owner of "Pig Wagons," for $2.25 a pound.

Second Robbery Suspect Nabbed

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Sheriff's deputies Friday questioned two men captured in a south Louisiana manhunt, seeking a connection with a stickup and safe burglaries here.

Paul Lindsay, 29, was brought here from New Orleans. He was apprehended in Jefferson Parish and booked for investigation after a service station tip led to his seizure. He was caught when deputies fired over his head after he tried to run from a car.

Police Salary Slash Restoration Is Asked

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

LAKE PROVIDENCE — North-east Louisiana municipal officials yesterday took steps to induce tourism and called on the state to restore a $1-million cut in policemen's pay.

A "Boost Northeast Louisiana" plan was adopted to attract tourists as the Fifth District Municipal Association held its annual meeting here.

In addition, the association passed four resolutions, including the request for state funds in paying municipal police officers.

The Miss Louisiana Pageant, sponsored annually by the Lake Providence Jaycees, drew unanimous support from officials representing 11 area municipalities.

In other action a resolution was adopted requesting Congress to eliminate the excise tax on communications.

The association also passed a resolution to support Lake Charles

Mayor Sidney Gray, who now serves as vice-president of the Louisiana Municipal Association, for state president.

Resolutions passed by the district association will be presented to the state-wide convention April 2-4 at Baton Rouge.

However, it was the potential of tourism in Louisiana that received most attention at the meeting which attracted about 40 persons.

Gray outlines a nine-point program now being conducted by the state association and urged municipal officials to appoint citizens committees to work with the program.

A Bastrop businessman, Leonard Pratt, introduced the "Boost Northeast Louisiana" plan for tourism. It was received favorably.

The plans include the distribution of maps of the area depicting fishing and hunting spots, in-

South Hails Decision In 'Bama Case

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A federal judge ruled Friday the 1957 Civil Rights Act did not give the federal government authority to sue individual states accused of violating Negro voting rights.

District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., dismissed a Justice Department suit against the state of Alabama. State Atty. Gen. Macdonald Gallion promptly hailed the ruling as "the greatest decision made in the past five years" regarding the South's racial troubles.

The government suit, designed to force officials of Macon County, Ala., to let some 20 "qualified" Negroes register to vote, charged the county board of registrars systematically denied voting rights to qualified Negroes because of their race.

TEST CASE

The suit asked a permanent injunction against the county board to prohibit alleged discrimination. It also tested, for the first time, the use of segregated facilities in the registration process.

Johnson said a study of the legislative history of the 1957 Civil Rights Act showed it to be a "compromise measure and that the compromise reflected an intention on the part of Congress to give limited authority as opposed to full and complete authority."

"A reading of the legislative history of this act impresses this court with the fact that if it had been mentioned that this act authorized the United States to sue a state for preventive relief the act would not have been passed," the judge said.

Johnson, who was one of a three-judge federal court panel that ordered integration of Montgomery's buses three years ago, cited a statement made by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell before the Senate Judiciary Committee. He said Brownell told the committee the department's jurisdiction was limited to "commencing civil proceedings against individuals."

The suit here was the second

150 Men Escape Injury As Fire Rages In Mine

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—Fire broke out deep inside the huge Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates coal mine at nearby Grant Town early Friday. All 150 men in the mine at the time escaped injury.

Operations were suspended while crews fought the fire. Grant Town crews were aided by three from nearby Mountaineer Coal Co. mines.

The fire followed a roof fall in a mainhaulage-way. It was believed the fall short-circuited a trolley wire and caused a spark. This probably ignited coal dust.

No one was working in the immediate vicinity of the fall, which occurred about 4 a. m.

Federal and state mine inspectors joined officials of the mine in an investigation. The company said Friday afternoon efforts to extinguish the fire were proceeding "satisfactorily."

There was a possibility the affected section might have to be sealed off to smother the fire.

The mine, where a multi-million dollar improvement project was recently completed, employs a total of some 650 men on all shifts. It is among the 10 highest producing bituminous mines in the nation.

U.S. Jet Crashes Near Greenville

GREENVILLE, Miss. (AP)—An Air Force jet trainer crashed on a routine training flight Friday, killing both occupants.

Greenville Air Force Base said the names of the dead would be withheld pending notification of their relatives. The plane was a T33 jet trainer, which carries an instructor and a student.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane went down near Hollandale, about 20 miles southeast of the base. Cause of the crash was not known.

minorities who arm themselves illegally."

The premier added that the "problems" arising from the refusal of 43 Batista airmen in Santiago in Oriente Province were being made "a pretext for a first big campaign against the revolution because the reactionaries and the assassins are getting together."

"A campaign is underway to split Oriente Province from the rest of Cuba," Castro said. "This is part of a reactionary maneuver to convert Santiago into the focal point of the reaction, for those gentlemen (the reactionaries) are more virulent there than in any other part of the island."

Castro said the 43 pilots who were absolved by a rebel tribunal in their first trial on genocide charges "do not deserve to be absolved."

In Santiago, an attorney for the 43 airmen being tried for their lives a second time on Castro's orders said Friday that Castro might become a "new Napoleon of the Caribbean."

The 43 airmen were acquitted at their original trial on charges of "genocide" in bombing and strafing civilians during the revolution against the government of Fulgencio Batista. Premier Castro rejected the verdict and ordered a new trial.

ning in Iowa. The diesel engine of an Illinois Central passenger train went off the snow-laden tracks near Webster City and the 35 passengers were stranded for five hours. Near State Center, Iowa, two North Western Road freight trains collided in the snow, blocking the main line of track.

In the Cheboygan, Mich., area, a major storm center Friday, a passenger-loaded Greyhound bus was stalled in the snow for nearly three hours with a burned-out clutch. The passengers stayed in nearby farm houses until the bus could be towed to Mackinaw City, clearing the way for a column of cars piled up behind it.

Snows at Cadillac, Mich., crunched through the roof of an auto sales building, crushing 11 brand new Chevrolets like pancakes.

Elsewhere in Michigan, drifts up to 10 feet deep blocked every road and closed all industries in the Menominee, Mich., area. Tornado winds tore away parts of an auto plant at Monroe and four more inches of snow were forecast.

Michigan weathermen rated the storm the worst in 21 years in the state's northern Lower Peninsula and it was the worst in 10 in Iowa, showing that winter still had plenty of bite left even though it bows out in 15 days.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the heavy snow would continue, along with heavy drifting, in Michigan, and snow flurries would be widespread across the rest of the Middle West. Cold weather was to follow.

As the storm stretched eastward, 60 mile per hour winds howled into Bowling Green, Ohio, knocking down two 300-foot radio towers and causing damage estimated at $25,000. Two house trailers were whisked away by 65-m.p.h. winds on the Ohio Turnpike.

Throughout the snow belt, plows fought a losing battle. As soon as they pushed aside the old drifts, the biting winds erected new ones.

In paralyzed cities such as La Crosse, Wisconsin, Cheboygan and Dubuque, Iowa, practically every business, factory and school was closed Friday and urged to remain shut Saturday. Even the pickets patrolling the strikebound Allis-Chalmers plant at La Crosse were called off, and mail delivery stopped in the Fox River Valley cities of Appleton, Neenah and Kaukauna, Wis.

The storm was a furious wind-up to one of the bitterest winters on record. In Iowa and Wisconsin, it was by far the bitterest blast of the season.

By mid-afternoon, the storm was centered over Michigan's lower peninsula and had already begun to batter the east coast, with gales and rain storms.

Tornado winds slammed into Monroe, Mich., tearing out a 60-foot section of cement block wall, two sections of roof, and steel sash windows at the Ford parts manufacturing plant. Three hundred employees inside the factory escaped injury.

As the storm drove eastward, warnings of violent thunderstorms were posted for extreme eastern Pennsylvania, southeast New York, and extreme west Connecticut on a line stretching from Philadelphia to Albany, N.Y.

Solon Blasts Compensatory Farm Program

WASHINGTON (Special) — Describing the direct or "compensatory" farm program recently introduced into congress Otto E. Passman, La. Congressman, said it would "open the way, regardless of the intent, for the government to really socialize our nation."

"Upon careful study of the matter, the conclusion is inescapable that the net effect of the plan would be for the government to gradually take over control of production, marketing and distribution of cotton, rice, wheat, corn, tobacco and peanuts," the solon declared.

He added that the proposed legislation would also tend to bring an end to southern cotton and rice exports. "Not many of our farmers would raise these basic crops in excess of their domestic quotas if the plan's provisions were operative," he explained.

PROVISIONS
Some provisions of the contemplated legislation are:

1. Acreage controls and price supports would be ended, and farmers would sell their products on the open market for whatever price they could get.

2. The farmer would receive from the federal treasury a payment, not to exceed $25,000, to cover the difference between what he received for his basic crops and 100 per cent of parity for the portion of the crop representing the farmer's proportionate share of the domestic market. (In the case of cotton, the domestic quota would represent about 60 per cent of current production; for rice, about 50 per cent.)

3. Farmers would be required to sell their crops within six months after the end of the marketing year, as no compensatory payments would be made on sales after the six-month period.

4. Each farmer would get a domestic allotment on the basis of bales, barrels or pounds, instead of quotas by acreage allotments.

begun by the Justice Department's new civil rights division. The first, involving alleged discrimination against prospective Negro voters in Terrell County, Ga., still is pending.

Johnson issued a stay of his ruling until March 16, apparently to give the Justice Department time to prepare an appeal. The stay also prevents destruction of voter registration records in Macon County which the Justice Department as well as the Civil Rights Commission have demanded the right to examine. A special session of the Alabama Legislature, hurriedly passed a law which would allow boards of registration to destroy voting records after expiration of a 30-day time limit.

The Justice Department announced in Washington it would appeal to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals which has its headquarters at New Orleans.

Southern segregation leaders hailed the decision as a victory for the South. Gallion said it was "a sound defeat for the South-hating federal civil rights meddlers. It is a significant victory for not only Alabama and the South, but I say, for all the states of the nation in that it upholds the basic principle of the right of the states to govern their own affairs."

Eight Perish In Crash Of Marine Plane

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (UPI)—A Marine Corps Flying Boxcar, whipped by violent winds, crashed and burned in a coastal swamp Friday while trying to make an instrument landing during a blinding rainstorm. Eight of the nine men aboard were killed.

The lone survivor, identified as Sgt. Ralph Mauro Jr., of Hamden, Conn., was reported in critical condition.

A Marine spokesman said the R4Q Fairchild Packet was on a routine flight in weather that was "turbulent and very, very poor." The weather apparently had "a bearing on the crash," he said. The plane crashed about 200 yards from a highway about 5 1/2 miles northwest of here, but the dense swamp growth made it difficult for rescuers to reach the wreckage.

Mauro, radio operator in the six-man crew aboard the plane, was transferred to the Camp Lejeune Marine Base hospital about 30 miles from here after emergency treatment at the Cherry Point Air Station.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Space Radiation Sickness Danger Is Discounted

MOSCOW (UPI)—Two Russian scientists Friday discounted the widely accepted theory that human space travelers would face the danger of radiation sickness brought on by cosmic rays.

S. Vernov, corresponding member of the Academy of Sciences, and H. Chudakov, master of physical and mathematical sciences, said in an article in Pravda that apparatus installed in Soviet rockets revealed "there is no special reason to fear radiation sickness on the part of any living being which might be expected to make a flight to other planets."

The equipment in the rockets showed a great number of electrons circled the earth at a distance of up to 35,000 miles, but their energy was very slight—from 30,000 to 100,000 electron volts, the scientists said.

Since the energy electrons were comparatively small they could be absorbed by thin layers of matter, the Russians said, which would give adequate protection against the harmful effects of radiation.

Research Center Fatherless Turk Becomes Father

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of those fatherless turkeys produced by the Agriculture Department has become a father.

In fact, 37 young turkeys without paternal grandfathers have set more conventional birds gobbling at the department's Beltsville Md., research center.

The sire of the unique flock is one of 20 male turkeys developed parthenogenetically in a non-fertilized egg in the spring and fall of 1958.

Parthenogenesis is the spontaneous development of embryonic tissue in infertile eggs. In other words, the hen which laid the egg which produced the fatherless turkey was never mated.

Only five of the 20 males developed in this matter survived. And of these, only one so far has produced viable spermatozoa. The result was 37 birds without paternal grandfathers.

Dogs Are Cause Of His Downfall And Redemption

SOUTHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Dogs were responsible for the downfall and the redemption of John Seve, a fruit store clerk.

Seve told the story in court Thursday. First, he said, he embezzled $1,400 of his boss' money and lost almost all of it at the dog races. In panic, he left his wife and daughter and went to London determined to win back at the races the embezzled money he had lost.

The first night he lost and the same thing happened three more nights. Finally Seve had only $84 left. He knew little about dog racing, he said, but he had to gamble. He cut down the size of his bets and fortune began to smile on him. He began winning against 3 to 1 and 5 to 1 odds. In 11 nights of sweating agony the desperate embezzler recouped his losses and he wired his wife:

"I have raised the money and am sending it back before I give myself up to the police."

Seve was fined $56 and put on three years' probation.

Federal School Aid

Sentiment against federal aid to schools appears to be gaining strength rapidly. This sentiment is showing up strongly in many different areas of endeavor.

One of those recently pointing out the dangers that would confront this country under a federal school aid program was Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Mr. Shuman outlined his views in an article in Nation's Agriculture, the A.F.B.F. publication. He said:

"Stimulated by the fear of Sputniks, guided missiles and other Russian scientific advances, the citizens of the United States have been taking a critical look at their educational system. Some so-called experts have added to the confusion and hysteria by pointing to mistakes and weaknesses as evidence that local people cannot successfully run their schools.

"Those who favor centralization of control of most government functions at the national level have moved in with proposals for increased federal aid to local schools. Several teachers' organizations and other well-meaning groups have teamed up with the big spenders to push for federal appropriations for school building, scholarships and teachers' salaries. They point out that we have a classroom shortage, that good teachers are scarce and underpaid and that there is a wide difference between the states in their ability to support schools. What are the facts?

"We should not assume that our schools are bad—on the contrary, our educational system is the best in the world. We spend a higher percentage of our total national income on education than any other nation and this proportion has increased from four per cent in 1890 to six per cent in 1958. There is a classroom shortage caused by a rapid postwar population expansion and a period of restricted building construction during the depression and World War II. However, we are rapidly catching up with the needs by building 70,000 new classrooms each year as against an annual estimated need

"What about the equalization of support for schools between the states? It is true that some states have higher income per capita than others. However, these differences have narrowed very rapidly during recent years. There is no magic in sending money to Washington and then having some of it come back. The cost of the federal bureaucracy that would result, plus the disadvantages of federal control, would more than offset any equalization advantages.

"Proponents of federal aid to education contend that control of the schools would continue at the local level. After many years of experience with federal subsidies and controls, farmers will not swallow this argument. The supreme court of the United States recognized the inseparability of federal aids and controls when it said, 'It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate what it subsidizes.' Those who would be taxed more than they receive under a federal aid to schools would certainly insist on federal supervision over the spending of their money.

"The success of our public school system is largely due to the responsibility placed upon local citizens and the school boards they elect. Any plan which further reduces their authority and responsibility will inevitably result in weakening our schools.

"Yes, there are many needed improvements in our educational system. We need a broadened base of support to relieve tax inequities. We need to return a merit system for teacher advancement so that salaries will become more adequate for the best-qualified instructors. We need to place greater emphasis on fundamentals and be less concerned with educational 'frills.' These needs will be met more certainly by local people than by a vast federal bureaucracy.

"Federal aid to education might be the first step towards a uniform and regimented citizenry—the basis for dictatorship, not freedom."

Safe From Attack?

Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy's statement that it would be virtually impossible for Russia to make a Pearl Harbor-type surprise attack on the United States with bombers or missiles must, at best, be viewed from a relative basis.

If the secretary means that Russia is incapable of dealing a surprise knockout blow, there is every reason to think he is right.

This does not mean, however, that Russia could not stage an attack in which the damage would be at least as great in monetary value and in loss of life as was the Pearl Harbor assault.

The surprise element must be emphasized. If we knew Russia's total capacity and ability, the only kind of surprise that nation would be capable of delivering would be the time of the attack. Since we do not know all the weapons or vessels Russia possesses we could be as much surprised by its sheer might alone as we were by the Pearl Harbor attack.

Secretary McElroy's remarks came against a background of mounting concern over the Berlin crisis. Since that time the crisis appears to have been eased somewhat by the fact that Premier Nikita Khrushchey of Russia has moved away from the May 27 deadline on Berlin previously set by the Soviet.

The defense secretary based his view on the expectation that preparations Russia would have to make for a giant strike would be so massive that they could not be hidden. When a newsman asked the secretary if he meant a "surprise attack is almost impossible," McElroy replied:

"This is what the chiefs and I believe," referring to the strategizing joint chiefs of staff.

McElroy reasoned it would be almost impossible for Russia to organize in secret the means of "knocking out hundreds or thousands of targets in a matter of minutes."

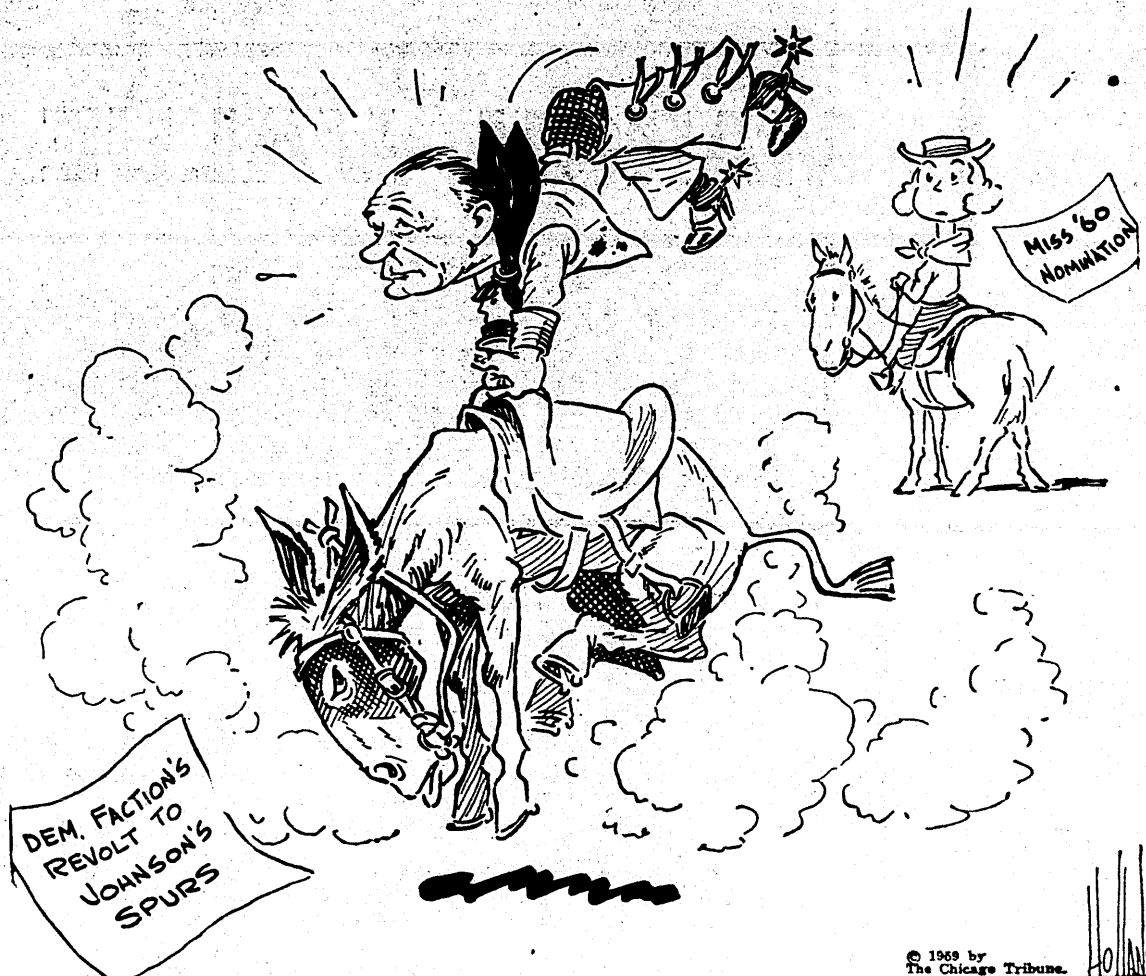

The possibility of a sudden plane or missile attack has been at the heart of United States preparations for retaliatory blows by the strategic air command, navy bombers launched from carriers, and guided and ballistic missiles already in place or being employed in Europe.

Our own preparations for violent and massive assault give us at least some idea of Russia's attacking power. We know that within minutes of an attack by Russia we could have vast quantities of planes, missiles, explosives and shells hurtling toward Russia targets and that our initial attack would be devastating. Knowing this, it is reasonable to suppose that Russia could stage a similar attack and that a large part of it could not be parried. Russia does not have bases as near the United States as the United States bases to Russia, particularly those in Europe, but we do not know the extent of Russia's striking power from submarines.

All of these factors have been considered by the American chiefs of staff. Secretary McElroy undoubtedly meant only that Russia could not stage a surprise knockout attack, not that it could not stage a tremendously damaging assault.

We must maintain our vigilance and must continue as rapidly as possible to develop detector and interceptor weapons, for we cannot be certain that Russia does not have a surprise in store for us.

Talmadge's Sword May Free American Farmer

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Herman Talmadge (D., Ga.) has a sword (S. 306) and it might cut the Gordian knot which binds the once-proud giant—the American farmer.

As things stand today, the producer of our basic foods and fibers has been bound hand and foot with ruinous red tape. His pockets have been picked by our economic system. He stands, in a state of shame which he never earned, as the object of public ridicule and abuse.

The Talmadge bill, cited as the "Agriculture Income Equalization Act of 1959," is just that—an equalizer. It suffers from its nature of being an economic leveler, but it has the virtues of leveling up, not leveling down; of junking much red tape while creating only a little bit more; of paying for production rather than for non-production. And while the senator doesn't pretend to the patience and dexterity that would be required to untangle the snarls, he is offering a sharp weapon to sever the cords for good and all.

There should be no further effort at this late hour to demonstrate the need for a new farm policy. As one who believes that the farm picture has been smudged and the American farmer himself dehumanized by the overuse of statistics, this reporter refuses to rehash the old-told figures. Suffice it to say that corporation farming draws the six-digit subsidies, while the person we call the American farmer gets the bad reputation of being a public charge. He earns less money every year. He works below minimum wages, and above maximum hours. He has no place at the collective bargaining table. He is the victim of the kind of Big Brother Bureaucracy which could devour us all, unless soon mastered by the people.

Senator Talmadge is not the only farmer in the upper house, but he is very likely the only one who could be called postwar. He commenced raising household crops and meat animals shortly after his five-year hitch in the World War II Navy. Like nearly all postwar farmers, he is a part-timer, since the land will hardly yield a decent living to the individual or family producer. The senator counts himself lucky, he tells me, if his farm makes expenses, pays taxes and keeps a good table. A man has a better chance today at rolling dice, he adds, than at farming. The dice occasionally turn up right; farming never.

The senator's bill is a "refined" Brannan Plan, according to its author. It frankly provides that the federal government pay the difference in cash between what the farmer gets for the domestic purchase of his basic crops and what he ought to get by American standards of livelihood.

In farm legislative language, the farmer would receive 100 per cent parity on his produce, but no producer would receive more than $25,000 a year. (Many corporations now receive 10 to 20 times that much.) The basic crops, with corn figures unavailable, under the Talmadge plan would yield an estimated total subsidy of $1.8 billion. But the savings to the public would be several times that amount by elimination of: all government controls and loans, all government purchase and storage of crops, much government personnel and property that makes up the present system.

It won't do to present the Talmadge plan as utopian or even wholly satisfactory. It would require a vast staff of paper-shufflers to "assign each farmer... a domestic production quota" and to "pay to each farmer a sales price support." The farmer himself would be required "to submit a bill of sale with his application for sales—price support payments." And without doubt a large corps of inspectors would be on the rolls to check the farmers, and another corps to check the inspectors.

The Talmadge plan would not bring about free enterprise, but it would allow the farmer to raise whatever he wants and sell it for whatever it brings. Knowing that there is a federal floor under the prices, thus the farmer would be equalized under the same economic protection as the industrial worker, the metals producer and the numerous other segments of the population.

Secretary Benson's six-year scheme of reducing price supports and reducing acreage has a negative quality which may be at the heart of its failure. In any event, it is a discredited cause and should be abandoned. The Talmadge proposal, which had a trial flight last year, has many friends in the senate.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Teacher One Who Can Convey Ideas

A teacher is a person who can convey data, ideas, theories, facts to other persons in such a manner that what is said is clearly understood, is emotionally and intellectually received and is of advantage to the person who learns. Many persons who are teachers do not succeed in teaching. They open their mouths and words come out but the pupil is not receptive.

I was thinking about that as I listened to Leonard Bernstein teach children what music is. This is a program of the New York Philharmonic on the Columbia Broadcasting System. I always listen to this program when it is given because it is one of the most stimulating that is on the air. Also it is not disturbed by sponsors selling cigarettes which I do not smoke or detergents which I do not use. It is educational, informative, delightful and unobstructed.

Leonard Bernstein is a truly varied teacher because he has the facility of making what he says understood and receivable. Everybody likes music except the morose and the tone deaf and music is expressed in many forms, from what the laity calls popular to classical. But truth to tell, music is music and for human beings, it is merely another form of expression, of conveying an emotion or a thought or even an ideal. Whether it is "The Tronches" or the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" which I prefer to the Lohengrin one, it is saying in rhythm and sound what someone else might say in words or in paint or on a drawing-board.

The genius of Bernstein is that he is able to convey to youngsters that the music of Mozart or Bach is not to be disliked because it is called classical any more than high school children must dislike Shakespeare because it is taught in a class room. To make a child realize the why of anything is first rate teaching and when an adult approaches a new subject he is very much the child.

Bernstein is often called a "ham" which he undoubtedly is. So was Richard Mansfield and so was John Barrymore and they could play Hamlet so that one left the theatre with a sense of participation. Today, one often leaves the theatre with a feeling that the evening was expensive. The best teacher I have ever known was Professor Charles A. Beard, who taught a gloomy subject now, days called government. Beard hammed, of course, but his students left with a bagful of ideas. Hamming is a theatrical device employed to attract the attention of the listener and to emphasize the significance of the moment. Unquestionably, the greatest speech writer the United States produced was Abraham Lincoln and his most significant work was the Gettysburg Address. He started it with the words, "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition, etc., etc." Now suppose he had rejected hamming and said it simply, like politicians prefer today, look what he would have said:

"Eighty-seven years ago, the United States was founded by statesmen who believed in, etc., etc."

I have listened to many of the important orators during the past 40 years and have watched most of the great conductors. What is a conductor's function? Is it to keep time for his orchestra? Is it to tell the orchestra of the highest qualifications how to play? If that is his job, no first rate symphony orchestra needs a conductor. Quite apart from interpretation, it is the function of the conductor to lead the audience to the music, to stimulate an interest, an appreciation, an excitement over the music.

I recall when Serge Koussevitzky gave a Beethoven series at Tanglewood. The conductor there wears a gray cotton jacket and white trousers. It came to the Ninth, No. Koussevitzky. The lights went on, the lights went off. Still no Koussevitzky. The audience became tense and anxious. Finally, he appeared in full dress, white tie, tails and all. The orchestra and audience rose to their feet. What might have been another concert became a tribute. Hamming? Of course. But it conveyed an idea that no words could express. This was the greatest.

When I was much younger, I resented Bernstein's hamming. But watching it on television with children in the audience, I realize that it is a great art, the art of making the mind receptive, the art of teaching.

SPRUCE UP OR ELSE

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Arthur Morse, chairman of the British travel and holidays board, warned owners of "crumbling" hotels to spruce up or rebuild or they will lose valuable tourist business. He said Victorian hotel standards will not stand up to the jet age.

DR. PETER J. STEINICROHN

Headaches After Spinal Puncture

Dr. Steincrohn is author of "How To Add Years To Your Life," "You Can Increase Your Heart-Power," "How To Keep Fit Without Exercise," and other well-known books.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My doctor has said that I need a spinal puncture to determine if there is anything wrong in my spinal fluid. I am not scared of having the spinal tap itself, but I am awfully afraid of the terrible headaches patients are supposed to suffer for hours after this procedure. Shall I go through with it? Mr. B.

ANSWER: If the test is indicated, I think you would be wise to have it done. Not every patient gets these post-puncture headaches. But I admit, when they do come, they can be quite painful. Doctors have tried many methods to prevent them, but so far none has proved entirely satisfactory.

Therefore it will interest you to know that a promising technique has been devised by Robert J. Brooker, M.D., of the department of surgery, University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine.

He made a study of 894 patients. After the needle was removed these patients were asked to lie on their abdomens for three hours. Then, they were allowed to get up and be around. Headache followed in only four of these patients (an incidence of less than 0.5 per cent.)

However, in a control group of 200 patients who were allowed to lie on their back for three hours, headaches occurred in 38.5 per cent. Lying on the abdomen seems to prevent excessive loss of spinal fluid, which is the contributory factor to the headaches. You might mention this new technique to your doctor. Perhaps he already knows about it; or is willing to give it a try.

CORONARY DISEASE ON THE FARM

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is it true that farm workers are not subject to coronary disease? If that's true, we city folk seem to be getting the worst of everything. Mr. V. O. P.

ANSWER: Coronary disease does not spare the farmer. According to the Foreign Letters Department of the Journal of the American Medical Association: "In a random sample of 96 men, aged 55-64, drawn from a rural area in southwest Scotland and studied by Drs. Kennedy and Cowan (Scottish Medical Journal) 43 were actively engaged in agriculture; 23 had evidence of coronary heart disease, and of these 8 were agricultural workers. The authors concluded that in the rural area studied coronary heart disease is common. There appeared to be no difference between the smoking habits of the coronary and the non-coronary group."

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I am a 56-year-old business man and according to my family and friends I am a "changed man." Is it possible I am going through the "male climacteric"? I complain of being constantly tired; I get easily upset, whereas I used to be calm and collected; I have no ambition; I'd rather stay home every night now, but I used to like to be on the go. And I'm sure I've had a loss of potency. What would you do? Mr. M. B. F.

ANSWER: Tell it to your doctor. Unfortunately, the diagnosis must be made on symptoms rather than on laboratory tests. Therefore, it is often difficult to make. Most doctors try a course of treatment with the "androgens" (male hormones). If the patient improves on this treatment within a month or two, I think it is fair to make the diagnosis of "male climacteric." If androgens do not help, you will have to look elsewhere for the cause of your discomforts.

Catholics Making Gain In Politics

It has been thirty-two years since Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, a communicant in the Roman Catholic Church, on April 17, 1927, made reply to the challenge of those who had questioned his Presidential eligibility because of his faith.

The Smith reply, answered directly six questions put to him by Charles C. Marshall, an attorney, an adherent of the Protestant Episcopal Church and an expert in canon law.

The Smith reply was a unique and historic document, several thousand words in length. For the first time in the history of the country a potential candidate for the Presidency had been publicly challenged to show how he could give undivided allegiance to his country and his church.

Governor Smith made his statement simply, clearly with entire lack of equivocation and with the ring of honesty and truth that always characterized Alfred E. Smith. Perhaps the most quoted phrase in the Smith statement was:

"I recognize no power in the institutions of my church to interfere with the operations of the Constitution of the United States or the enforcement of the laws of the land."

As an answer to the charge that Al Smith's religion imposed on him a set of concepts and loyalties that would have mitigated against his discharging that duty of the Presidency in accordance with the best American traditions, the Smith answer was annihilating. Yet it is doubtful if Smith should have answered the Marshall or any similar questions or that any present candidate for the Presidency in 1960 should feel it necessary or desirable to do so.

At the time of the Smith statement he was serving his fourth term as Governor of New York. He had held offices of public trust for 23 years—with competency and honesty. There was never a suggestion that his religion had ever been a factor in any of his official actions.

Governor Smith had received the votes of several hundred delegates for the Presidential nomination on 103 ballots at Madison Square Garden in 1924. He was all but conceded the 1928 nomination when he made the Marshall reply and did receive that nomination at Houston fourteen months later.

He was the first Catholic ever to have been nominated by a major party; was the only man of his faith who was Governor of a populous State at the time. Now out of the five most populous States—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois—three—California, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, have Catholic Governors.

Also it is likely that Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, whatever may be the final outcome of the convention, will be the leader in strength on the first ballot in the 1960 Democratic National convention, and there is the probability that Governors Brown of California, Diddle of Ohio and Lawrence of Pennsylvania will have favorite son designations and indeed half the convention strength on the opening ballots may be cast for candidates of Catholic faith.

Governor Smith made his statement in face of wide-spread urging from prominent Protestants that he not do so. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia urged him to pass it up. Julian Harris, the Georgia editor, wrote: "Governor Smith can best preserve his own rights and dignity by ignoring Marshall's challenge."

The Los Angeles Times noted that neither of the eminent Chief Justices, Edward Douglas White nor Roger Taney, who were Catholics, "ever deemed it necessary to assure the country in a public statement that he would not permit religion to interfere with a strict and just interpretation of the laws and the constitution."

Joseph Daniels, the North Carolina editor wrote: "No man ought to vote for against a man because of his religion. In my opinion no Catholic ought to support Governor Smith because he belongs to his church and no Protestant ought to oppose him because he is a communicant of the Roman Catholic Church." The Nashville Tennessean said editorially:

"Mr. Smith should stand or fall on his qualifications as a statesman and his views on national and international questions; and the matter of the church he belongs to should not enter into the consideration."

That advice is as valid now as it was 32 years ago. Things stood after the Smith statement just as they had stood before, despite the frankness and temperate spirit of that statement.

The pertinent question always is a man's character and ability to fill the office, whether that office be President or Judge, or Governor or Mayor. If the fundamental law of this country means anything it means that fitness for office is not to be appraised by religious affiliation.

Federal School Aid

Sentiment against federal aid to schools appears to be gaining strength rapidly. This sentiment is showing up strongly in many different areas of endeavor.

One of those recently pointing out the dangers that would confront this country under a federal school aid program was Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Mr. Shuman outlined his views in an article in Nation's Agriculture, the A.F.B.F. publication. He said:

"Stimulated by the fear of Sputniks, guided missiles and other Russian scientific advances, the citizens of the United States have been taking a critical look at their educational system. Some so-called experts have added to the confusion and hysteria by pointing to mistakes and weaknesses as evidence that local people cannot successfully run their schools.

"Those who favor centralization of control of most government functions at the national level have moved in with proposals for increased federal aid to local schools. Several teachers' organizations and other well-meaning groups have teamed up with the big spenders to push for federal appropriations for school building, scholarships and teachers' salaries. They point out that we have a classroom shortage, that good teachers are scarce and underpaid and that there is a wide difference between the states in their ability to support schools. What are the facts?

"We should not assume that our schools are bad—on the contrary, our educational system is the best in the world. We spend a higher percentage of our total national income on education than any other nation and this proportion has increased from four per cent in 1890 to six per cent in 1958. There is a classroom shortage caused by a rapid postwar population expansion and a period of restricted building construction during the depression and World War II. However, we are rapidly catching up with the needs by building 70,000 new classrooms each year as against an annual estimated need

"What about the equalization of support for schools between the states? It is true that some states have higher income per capita than others. However, these differences have narrowed very rapidly during recent years. There is no magic in sending money to Washington and then having some of it come back. The cost of the federal bureaucracy that would result, plus the disadvantages of federal control, would more than offset any equalization advantages.

"Proponents of federal aid to education contend that control of the schools would continue at the local level. After many years of experience with federal subsidies and controls, farmers will not swallow this argument. The supreme court of the United States recognized the inseparability of federal aids and controls when it said, 'It is hardly lack of due process for the government to regulate what it subsidizes.' Those who would be taxed more than they receive under a federal aid to schools would certainly insist on federal supervision over the spending of their money.

"The success of our public school system is largely due to the responsibility placed upon local citizens and the school boards they elect. Any plan which further reduces their authority and responsibility will inevitably result in weakening our schools.

"Yes, there are many needed improvements in our educational system. We need a broadened base of support to relieve tax inequities. We need to return a merit system for teacher advancement so that salaries will become more adequate for the best-qualified instructors. We need to place greater emphasis on fundamentals and be less concerned with educational 'frills.' These needs will be met more certainly by local people than by a vast federal bureaucracy.

"Federal aid to education might be the first step towards a uniform and regimented citizenry—the basis for dictatorship, not freedom."

Safe From Attack?

Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy's statement that it would be virtually impossible for Russia to make a Pearl Harbor-type surprise attack on the United States with bombers or missiles must, at best, be viewed from a relative basis.

If the secretary means that Russia is incapable of dealing a surprise knockout blow, there is every reason to think he is right.

This does not mean, however, that Russia could not stage an attack in which the damage would be at least as great in monetary value and in loss of life as was the Pearl Harbor assault.

The surprise element must be emphasized. If we knew Russia's total capacity and ability, the only kind of surprise that nation would be capable of delivering would be the time of the attack. Since we do not know all the weapons or vessels Russia possesses we could be as much surprised by its sheer might alone as we were by the Pearl Harbor attack.

Secretary McElroy's remarks came against a background of mounting concern over the Berlin crisis. Since that time the crisis appears to have been eased somewhat by the fact that Premier Nikita Khrushchev of Russia has moved away from the May 27 deadline on Berlin previously set by the Soviet.

The defense secretary based his view on the expectation that preparations Russia would have to make for a giant strike would be so massive that they could not be hidden. When a newsman asked the secretary if he meant a "surprise attack is almost impossible," McElroy replied:

"This is what the chiefs and I believe," referring to the strategy-making joint chiefs of staff.

McElroy reasoned it would be almost impossible for Russia to organize in secret the means of "knocking out hundreds or thousands of targets in a matter of minutes."

The possibility of a sudden plane or missile attack has been at the heart of United States preparations for retaliatory blows by the strategic air command, navy bombers launched from carriers, and guided and ballistic missiles already in place or being emplaced in Europe.

Our own preparations for violent and massive assault give us at least some idea of Russia's attacking power. We know that within minutes of an attack by Russia we could have vast quantities of planes, missiles, explosives and shells hurtling toward Russia targets and that our initial attack would be devastating. Knowing this, it is reasonable to suppose that Russia could stage a similar attack and that a large part of it could not be parried. Russia does not have bases as near the United States as are the United States bases to Russia, particularly those in Europe, but we do not know the extent of Russia's striking power from submarines.

All of these factors have been considered by the American chiefs of staff. Secretary McElroy undoubtedly meant that Russia could not stage a surprise knock-out attack, not that it could not stage a tremendously damaging assault.

We must maintain our vigilance and must continue as rapidly as possible to develop detector and interceptor weapons, for we cannot be certain that Russia does not have a surprise in store for us.

Talmadge's Sword May Free American Farmer

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Herman Talmadge (D., Ga.) has a sword (S. 306) and it might cut the Gordian knot which binds the once-proud giant—the American farmer.

As things stand today, the producer of our basic foods and fibers has been bound hand and foot with ruinous red tape. His pockets have been picked by our economic system. He stands, in a state of shame which he never earned, as the object of public ridicule and abuse.

The Talmadge bill, cited as the "Agriculture Income Equalization Act of 1959," is just that—an equalizer. It suffers from its nature of being an economic leveler, but it has the virtues of leveling up, not leveling down; of junking much red tape while creating only a little bit more; of paying for production rather than for non-production. And while the senator doesn't pretend to the patience and dexterity that would be required to untangle the snarls, he is offering a sharp weapon to sever the cords for good and all.

There should be no further effort at this late hour to demonstrate the need for a new farm policy. As one who believes that the farm picture has been smudged and the American farmer himself dehumanized by the overuse of statistics, this reporter refuses to rehash the oft-told figures. Suffice it to say that corporation farming draws the six-digit subsidies, while the person we call the American farmer gets the bad reputation of being a public charge. He earns less money every year. He works below minimum wages, and above maximum hours. He has no place at the collective bargaining table. He is the victim of the kind of Big Brother Bureau which could devour us all, unless soon mastered by the people.

Senator Talmadge is not the only farmer in the upper house, but he is very likely the only one who could be called plowman. He commenced raising household crops and meat animals shortly after his five-year hitch in the World War II Navy. Like nearly all postwar farmers, he is a part-timer, since the land will hardly yield a decent living to the individual or family producer. The senator counts himself lucky, he tells me, if his farm makes expenses, pays taxes and keeps a good table. A man has a better chance today at rolling dice, he adds, than at farming. The dice occasionally turn up right; farming never.

The senator's bill is a "refined" Brannan Plan, according to its author. It frankly provides that the federal government pay the difference in cash between what the farmer gets for the domestic purchase of his basic crops and what he ought to get by American standards of livelihood.

In farm legislative language, the farmer would receive 100 per cent parity on his produce, but no producer would receive more than $25,000 a year. (Many corporations now receive 10 to 20 times that much.) The basic crops, with corn figures unavailable, under the Talmadge plan would yield an estimated total subsidy of $1.8 billion. But the savings to the public would be several times that amount by elimination of: all government controls and loans, all government purchase and storage of crops, much government personnel and property that makes up the present system.

It won't do to present the Talmadge plan as utopian or even wholly satisfactory. It would require a vast staff of paper-shufflers to "assign each farmer . . . a domestic production quota" and to "pay to each farmer a sales price support." The farmer himself would be required "to submit a bill of sale with his application for sales-price support payments." And without doubt a large corps of inspectors would be on the rolls to check the farmers, and another corps to check the inspectors.

The Talmadge plan would not bring about free enterprise, but it would allow the farmer to raise whatever he wants and sell it for whatever it brings, knowing that there is a federal floor under the prices. Thus the farmer would be equalized under the same economic protection as the industrial worker, the metals producer and the numerous other segments of the population.

Secretary Benson's six-year scheme of reducing price supports and reducing acreage has a negative quality which may be at the heart of its failure. In any event, it is a discredited cause and should be abandoned. The Talmadge proposal, which had a trial flight last year, has many friends in the senate.

Teacher One Who Can Convey Ideas

A teacher is a person who can convey data, ideas, theories, facts to other persons in such a manner that what is said is clearly understood, is emotionally and intellectually received and is of advantage to the person who learns. Many persons who are teachers do not succeed in teaching. They open their mouths and words come out but the pupil is not receptive.

I was thinking about that as I listened to Leonard Bernstein teach children what music is. This is a program of the New York Philharmonic on the Columbia Broadcasting System. I always listen to this program when it is given because it is one of the most stimulating that is on the air. Also it is not disturbed by sponsors selling cigarettes which I do not smoke or detergents which I do not use. It is educational, informative, delightful and unobstructed.

Leonard Bernstein is a truly valued teacher because he has the facility of making what he says understood and receivable. Everybody likes music except the morose and the tone deaf and music is expressed in many forms, from what the laity calls popular to classical. But truth to tell, music is music and for human beings, it is merely another form of expression, of conveying an emotion or a thought or even an ideal. Whether it is "76 Trombones" or the Mendelssohn "Wedding March" which I prefer to the Lohengrin one, it is saying in rhythm and sound what someone else might say in words or in paint or on a drawing-board.

The genius of Bernstein is that he is able to convey to youngsters that the music of Mozart or Bach is not to be disliked because it is called classical any more than high school children must dislike Shakespeare because it is taught in a class room. To make a child realize the why of anything is first rate teaching and when an adult approaches a new subject he is very much the child.

Bernstein is often called a "ham" which he undoubtedly is. So was Richard Mansfield and so was John Barrymore and they could play Hamlet so that one left the theatre with a sense of participation. Today, one often leaves the evening was expensive. The best teacher I have ever known was Professor Charles A. Beard, who taught a gloomy subject nowadays called government. Beard hammed, of course, but his students left with a bagful of ideas. Hamming is a theatrical device employed to attract the attention of the listener and to emphasize the significance of the moment. Unquestionably, the greatest speech writer the United States produced was Abraham Lincoln and his most significant work was the Gettysburg Address. He started it with the words, "Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition, etc., etc." Now suppose he had rejected hamming and said it simply, like politicians prefer today, look what he would have said:

"Eighty-seven years ago, the United States was founded by statesmen who believed in, etc., etc."

I have listened to many of the important orchestras during the past 40 years and have watched most of the great conductors. What is a conductor's function? Is it to keep time for his orchestra? Is it to teach men of the highest qualifications how to play? If that is his job, no first rate symphony orchestra needs a conductor. Quite apart from interpretation, it is the function of the conductor to stimulate the audience to the music, to stimulate an interest, an appreciation, an excitement over the music.

I recall when Serge Koussevitzky gave a Beethoven series at Tanglewood. The conductor there wears a gray cotton jacket and white trousers. It came to the Ninth. No Koussevitzky. The lights went on; the lights went off. Still no Koussevitzky. The audience became tense and anxious. Finally, he appeared in full dress, white tie, tails and all. The orchestra and audience rose to their feet. What might have been another concert became a tribute, Hamming? Of course. But it conveyed an idea that no words could express. This was the greatest.

When I was much younger, I resented Bernstein's hamming. But watching it on television with children in the audience, I realize that it is a great art, the art of making the mind receptive, the art of teaching.

SPRUCE UP OR ELSE

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Arthur Morse, chairman of the British travel and holidays board, warned owners of "crumbling" hotels to spruce up or rebuild or they will lose valuable tourist business. He said Victorian hotel standards will not stand up to the jet age.

ON GERMANY PROBLEM

Western Leaders Seeking Solution

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst
Western leaders are making intensive efforts to be prepared to meet every issue when the time finally arrives for discussion with the Soviet Union of the future of Europe—for that will be the real meaning of discussion of Germany.

But they also have issues to settle among themselves. When President Eisenhower calls in the National Security Council, the head of the Central Intelligence Agency, the head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and congressional leaders, he is taking advantage of just about all the knowledge there is available in the United States.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, when he arrives later, will bring just about all the knowledge obtainable from the Soviets, the top leaders of France and Germany, and the vast resources of British diplomatic and intelligence services.

All this preparation is not being made merely in a search for a German solution.

Indeed, there is no great hope that a German solution will be found anytime soon. The chief hope is that a means can be found to persuade the Kremlin not to make the international situation any worse. And with the determination to avoid mistakes which could give the Communists any advantage in their campaign for eventual control of Europe through Germany.

A typical British method of handling any situation which they do not wish to meet head on is to talk and talk and talk. The United States, in the current situation, is taking a similar line. But it is coupled with an effort to make it absolutely clear to the Soviet leaders that they must not mistake a desire for peace for weakness or a complete renunciation of war.

The United States would like to make the threat of retaliation so strong that the Soviet Union will not risk war to gain her political ends. The British, faced with the strong possibility of annihilation in a general war, are afraid of brinkmanship.

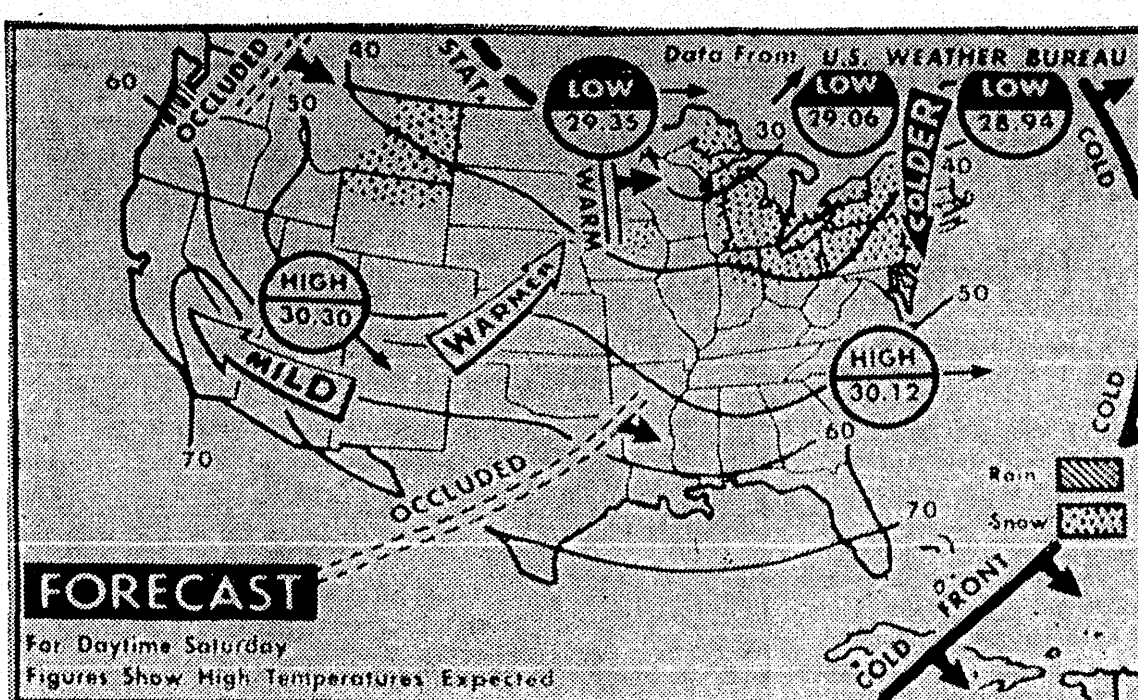

In that light, Macmillan would prefer to give in to the Khrushchev desire for a top-level conference.

Eisenhower is inclined to think of the inherent dangers in such a meeting. If the Macmillan-Khrushchev Moscow affair could bring the world to the fear of immediate war, just think of the results of a similar incident involving the President of the United States.

Cogent arguments can be made on both sides of that issue, and it is something the two heads of state thresh out even before taking specific methods of approach to the Soviet Union.

Two-Year Prison Term Is Imposed

A 38-year-old Negro with a reformatory and prison record dating back to 1940 received a two-year penitentiary term yesterday in Fourth District Court, for theft of auto parts worth $85.

Judge David I. Garrett sentenced Senolia Darnell to the term in the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola.

In other action, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bailey denied disturbing the peace and trial is set for April 17.

On reckless driving charges, Toney William Birl was fined $25 or 10 days in the Ouachita parish jail.

Henry L. McDowell Jr., was tried, found guilty and given the same sentence and charges against Wesley G. McDonald were passed over.

McDonald is also charged with driving without a license.

Speeding and failure to post bond cost Jim Jenkins $25 or 10 days on each charge. Jewell Alfred Wright denied the charges and trial is set for April 10.

Hubert Junior Lamb was fined $100 or 30 days for speeding and charges against James T. Drewett were continued until March 20 for trial.

Paul F. Pulps forfeited bond when he failed to appear for arraignment on charges of driving with an overwidth load.

On charges of driving without a chauffeur's license, James E. Johnson was fined $25 or 10 days for driving after it had expired and J. C. Lott forfeited bond when he failed to appear in court.

Paddy Smith denied charges of simple battery and trial is scheduled on April 17.

PLEA ENTERED

James Coates pled innocent to charges of issuing two worthless checks for $75 and $150 and trial date was not set.

Ten days from the date of arrest was the sentence drawn by Morton I. Green for vagrancy.

James Hope Futch was tried and found guilty of permitting operation of a vehicle with an improper muffler. Judge Garrett fined him $50 or 30 days.

Charges of driving with an improper muffler against Richard D. Norman were nolle prossed.

A five year suspended sentence to the state prison at Angola was meted out after Alvin James Darnell, 31, pleaded guilty to simple burglary. The man will be under supervised probation for the five-year period.

Also sentenced and placed on supervised probation was Juanita Heath, 26, who pleaded guilty to two counts of issuing worthless checks for $22.75 and $25.

Sentenced to serve one year in the state prison was Bobby Harold Wilson, 19, who pleaded guilty to theft of an automobile valued at $500. Judge Garrett told Wilson he was imposing a light sentence so that he could have "a chance to straighten up."

In other action, the presiding judge in Fourth District Court ordered a sanity hearing for Sam

Michatto, Jr. for March 13. Michatto is charged with murder in the death of his father several years ago. Since that time he has been held in Jackson, La., state hospital for the criminally insane.

Last year, however, Michatto was returned to Ouachita parish to stand trial for the homicide.

George W. Murray was remanded for sentencing until a later date after pleading guilty to one count of felony theft, one misdemeanor count and three charges of defrauding an innkeeper. The judge called for a fingerprint record prior to imposing the sentence.

Noris Fortesque was given a 90-day jail sentence on each of two counts of theft, both of which are to run concurrently. However, he was remanded until next Friday on two counts of felony theft.

The jail sentence on the misdemeanor counts were to run from the date of incarceration, which began last November.

A not guilty plea was entered by Clarence Blockson, Negro, who is charged with simple burglary of Dr. Cumming's farm home in January. The trial will be held on May 7.

Nine persons were fined after they pleaded guilty or were convicted of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. In addition, another who pleaded guilty was remanded until May 11 for sentence.

Two of the men, Thomas K. Miller and William L. Whittington, were fined $400 and costs of court or 90 days in the parish jail in default of payment of the fines. In addition Whittington was fined $50 or 20 days for having an expired driver's license.

The heavier fine was imposed on Whittington because of the conviction on the two counts. Whittington pleaded not guilty to the drunk driving charge, but was convicted on testimony by the arresting officers.

Miller was given the fine as a second offender.

Fined $300 and costs of court, or 60 days in default were Henry E. Armstrong, Jessie L. James, Will W. Cheeks, Curtis J. Rush, Allen J. Crowell, Joe D. Vines, and A. E. Tullos. All pleaded guilty to the offense as a first offender.

Jessie C. Sepulveda pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, hit and run driving, negligent injury and one count handled in juvenile court. He was remanded until May 11 for sentencing.

Robert Oliver Thompson, Richmond L. Woods, Edward M. Wilson, Vivian C. Bradley, Charles C. Hebing and Charles K. Kennedy pleaded not guilty to the drunk driving charge and will be tried at later dates.

addition to pointing out tourists facilities.

Area officials will go on television to kickoff the program, it was decided at the meeting.

Pratt said maps, which would be financed by local merchants, could be mailed nationally in a move to focus wide-spread attention on Northeast Louisiana.

He pointed to the many lakes as a good inducement for tourists trade.

Bastrop Mayor A. P. (Fats) Carter sponsored the resolution to restore policemen's pay. Because of a lack of funds, the Legislature chopped $1,100,000 in state appropriations last summer for policemen.

At the request of the Lake Providence Jaycees, the association adopted a resolution throwing its support to the Miss Louisiana beauty show.

Lake Providence City Attorney Frank Voelker Jr. introduced the resolution asking Congress to kill the excise tax. He said Southern Bell requested him to introduce the motion.

The brief, harmonious meeting was held at White's Restaurant and Motel with a luncheon following. Several Lake Providence businessmen attended, including Rep. Vail M. Delony.

Municipalities represented were Monroe, Gilbert, Sicily Island, Delhi, Rayville, Oak Grove, Columbia, Bastrop, Tallulah, St. Joseph, and Lake Providence.

Special guests included the Lake Charles mayor and Alexandria Mayor George Bowden, who is president of the state association. Also present was Claude Morgan, association executive secretary.

Lake Providence Mayor W. B. Cone and the Lake Providence Board of Aldermen served as hosts of the meeting. Commissioner H. W. McSherry represented the City of Monroe.

Supreme Court Slows Industry Expansion Plans

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's industrialization program would be speeded up considerably if the state could find means of curbing the powers of the U. S. Supreme Court and avoiding turmoil in school integration, the Mississippi Economic Council said Thursday.

Delegates to the MEC area conference Thursday listed the two proposals as main aids in boosting the state's industrialization program during the next 10 years.

No recommendations were made on how to accomplish either suggestion.

ON NEPOTISM FRONT

Two Congressmen Hike Pay Of Wives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wives of two freshmen members have received pay boosts of more than $1,300 each from their bosses' husbands after less than three months on the job, it was disclosed Friday.

Rep. Denver D. Hargis (Kan.) boosted the pay of his wife, Charlee, to an annual rate of $11,382 on Feb. 1. When she first went on his payroll in January she was slated for $10,041 a year.

Rep. Ralph J. Rivers (D-Alaska) gave his wife, Martha, a pay hike March 1, boosting her salary to $6,496. She signed on in January at $5,178.

On another front in the nepotism furor, Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) wrote his constituents that he may run for reelection next year after all because of "attacks" on his employment of his son.

And Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R-Wis.) announced he hasn't yet found a taker for his offer to give his wife's office job to anyone who can prove to be half as qualified and efficient.

Hargis' decision to raise his wife's pay was made prior to publication of House payroll lists for January and the resulting flurry over the age-old congressional practice of hiring relatives.

His office said Mrs. Hargis got a pay hike along with all other members of the staff when a temporary employee left the office. Hargis spread the pay allowance for the departed employee among the whole staff.

Rivers said he gave his wife an increase to bring her salary into line with that of two other secretaries.

Mrs. Hargis used to be her husband's secretary when he practiced law at Coffeyville, Kan. Rivers wife also served as her husband's secretary when he practiced law in Fairbanks, Alaska. She is former president of the Legal Secretaries of Alaska.

Martin was said to have decided earlier not to seek reelection. He wrote constituents that he now has postponed a final decision. In apparent anger, he said the flurry over employment of his son for three years in his office was the cause of the postponement.

Members of the Senate, unlike members of the House, are not required to reveal names or pay of their staff.

Fulbright Predicts Decision Likely On Dulles Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Friday he had a "hunch" there would be a decision within two weeks on whether John Foster Dulles can resume full command of U.S. foreign policy.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he had no "real information" on the future of the cancer-stricken secretary. But he told a reporter he had a "hunch" about the timing of a decision.

If the hunch should prove correct, the current uncertainty over Dulles' future would be resolved before the March 19 visit of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

President Eisenhower drove out to Dulles' hospital suite late Friday for a half-hour visit which included a discussion of Eisenhower's 90-minute morning meeting with congressional leaders on the Berlin crisis.

Presumably, Eisenhower stayed some distance from Dulles, who has been radioactive in a diminishing degree since his treatment with radioactive gold earlier this week.

The State Department refused to speculate whether Dulles would play any major "personal role" in the talks on the Berlin crisis with Macmillan. A spokesman also said he knew of no decision on Dulles' future.

Doctors expected to resume massive radiation treatment of the 71-year old secretary's abdominal cancer shortly, possibly Saturday.

The conference is being headed by C. J. Hyde of Southeastern Louisiana College.

The theme for the conference is "The relation of the college to the High School."

Approximately 400 persons registered for the conference yesterday, a larger number than had been anticipated, officials said.

Master of ceremonies at last night's banquet was the vice-president of the Louisiana College Conference, William Beyer, of Northwestern State College at Natchitoches.

Greetings were extended by conference president, C. J. Hyde, of Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond; President George T. Walker of Northeast State College, and Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard.

Water Re-using Is Proposed To Conserve Supply

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Henry Maddox, director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, said Friday the state's industries should be provided means of re-using surface waters to help conserve the state's underground supply.

Most of the 66 major industries in Mississippi are using underground water, Maddox said, adding: "This cannot go on forever. But the use of and re-use of surface waters, controlled from pollution, would meet Mississippi's demands for a long, long time."

Maddox addressed the Mississippi Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn. meeting.

Other speakers included Dr. Ralph Fuhrman, associated executive director, who urged replacement of individual septic tanks with community sewage wherever possible.

A. J. Steffan, Chicago sanitation engineer, urged poultry producers to cut down on the amount of solids discharged through their sewage treatment plants to help boost their business.

That was the last he remembered. A school bus driver saw their car in a ditch, the minister doubled over in pain.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The wives of two freshmen members have received pay boosts of more than $1,300 each from their husbands after less than three months on the job, it was disclosed Friday.

Rep. Denver D. Hargis (Kan.) boosted the pay of his wife, Charlee, to an annual rate of $11,382 on Feb. 1. When she first went on his payroll in January she was slated for $10,041 a year.

Rep. Ralph J. Rivers (D-Alaska) gave his wife, Martha, a pay hike March 1, boosting her salary to $6,496. She signed on in January at $5,178.

On another front in the nepotism furor, Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) wrote his constituents that he may run for reelection next year after all because of "attacks" on his employment of his son.

And Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R-Wis.) announced he hasn't yet found a taker for his offer to give his wife's office job to anyone who can prove to be half as qualified and efficient.

Hargis' decision to raise his wife's pay was made prior to publication of House payroll lists for January and the resulting flurry over the age-old congressional practice of niring relatives.

His office said Mrs. Hargis got a pay hike along with all other members of the staff when a temporary employee left the office. Hargis spread the pay allowance for the departed employee among the whole staff.

Rivers said he gave his wife an increase to bring her salary into line with that of two other secretaries.

Mrs. Hargis used to be her husband's secretary when he practiced law at Coffeyville, Kan. Rivers wife also served as her husband's secretary when he practiced law in Fairbanks, Alaska. She is former president of the Legal Secretaries of Alaska.

Martin was said to have decided earlier not to seek reelection. He wrote constituents that he now has postponed a final decision. In apparent anger, he said the flurry over employment of his son for three years in his office was the cause of the postponement.

Members of the Senate, unlike members of the House, are not required to reveal names or pay of their staff.

scared and still not so scared that we fail to make use of our tradition, our common sense, and our intelligence", Dr. Sharp said.

The conference is being headed by C. J. Hyde of Southeastern Louisiana College.

Dr. Clint Hanna, director of admissions and special services for Northeast, is chairman of the local arrangements for the event.

The theme for the conference is "The relation of the college to the High School."

Today's program will open at 9 a. m. Election of officers is scheduled during the closing session this morning.

Approximately 400 persons registered for the conference yesterday, a larger number than had been anticipated, officials said.

Master of ceremonies at last night's banquet was the vice-president of the Louisiana College Conference, William Beyer, of Northwestern State College at Natchitoches.

Greetings were extended by conference president, C. J. Hyde, of Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond; President George T. Walker of Northeast State College, and Monroe Mayor W. L. Howard.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Friday he had a "hunch" there would be a decision within two weeks on whether John Foster Dulles can resume full command of U. S. foreign policy.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he had no "real information" on the future of the cancer-stricken secretary. But he told a reporter he had a "hunch" about the timing of a decision.

If the hunch should prove correct, the current uncertainty over Dulles' future role would be resolved before the March 19 visit of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

President Eisenhower drove out to Dulles' hospital suite late Friday for a half-hour visit which included a discussion of Eisenhower's 90-minute morning meeting with congressional leaders on the Berlin crisis.

Presumably, Eisenhower stayed some distance from Dulles, who has been radioactive in a diminishing degree since his treatment with radioactive gold earlier this week.

The State Department refused to speculate whether Dulles would play any major "personal role" in the talks on the Berlin crisis with Macmillan. A spokesman also said he knew of no decision on Dulles' future.

Doctors expected to resume massive radiation treatment of the 71-year old secretary's abdominal cancer shortly, possibly Saturday.

Water Re-using Is Proposed To Conserve Supply

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Henry Maddox, director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, said Friday the state's industries should be provided means of re-using surface waters to help conserve the state's underground supply.

Most of the 66 major industries in Mississippi are using underground water, Maddox said, adding: "This cannot go on forever. But the use of and re-use of surface waters, controlled from pollution, would meet Mississippi's demands for a long, long time."

Maddox addressed the Mississippi Sewage and Industrial Wastes Assn. meeting.

Other speakers included Dr. Ralph Fuhrman, associated executive director, who urged replacement of individual septic tanks with community sewage wherever possible.

A. J. Steffan, Chicago sanitation engineer, urged poultry producers to cut down on the amount of solids discharged through their sewage treatment plants to help boost their business.

Because of the wonderful reception from our good customers and the loyal, devoted service of our employees, we've enjoyed such phenomenal growth, that today we are the South's fastest growing mortgage company.

Our first office was opened in the Boles Building, Rayville, La., with two employees. Today we have 37 employees and in addition to our main office in Monroe we have branches in Lake Charles, Baton Rouge, and Shreveport, Louisiana, El Dorado and Helena, Arkansas. We are in the process of setting up offices in Alexandria and Lafayette, Louisiana and expect in the very near future to go into Pine Bluff and Hot Springs, Arkansas. Our firm is qualified to do business in Mississippi and we expect to begin operations soon in Biloxi, and shortly thereafter in Jackson. Our attorneys in Texas are in the process of qualifying us to operate in that state, with offices anticipated in Dallas and Beaumont.

Our loan servicing portfolio is approaching the $20 million mark in home loans in effect. Both Mr. Adcock and myself, who are co-founders of First Fidelity, are deeply grateful for the way that builders and realtors alike have accepted the service which we offer.

As we salute our customers and our trusted employees who have made our growth possible, we re-dedicate ourselves to even better service in the years ahead. Builders and realtors who have not yet availed themselves of our service are cordially invited to come in to see us.

EIGHT RECORD HOLDERS

McNeese, Tech, Northeast In Track Meet Today At 2

Eight Gulf States Conference record holders, a Pat Garrett-Dave Styron dash duel, Northeast Sugar Bowl mile relay champions and an expected wholesale assault on stadium records are the big attractions as Louisiana Tech, loop champion McNeese and host Northeast open the 1959 track and field season at 2 this afternoon at Brown Stadium.

Most of the record holders are Cowboys—Jim Allen, Don Troutman, Lynn Chisholm, Clayton Fontenot and Jack Frater. Northeast has the Styron twins, Don and Dave, and Jerry Ivy who, along with Don Reynolds, set the league mark of 42.0 in the 440-yard relay last year.

Troutman, considered one of the most promising broad jumpers in the country, holds the GSC record in that event with a leap of 23'4".

Allen is tied with two others for the pole vault mark with a 13' vault. Chisholm holds the mile record of 4:20.8. Fontenot is the 880 run champ with a 1:55.8 clocking and Frater is the top two-miler with a 9:51.1 record.

The Garrett-Styron duel in the 100 and 220 will probably be the top gate attraction. These two, Garrett of Tech and Styron of Northeast, raced here last year with Styron edging Garrett, son of Ruston High grid coach "Boss" Garrett, in both events, equaling the conference record of 9.7 in the century.

To add interest to the 220 will be the presence of Don Styron, competing against his brother in a meet for the first time in three years.

Northeast's mile relay team of Dave Styron, Jim Mouser, Dick Hays and Don Styron gave the school some of its best national publicity in years by winning in the Sugar Bowl meet in 3:19, eight seconds over the GSC record. In a warmup last week, the team ran the mile in the sizzling time of 3:16.7.

The Brown Stadium records, set last year in the park's first, and only meet, are expected to get a thorough going over.

Other events that should provide outstanding performances are the high and low hurdles, the mile and two mile runs, the 880 relay, the 440 relays and the 800 run.

Don Styron, who finished third in the Sugar Bowl, and Tech's Jim Sturdevant are expected to dominate the high and low hurdles and should stage a real duel.

McNeese's Chisholm and Tech's Don Martin, who finished 1-2 in the GSC meet last year, will duel again in the mile run. Fontenot, Chisholm and Tech's Lewis should be the top contenders in the 880.

All of McNeese's 880 relay champs are back but Tech will be favored in the event. North-east, with Roger Burner replacing Reynolds, is expected to duel with Tech's Pat Shows, Farless, Dayton Baker and Garrett in the 440 relay.

The two mile provides probably the best field of the meet—Frater, the record holder, team-mate Dave Liste, Tech's Don Martin and Bob Hayes, Jack Williams and Buddy McCullen of Northeast, all of whom bettered the record in cross country meets last fall.

Originally set for 6 o'clock, today's meet will begin at 2 p.m. Admission of a dollar for adults and 50 cents for students will be charged.

High school track teams identified by their coach will be admitted before 2 o'clock.

Denver Rapped After Taking Bid

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Salt Lake City sports editor called the Denver University basketball team quitters Friday for accepting a bid to the National Invitation Tournament while they still had a chance to win the Skyline Conference championship and a spot in the NCAA Tournament.

But Skyline Conference Athletic Commissioner E. R. Romney said he had checked up and Denver had accepted the NIT bid only provisionally, after all.

And the Denver coach said his players in Utah for two crucial games were "madder than the Devil" after reading Sports Editor John Moody's column.

NIT officials announced in New York Thursday that Denver, now trailing Utah in the Skyline Conference, had agreed to play in that tournament.

If Denver won against Brigham Young University Friday night at Provo and against Utah State at Logan Saturday night, it could win the conference title, provided both Colorado State and Wyoming beat Utah this weekend.

In his column in Friday's Salt Lake Tribune, Mooney wrote Denver's NIT acceptance was "one of the few times in sports when we have seen a school concede while there was a chance to salvage victory."

There is no place in sports for a quitter," Romney said he had a five-way telephone talk Friday morning with Athletic Directors E. E. Wieman of Denver, Glenn J. Jacoby of Wyoming, Edwin R. Kimball of BYU and James R. Jack of Utah.

Romney said: "We decided the team which wins the Mountain State (Skyline) Athletic Conference will represent the conference in the NCAA championships."

He said that "because of lack of time and term examinations at the institutions involved, there will be no playoff in case of a tie. The conference will decide the team to represent it in the NCAA playoffs. This will be done in accordance with the conference code."

Wurster Routs Jena, 129-66, At Jonesville

JONESVILLE, La. (Special)—Wurster Oil Co. put on a wild scoring spree to down Jena, 129-66, highlighting second night action in the annual Gold Medal independent tournament here last night.

In other action Northeast's Wildcats, Weber Ford Co. and White's Busters moved up in the tourney standings.

Buster Carlisle pumped 33 points through the cords to pace the Wurster rout. His teammates gave him plenty of help as Frank Mancil dunked 28, Chester Coaker dropped in 26, George Davis 18 and Bill Bates 17. Donald Joiner was high for Jena with 20 points.

The Wildcats, paced by a 17-point effort from Jim Cook and Dickie Crowe, thumped Jena earlier 86-28. Bill Davis put in 8 to top the losers.

White's Busters squeezed past Nebo, 50-46, as "Snake" Thompson and Carl Tullos collected 13 points apiece. High for Nebo was Jim Francis with 25 points.

Joey Powell netted 24 counters and Ivan Smith 23 as Weber Ford vaulted past Good Pine, 81-48. Ronald and Bill Manchester took scoring honors for Good Pine with 17 and 15 points, respectively.

In today's quarter-finals, White's Busters meet Northeast Wildcats at 9 a.m., Babin Motors take on Collin's Farmers at 10:30, Wurster Oil clashes with High Life Beverage at 12:00 and Weber Ford faces Grant's Lawmen at 1:30.

Semi-finals are set for 3 and 4:30, with consolation slated for 7:30 and finals at 9.

Eros, Crumbz, Grayson Win In Eros Meet

EROS, La. (Special)—Eros, the Tech Crumbz and Leroy Service Station of Grayson took victories in Friday's games in the Eros Independent Tournament here.

Eros whipped Olin Mathieson of Monroe, 66-62, as Crawford Vines scored 23 points. Lyle Dorsey got 19 for Olin.

Tec's beat Oak Grove, 58-53. J. W. Mercer scored 23 for the winners while Adams led Oak Grove with 16.

Legg paced Grayson over Ray's Amoco of Bastrop, 70-55, with 21 points. Johnston paced Ray's with 24.

College Friend of Monroe plays Tech Crumbz at 12 today, First Presbyterian of Shreveport meets Leroy's at 1:15 and the Eros Bearcats play Calhoun at 2:30.

The semi-finals are set for 3:45 and 5:00, the consolation game for 7:30 and the finals for 8:45.

Host Teams Advance At Sterlington

STERLINGTON, La. (Special)—Both A. L. Smith teams and the Woodlawn boys and Swartz girls advanced in the A. L. Smith elementary school league tournament with victories here Friday night.

The final round of play begins today at 5 p. m.

The host boys breezed to easy wins, dropping Logtown, 40-5, and stopping Swartz, 40-26. Corbin was high for the winners in both games with 19 and 13 points, respectively. Wheeler had 3 for Logtown and Freeman put in 13 for Swartz.

Griggs hooped 18 as Woodlawn dumped Logtown, 31-23. Fletcher loomed in 11 for the losers. Earlier in the day Swartz defeated Woodlawn, 28-14. Ramsey collected 19 for the winners and Griggs sank 8 for the losers.

In girls' action A. L. Smith beat Swartz, 27-19, and rolled over Logtown, 31-24. Williams led the winning attack in both games, netting 19 against Swartz and 16 against Logtown. Martin scored 11 for Swartz and Landrum 18 for Logtown.

Logtown, behind Carkett's 7 points, tripped Woodlawn, 20-7. Grant had 4 for the losers.

Martin tallied 15 counters, as Swartz routed Woodlawn, 27-7. Grant again topped the losers with 6 points.

REGAINS TOUCH

Bill Collins Forges Ahead By Stroke At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md., who almost quit golf's winter tour because of poor play, found the right touch Friday to fire a four-under-par 68 and take the first round lead of the $20,000 New Orleans Open.

The tall, 30-year-old ex-marine fired identical 34-stroke rounds

over the still damp and wind buffed 6,700-yard City Park Course. Collins was three strokes under regulation figures on the front nine and lopped a stroke off par on the final hole.

Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., the 1958 PGA champion, Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., Jim Turnesa, Elmdorf, N.Y., and Dick Knight of San Diego, Calif., each scored 69 to share the runner up spot.

Dapper Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who won the tournament in 1942, topped a 10-man contingent grouped at 70.

Collins, an easy-talking 230-pounder, said he planned to quit the tour after New Orleans because of his faulty playing, particularly his putting.

But his round Friday indicated no putting shortcomings. He needed only 30 putts on the somewhat slow greens and his iron and wood game cooperated with his putting touch. Collins missed only four greens with his second shot and he one-putted all four. He scored four birdies, one on the par-five, 485-yard 18th hole and didn't go over the course standard on any hole.

The weather was in sharp contrast to Thursday's downpour that forced postponement of the first round. Puddles dotted most of the fairways and many of the golfers, notably Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., complained of mud sticking to the ball. Venturi lost in a sudden death playoff to Billy Casper in last year's tournament.

Casper, the roly-poly irons master from Chula Vista, Calif., found the going tough and finished well back with a 76.

Tars, Wolfpack In ACC Finals

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Cool, confident and clever North Carolina gained an NCAA tournament berth Friday night by downing dangerous Duke 74-71. The victory also moved the Tar Heels into the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference Basketball Tourney.

The victory clinched for the Tar Heels an Eastern NCAA paring against Navy in the last game of a tripleheader Tuesday night at New York.

North Carolina State, 66-63 winner over Virginia in the first game, is ineligible for NCAA play because of probation. North Carolina thus goes into the NCAA meet regardless of the outcome of Saturday night's finals.

North Carolina, No. 5 team in the nation and second seeded after losing a draw to N.C. State when they tied for season honors in the conference, ran up a 39-28 first half lead.

But Duke, the third-seeded club, was down only one, 49-48 with 12:26 left in the second half. Reserve Ray Stanley flipped in seven points in the next two minutes for a seemingly safe Tar Heel lead, 56-48.

With North Carolina leading by nine and only four minutes left, Duke's John Frye staged a one-man campaign that yielded 14 of his 18 points and had the Tar Heels hustling to stay ahead.

Two dead spots hurt Duke's chances. The Blue Devils went the mid 10 minutes of the first half without a basket as they ended the half with a 26.5 shooting mark against 40 per cent for North Carolina.

After pulling up to a point away early in the last half Duke again couldn't hit, making only two baskets in eight minutes.

Lee Shaffer, an agile big man who works wonders under the basket, led North Carolina with 23 points and 11 rebounds. York Larese, the outside ace, added 19.

Carroll Youngkin led Duke with 21 as the Devils' top scorer, Howard Hurt, managed only seven. Hurt sat out nine minutes after drawing his fourth foul and North Carolina fourth Doug Moe kept him occupied most of the rest of the time.

Bob MacGillivray, whose three-point play saved N.C. State in the dying seconds of the regulation time in the first round overtime victory over South Carolina, again was the lifesaver for the Wolfpack against Virginia.

The 6-4 senior from Dorchester, Mass., emerged with the ball from a wild scramble under the board and laid in the basket that put State ahead 60-58 with 2:45 to go.

State, 10th ranked nationally, never lost that lead. Little Lou Pucillo added two foul goals and MacGillivray dropped in another pair for a 64-59 State lead with seconds left. These were enough points to insure State's 21st victory in 25 games.

Virginia, hitting well on outside shots, was impressive in moving to a 22-14 lead in the first 11 minutes. The Cavaliers led for 14 minutes before State surged to the front.

Husky Herb Busch, Virginia's 6-7, 240-pound center, languished on the bench for the last seven minutes of the half with three fouls. It was during his absence that State went ahead 38-35.

The score was tied seven times in the first 17 minutes of the last half before MacGillivray turned hero.

John Richter and George Step-anovich each had 16 points, MacGillivray 15 and Pucillo 11 for State. Richter grabbed 13 rebounds.

Paul Adkins was top man for Virginia with 19. Busch threw in 16 mostly on hook shots.

Myers, Moore Win Highland Park Pro-Am

Bastrop pro Johnny Myers teamed with four amateurs to take the top three places in yesterday's Canadian handicap pro-am tournament at Highland Park Country Club in West Monroe.

Myers and amateur I. Moore of Shreveport took first place with a 63. Myers and amateur Joe Coats of West Monroe were second with a 64.

Two teams tied for third, with 65s, Myers and A. C. Williams of West Monroe and Myers and Ken Bartlett of Monroe.

Debate Over Brown's Grid Policy Slated

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Brown University's athletic director and new football coach will engage in an open debate with a Brown instructor who has started a petition to abolish intercollegiate football from the campus.

The instructor, Wade C. Thompson, had claimed that football was "anti-intellectual" and of no benefit to a university.

Paul F. MacKesey, athletic director, and John McLaughry, former Amherst coach who was appointed head coach at Brown this year, will debate with Thompson on Tuesday evening at the school. Students and the general public have been invited.

Thompson said the reaction to his petition, printed in an advertisement in the school paper last week, exceeded his "wildest expectations."

"We really ought to get rid of this bourgeois game of football and get down to the real business of being a university," he said.

Thompson was quoted in the school's paper as saying that it was about as possible to abolish football as to abolish the Navy, although "both deserve scuttling."

Cage 'Coach Of Year' Tag Goes To Rupp

NEW YORK (UPI)—Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, now busy getting another squad of "fiddling" Wildcats ready to defend their NCAA basketball title, today was voted "Coach of the Year" for the 1958-59 season.

Rupp described the Wildcats who scored a surprise triumph in last year's NCAA tournament "just a bunch of fiddlers who turned into violinists." It was the same story this season. Johnny Cox was the only starter who returned from the championship team but Rupp directed his inexperienced squad to 23 victories in 25 games of a rugged schedule.

This accomplishment, latest in the string of coaching feats Rupp has recorded in 29 years at Kentucky, enabled him to win "Coach of the Year" honors easily in a nationwide poll of 268 sports writers and sportscasters.

Rupp received 65 votes, more than twice as many as his closest rival in the balloting, Frank McGuire of North Carolina. McGuire, who won the honor in 1957, received 30 votes.

Ed Hickey, former St. Louis coach who guided Marquette to an NCAA tournament berth this season in his first campaign as the school's new coach, was third with 28 votes. Pete Newell of California was close behind with 26.

Joe Eaves of Auburn was fifth with 25 and Babe McCarthy, who guided Mississippi State to its first Southeastern Conference title, was sixth with 18.

Crowd Record In Danger At Arcadia Track

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Anita's Derby Day attendance record may fall Saturday.

The lure would be the spectacle of a sensational filly, Silver Spoon, running against 11 colts in the $100,000 added fixture for 3-year-olds.

The record for Derby Day is 61,123, set a year ago.

Silver Spoon, the unbeaten sweetheart of the C. V. Whitney stable and the daughter of the famous Citation, is already in the middle of a dispute.

The experts can't decide whether she or the strong Neil S. McCarthy team of Finnegan and Ole Folks should be the betting favorite.

Recreation Basketball

The Speedsters downed the Bruins, 30-26, in the Junior "B" League championship last night. Coleman paced the victory with 13 while Cuddy got the same for the Bruins.

Brownville took the Church "B" crown by beating Victory, 38-33, in the playoff final. Hearn of Brownville scored 16 points, best in the game, and Bennett had 14 for Victory.

The Tomcats forced a deciding game Monday in the Peg Wee League playoffs by stopping West Monroe Baptist, 14-10. Monroe got 9 to lead the Cats and McCle more paced the Baptists with 7.

Lakers Edge Detroit, 99-98, On Foul Shot

DETROIT (AP)—Larry Foust sank two free throws in the last 31 seconds to bring the Minneapolis Lakers from behind for a 99-98 victory over the Detroit Pistons Friday night.

With the victory, the Lakers clinched second place in the Western Division.

The defeat was a bitter pill for the Pistons. They had rallied from 10 points behind in the final quarter to take the lead only 12 seconds before Foust's clinching foul tosses.

Ed Conlin tossed in a brace of free throws to give Detroit a short-lived 96-97 advantage that capped the Pistons' rally. It was the first Piston lead since early in the second quarter.

After Foust put in his two points, Detroit had two shots at the basket but missed both.

A crowd of 4,116 witnessed Detroit's last home appearance before the playoffs and saw the Pistons suffer through a cold first quarter that eventually cost them the game.

Detroit fell behind 27-19 after the first stanza because of woeful 21 per cent shooting from the floor.

They spurred in the second period when Rod Hundley pitched in 12 straight Minneapolis points and kept the Lakers in the game. Hundley's spree came over a seven-minute span and helped Minneapolis to a 54-48 halftime bulge.

Foust was top scorer with 23 points and Hundley had 16.

Rookie Elgin Baylor was restricted to 18 points.

Conlin and Walt Dukes topped Detroit's scoring with 17 points each.

McNeese, Tech, Northeast In Track Meet Today At 2

Eight Gulf States Conference record holders, a Pat Garrett-Dave Styron dash duel, Northeast's Sugar Bowl mile relay champions and an expected wholesale assault on stadium records are the big attractions as Louisiana Tech, loop champion McNeese and host Northeast open the 1959 track and field season at 2 this afternoon at Brown Stadium.

Most of the record holders are from the Gulf States Conference. Jim Allen, Don Troutman, Lynn Chisholm, Clayton Fontenot and Jack Frater, Northeast

ing and Frater is the top two-miler with a 9:51.1 record.

The Garrett - Styron duel in the 100 and 220 will probably be the top gate attraction. These two, Garrett of Tech and Styron of Northeast, raced here last year with Styron edging Garrett, son of Ruston High grid coach "Boss" Garrett, in both events, equaling the conference record of 9.7 in the century.

To add interest to the 220 will be the presence of Don Styron, competing against his brother in a meet for the first time in three years.

Northeast's mile relay team of Dave Styron, Jim Mouser, Dick Hays and Don Styron gave the school some of its best national publicity in years by winning in the Sugar Bowl meet in 3:19, eight seconds over the GSC record. In a warmup last week, the team ran the mile in the sizzling time of 3:16.7.

The Brown Stadium records, set last year in the park's first and only meet, are expected to get a thorough going over.

Other events that should provide outstanding performances are the high and low hurdles, the mile and two mile runs, the 880 relay, the 440 relays and the 880 run.

Don Styron, who finished third in the Sugar Bowl, and Tech's Jim Sturdevant are expected to dominate the high and low hurdles and should stage a real duel.

McNeese's Chisholm and Tech's Don Martin, who finished 1-2 in the GSC meet last year, will duel again in the mile run. Fontenot, Chisholm and Tech's Lewis should be the top contenders in the 880.

All of McNeese's 880 relay champs are back but Tech will be favored in the event. Northeast, with fresh Roger Beumer replacing Reynolds, is expected to duel with Tech's Pat Shows, Farless, Dayton Baker and Garrett in the 440 relay.

The two mile provides probably the best field of the meet - Frater, the record holder, team-mate Dave Liste, Tech's Don Martin and Bob Hayes, Jack Williams and Buddy McCullen of Northeast, all of whom bettered the record in cross country meets last fall.

Originally set for 6 o'clock, today's meet will begin at 2 p.m. Admission of a dollar for adults and 50 cents for students will be charged.

High school track teams identified by their coach will be admitted free.

Hartzog urges all meets officials and helpers to be present at the stadium before 2 o'clock.

INDIAN JUMPER—Northeast's Jerry Ivy and team-mate Dave Styron are expected to give GSC record holder Don Troutman a McNeese stiff competition in the broad jump in today's triangular track meet here. ## Denver Rapped After Taking Bid

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Salt Lake City sports editor called the Denver University basketball team quitters Friday for accepting a bid to the National Invitation Tournament while they still had a chance to win the Skyline Conference championship and a spot in the NCAA Tournament.

But Skyline Conference Athletic Commissioner E. R. Romney said he had checked up and Denver had accepted the NIT bid only provisionally, after all.

And the Denver coach said his players in Utah for two crucial games were "madder than the Devil" after reading Sports Editor John Moody's column.

NIT officials announced in New York Thursday that Denver, now trailing Utah in the Skyline Conference, had agreed to play in that tournament.

If Denver won against Brigham Young University Friday night at Provo and against Utah State at Logan Saturday night, it could win the conference title, provided both Colorado State and Wyoming beat Utah this weekend.

In his column in Friday's Salt Lake Tribune, Moody wrote Denver's NIT acceptance was "one of the few times in sports when we have seen a school concede while there was a chance to salvage victory."

Romney said he had a five-day telephone talk Friday morning with Athletic Directors E. E. Wieman of Denver, Glenn J. Jacoby of Wyoming, Edwin R. Kimball of BYU and James R. Jack of Utah.

Romney said: "We decided the team which wins the Mountain State (Skyline) Athletic Conference will represent the conference in the NCAA championships."

He said that "because of lack of time and term examinations at the institutions involved, there will be no playoff in case of a tie. The conference will decide the team to represent it in the NCAA playoffs. This will be done in accordance with the conference code."

The Wildcats, paced by a 17-point effort from Jim Cook and Dickie Crowe, thumped Jena earlier 86-28. Bill Davis put in 8 to top the losers.

White's Busters squeezed past Nebo, 50-46, as "Snake" Thompson and Carl Tullos collected 13 points apiece. High for Nebo was Jim Francis with 23 points.

Joe Powell netted 24 counters and Ivan Smith 23 as Weber Ford vaulted past Good Pine, 81-48. Ronald and Bill Manchester took scoring honors for Good Pine with 17 and 15 points, respectively.

In today's quarter-finals, White's Busters meet Northeast Wildcats at 9 a.m., Babin Motors take on Collin's Farmers at 10:30, Wurster Oil clashes with High Life Beverage at 12:00 and Weber Ford faces Grant's Lawmen at 1:30.

Semi-finals are set for 3 and 4:30, with consolation slated for 7:30 and finals at 9.

Host Teams Advance At Sterlington

STERLINGTON, La. (Special)—Both A. L. Smith teams and the Woodlawn boys and Swartz girls advanced in the A. L. Smith elementary school league tournament with victories here Friday night.

The final round of play begins today at 5 p. m.

The host boys breezed to easy wins, dropping Logtown, 40-5, and stopping Swartz, 40-26. Corbin was high for the winners in both games with 19 and 13 points, respectively. Wheeler had 3 for Logtown and Freeman put in 13 for Swartz.

Griggs hooped 18 as Woodlawn dumped Logtown, 31-23. Fletcher loomed in 11 for the losers. Earlier in the day Swartz defeated Woodlawn, 28-14. Ramsey collected 19 for the winners and Griggs sank 8 for the losers.

In girls' action A. L. Smith beat Swartz, 27-19, and rolled over Logtown, 31-24. Williams led the winning attack in both games, netting 19 against Swartz and 16 against Logtown. Martin scored 11 for Swartz and Landrum 18 for Logtown.

REGAINS TOUCH

Bill Collins Forges Ahead By Stroke At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md., who almost quit golf's winter tour because of poor play, found the right touch Friday to fire a four-under-par 68 and take the first round lead of the $20,000 New Orleans Open.

The tall, 30-year-old ex-marine, fired identical 34-stroke rounds

over the still damp and wind buffed 6,700-yard City Park Course. Collins was three strokes under regulation figures on the front nine and lopped a stroke off par on the final hole.

Dapper Lloyd Mangrum of Apple Valley, Calif., who won the tournament in 1942, topped a 10-man contingent grouped at 70.

Collins, an easy-talking 230-pounder, said he planned to quit the tour after New Orleans because of his faulty playing. Particularly his putting.

But his round Friday indicated no putting shortcomings. He needed only 30 putts on the somewhat slow greens and his iron and wood game cooperated with his putting touch. Collins missed only four greens with his second shot and he one-putted all four. He scored four birdies, one on the par-five, 485-yard 18th hole and didn't go over the course standard on any hole.

The weather was in sharp contrast to Thursday's downpour that forced postponement of the first round. Puddles dotted most of the fairways and many of the golfers, notably Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., complained of mud sticking to the ball. Venturi lost in a sudden death playoff to Billy Casper in last year's tournament.

Casper, the roly-poly iron master from Chula Vista, Calif., found the going tough and finished well back with a 76.

Johnny Cox was the only starter who returned from the championship team but Rupp directed his inexperienced squad to 23 victories in 25 games of a rugged schedule.

This accomplishment, latest in the string of coaching feats Rupp has recorded in 29 years at Kentucky, enabled him to win "Coach of the Year" honors easily in a nationwide poll of 268 sports writers and sportscasters.

Rupp received 65 votes, more than twice as many as his closest rival in the balloting, Frank McGuire of North Carolina. McGuire, who won the honor in 1957, received 30 votes.

Ed Hickey, former St. Louis coach who guided Marquette to an NCAA tournament berth this season in his first campaign as the school's new coach, was third with 28 votes. Pete Newell of California was close behind with 26.

Joe Eaves of Auburn was fifth with 25 and Babe McCarthy, who guided Mississippi State to its first Southeastern Conference title, was sixth with 18.

Crowd Record In Danger At Arcadia Track

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Santa Anita's Derby Day attendance record may fall Saturday.

The lure would be the spectacle of a sensational filly, Silver Spoon, running against 11 colts in the $100,000 added fixture for 3-year-olds.

The record for Derby Day is 61,123, set a year ago.

Silver Spoon, the unbeaten sweetheart of the C. V. Whitney stable and the daughter of the famous Citation, is already in the middle of a dispute.

The experts can't decide whether she or the strong Neil S. McCarthy team of Finnegan and Ole Folks should be the betting favorite.

Recreation Basketball

The Speedsters downed the Bruins, 30-26, to win the Junior "B" League championship last night. Coleman paced the victory with 13 while Cuddy got the same for the Bruins.

Brownville took the Church "B" crown by beating Victory, 33-33, in the playoff final. Hearn of Brownville scored 16 points, best in the game, and Bennett had 14 for Victory.

The Tomcats forced a deciding game Monday in the Pee Wee League playoffs by stopping West Monroe Baptist, 14-10. Monroe got 9 to lead the Cats and McMe more paced the Baptists with 7.

Lakers Edge Detroit, 99-98, On Foul Shot

DETROIT (AP)—Larry Foust sank two free throws in the last 31 seconds to bring the Minneapolis Lakers from behind for a 99-98 victory over the Detroit Pistons Friday night.

With the victory, the Lakers clinched second place in the Western Division.

The defeat was a bitter pill for the Pistons. They had rallied from 10 points behind in the final quarter to take the lead only 12 seconds before Foust's clinching foul shot.

Ed Conlin tossed in a brace of free throws to give Detroit a short lived 96-97 advantage that capped the Pistons' rally. It was the first Piston lead since early in the second quarter.

After Foust put in his two points, Detroit had two shots at the basket but missed both.

A crowd of 4,116 witnessed Detroit's last home appearance before the playoffs and saw the Pistons suffer through a cold first quarter that eventually cost them the game.

Detroit fell behind 27-19 after the first stanza because of woeful 21 per cent shooting from the floor.

They spurred in the second period when Rod Hundley pitched in 12 straight Minneapolis points and kept the Lakers in the game. Hundley's spree came over a seven-minute span and helped Minneapolis to a 54-48 halftime bulge.

Foust was top scorer with 23 points and Hundley had 16. Rookie Elgin Baylor was restricted to 18 points.

Strickland Making Good In Comeback

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—George Strickland, back after a year in retirement, undoubtedly would be the shortstop for the Cleveland Indians if the baseball season were opening Saturday.

The 33-year-old veteran has made the best showing of any of the five players battling for the job.

Strickland played two games at shortstop and one at second base in the intrasquad series. In Thursday's series windup he was at his usual position of shortstop and gave a flawless performance. He also slashed two doubles in five times at bat.

He is not expected to be a heavy hitter, but Manager Joe Gordon believes he will hit .250, which would put him among the American League's top infielders in the hitting department. Strickland is one of the best glove men in the league and there are few infielders with stronger or more accurate arms.

Baltimore's Bobby Avila Considering Retirement

MIAMI, Fla. (UP) — Lee MacPhail, general manager of Baltimore Orioles, reached Bobby Avila, his reluctant infielder, by telephone to Mexico City Friday and learned that Avila is seriously weighing a decision to retire from baseball, and go into the oil and machinery business with an American firm in Mexico.

If Avila goes on the voluntary retired list, Cleveland must either return pitcher Russ Heman and an estimated $20,000 to the Orioles, or else work out a substitute trade for the one made for the 32-year-old Mexican during the off season.

DODGERS READY
VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Walter Alton pronounced his Los Angeles Dodgers in excellent condition Friday on the eve of their Grapefruit League opener with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Despite occasional rain, the Dodgers have not lost a day of work since the opening of camp on Feb. 19. The only casualty is pitcher Ed Roebuck, who has a sore arm.

Don Drysdale, Sandy Koufax and Stan Williams each will pitch three innings against the Phils at Sarasota Saturday. Don Cardwell, Seth Morehead and rookie Al Schroll are the Phillies' pitchers. Sunday, the Dodgers will meet the Phillies at Clearwater.

WEATHER HURTS
BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves said Friday that unfavorable weather had hampered the National League champions in spring training "as much as it did a year ago."

"We're no worse off than we were last year," Haney said "but we're no better off, either. I had hoped to do twice as much work as we did last spring when we had all that rain and cold weather. As it turned out we did about the same amount."

Rain limited Friday's workout, the last before the start of the exhibition season, to running, throwing and pepper games.

ROOKIES START
ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Manager Cookie Lavagetto of the Washington Senators Friday indicated he will give his rookies every opportunity to make the team when the American League tallenders open the spring exhibition season here Saturday against the Detroit Tigers.

Lavagetto announced a lineup for the game which includes rookie outfielders Dan Dobbek and Bob Allison, as well as freshman infielder John Schaefer. Reno Bertola, who will be tried at short, and Norm Zaichin, veteran first-baseman, will be the only regulars in the lineup.

RAIN HALTS DRILL
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Rain halted the Kansas City Athletics workout at noon Friday and Manager Harry Craft took the opportunity to make out his lineup card for Saturday's Grapefruit League opener against the Baltimore Orioles here Saturday.

Craft announced the following batting order: Bill Tuttle, center field; Wayne Terwilliger, second base; Roger Maris, right field; Harry Simpson, first base; Hal Smith, third base; Harry Chitt, catcher; Bob Martyn, left field; Joe DeMaestri, shortstop; Ken Johnson, Rip Coleman and Ray Herbert, pitcher.

The A's skipper said that slugger Bob Cerv would be added to the lineup next week.

BUCS MEET BRAVES
FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI) — Benny Daniels, rookie Joe Gibbon and veteran Vern Law will do the pitching for the Pittsburgh Pirates when they open the exhibition schedule against the Milwaukee Braves here Saturday.

Rookies Winston Brown and Georges Maranda, backed by Juan Pizarro, will handle the mound work for the National League champions.

One of the 1958 Pirate regulars will start the game — Dick Stuart, Bill Mazeroski and Dick Groat in the infield, Bob Skinner in left and Hank Poiles behind the bat.

ONE ROOKIE
MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — Earl Averill will be the only rookie in the lineup of the Chicago Cubs when they open the spring exhibition season Saturday against the Boston Red Sox.

The son of the former Cleveland outfielder will be at third base. Bob Anderson, Taylor Phillips and Dave Hillman will do the pitching.

MILLER ON MOUND
PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Stu Miller, the National League's earned run champion, will be on the mound when the San Francisco Giants open their 29-game exhibition slate against Cleveland Saturday in Tucson.

Rookies Joe Shipley and Dom Zanni will follow Miller, each going three innings against the Tribe.

Manager Bill Rigney staged a long base running drill Friday to reduce the miscues committed last year by his fledgling stars.

TRIBE VS. GIANTS
TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — One of the oldest exhibition rivalries in baseball will be renewed here Saturday when the Cleveland Indians meet the San Francisco Giants.

The Indians hold a slight edge in the spring series that began in 1934, winning 169 games, the Giants 165. Six ended in ties.

Herb Score, Mike Garcia and Dick Brodowski will pitch the opener for the Tribe.

Minnie Mingo, the only absentee from the Cleveland camp, is expected to arrive Saturday from Havana. He is being fined $100 a day, effective last Monday, by General Manager Frank Lane for reporting late.

TWO NEWCOMERS
CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies will have two new infielders in their lineup Saturday when they open the exhibition season against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Sarasota.

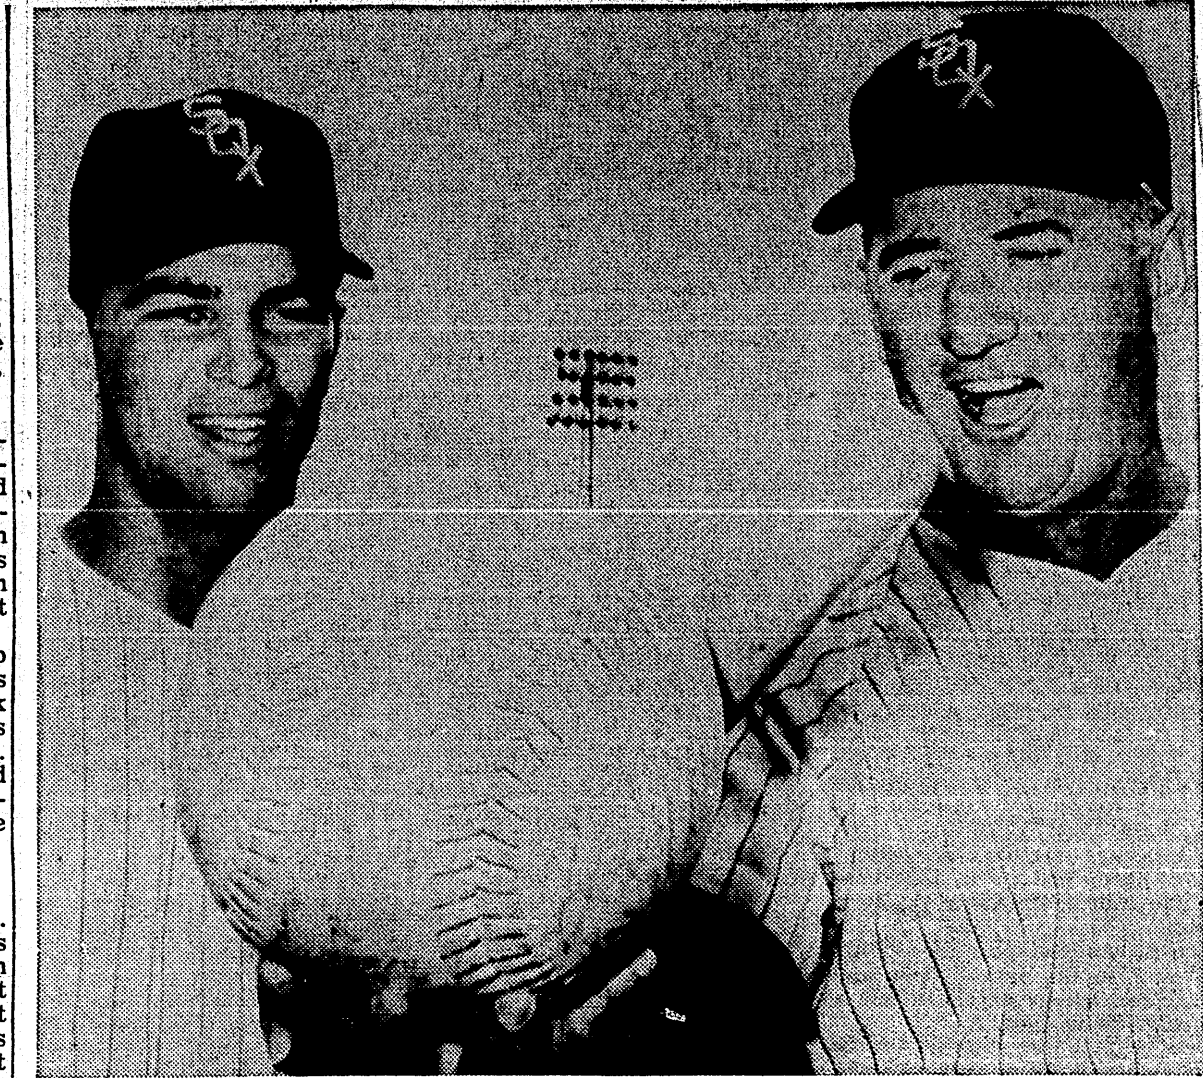

Gene Freese will be the third baseman, and George Anderson will be at second. Manager Eddie Sawyer said. Don Cardwell, Seth Morehead and Al Schroll already had been picked to do the hurling.

STAN WON'T PLAY
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Stan Musial, at 38 doing his conditioning by car, will skip the St. Louis Cardinals' earlier exhibition games, including Saturday's Grapefruit League opener with the Yankees.

"Solly (Hemus) is letting me set my own pace," said the seven-time National League batting champion and collector of 3,000 hits. "I've rarely missed an exhibition game over the years, but now I'd like to take more time to get ready, to minimize chances of pulling a leg muscle."

NEGRO TO PLAY
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Pumpie Green, the first Negro player ever to wear a Red Sox uniform, Saturday will open the Cactus League season at shortstop against the Chicago Cubs in nearby Mesa.

Green, up from Triple A Minneapolis, is out to take the job away from Don Buddin who played the position last season.

Exhibition Season Opens Today In Arizona, Florida

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league baseball exhibition season opens in Florida and Arizona Saturday with all 16 clubs facing problems they hope will be ironed out in the next month.

Even pennant-winning Managers Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves have their work cut out for them before the start of the regular season April 9.

Stengel's anxiety is directed toward left field where Norm Siebern turned in a good hit, no field job in 1958. The Braves are seeking an adequate replacement for second baseman Red Schoendienst stricken with tuberculosis and out for the season.

The Yankees kick off their exhibition schedule against the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Braves meet Pittsburgh at Ft. Myers, Fla. In other games booked for the Sunshine State, it's Cincinnati vs. the Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Philadelphia vs. Los Angeles at Sarasota, Baltimore vs. Kansas City at West Palm Beach and Detroit vs. Washington at Orlando.

Let's look at some of the problems facing the big league teams along with their strong and weak points (teams listed in order of 1958 finish):

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK — Pitching mediocre unless Whitey Ford and Don Larsen can stay healthy all year. They had sore arms last two seasons. Versatile Tony Kubek, in Army until late April, likely will not be of help for the first couple of months.

CHICAGO — Trouble at first base unless Sherm Lollar can make the switch from catcher and the John Romano or Earl Battey prove capable of taking Lollar's place. A lot depends on rookie Johnny Callison, the highly touted outfielder.

BOSTON — Acquisition of Vic Wertz from Cleveland makes batting order a powerful one. Pitching fair although Herb Moford, from Detroit, should help in relief.

CLEVELAND — Weak at first base unless outfielder Larry Doby can fill the bill. Shortstop also a problem. Addition of Billy Martin and Jim Piersall should help a lot. Good young pitching staff, especially if Herb Score can shake off injury jinx.

DETROIT — Requires better years from Al Kaline and pitcher Billy Hoelt to make strong run. Tightened left side of infield by acquiring Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges from Washington. Don Mossi and Ray Narleski, both from Cleveland, can give pitching a big boost.

BALTIMORE — Needs strong comeback by Connie Johnson, troubled by sore arm in 1958. New infielders, Bobby Avila and Billy Klaus, can help. Has crack young outfielder in Willie Tasby, up from Louisville.

KANSAS CITY — Veteran second baseman Wayne Terwilliger should steady infield. Pitching has quantity, not quality unless veterans Art Houtteman and Russ Meyer surprise. Slugger Zeke Bella may help in outfield.

WASHINGTON — Good front-line pitchers, Pedro Ramos, Camilo Pascual, and outstanding reliever, Dick Hyde. Big question whether Reno Bertola and Ron Sanford, exchanged for Yost and Bridges, will do as well as their predecessors.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
MILWAUKEE — In addition to getting Schoendienst replacement, Braves need better year from Ed Mathews (only .251 last season). Can be stronger if Bob Buhl's pitching arm comes around and injury-plagued outfielders Wes

Covington and Bill Bruton are able to go most of the way.

PITTSBURGH — Frank Thomas' big bat may be missed although club still has powerful offense. Manager Danny Murtagh must decide who's on first among Ted Kluszewski, Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson. Excellent pitching.

SAN FRANCISCO — Catching weak with only Bob Schmidt and Hobie Landrith. Can go places if Jack Sanford, obtained from Philadelphia, has same season he had two years ago (19 victories). Great outfield depth. Infield very sound if Andre Rodgers can make grade at shortstop.

CINCINNATI — Has lots of batting strength with pickup of Frank Thomas. Pitching potentially strong—depends on comeback by Don Newcombe and better year by Joe Nuxhall. Well-regarded southpaw prospect in Jim O'Toole.

CHICAGO — Young pitchers must come through. Needs some exceptional years from Ernie Banks, Lee Walls, Bobby Thomson and Walt Moryn. Earl Averill, from Cleveland, may help spell veteran Al Dark at third.

X-ST. LOUIS — Shortstop may be problem with only Alex Grammas and Billy Harrell. Strengthened pitching by acquiring Marv Grissom, Alex Kellner and Ernie Broglio. But Wilmer Mizell and Lindy McDaniel, both with poor 1958 pitching records, must improve. Stan Musial has to get used to outfield again.

LOS ANGELES — Skipper Walt Alton must straighten out second base, third and shortstop spots. Has Don Zimmer, Charley Neal, Jim Gilliam, Dick Gray, Bob Lillis and couple of others—but few played one position very long in 1958. Wally Moon, from St. Louis, and rookie Ron Farley should help outfield.

PHILADELPHIA — May have solved second base situation with George Anderson from Montreal. Little other change except for acquisition of pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas from San Francisco.

X-Tied for fifth.

12 Run Today In Louisiana Derby

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—C. B. Fischbach's improved Festival King had a seven-pound advantage in the weight, something he won't enjoy in the Derby. Should the 12 go, this 34th running of Louisiana's "Run for the Orchids" will gross $51,175 with the winner collecting about $38,000.

The race lost some of its allure when T. A. Grissom withdrew his Speedy Namon and Elkhart Stable failed to enter Open View. Namon won his two Fair Grounds starts while Open View was a strong runner-up to Troilus in last week's Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah.

Sputnik won three starts at the Fair Grounds and with a fast track and the comparatively light weight of 111 pounds, he figures to be a rugged customer in the mile and one eighth Derby.

Festival King trailed Sputnik in several races before he came through with his Derby Trial victory. Jockey Johnny Heckmann will be aboard Sputnik while Willie Carstens will pilot Festival King, also assigned 111 pounds.

The other probable starters include Festival King's running mate, Frosty Star (111), jockey R. Miguez; Mrs. Roger Wilson's Jackie Price (106) no rider; Preston Madden's Dhauagirl (111), Donald Brumfield; Master Palynch (111), Ray Broussard; Copalan Stable's Joe's Master (111), Jimmy Combest; Reverie Knoll Farm's Smoke Stream (111), Pete Anderson; M. L. Wilson's Jerry Everts (111), Clarence Meaux; Paxton Hartill's That Black One (111), Darrell Madden; Hayden Dupuy's Captain Advice (111), no rider; and the field's only filly, Briarwood (106), James Preston.

The Derby rings down the curtain on the Fair Grounds 85-day winter meeting.

The Northside loop calls for its player tryout at 9 a.m. Saturday. Tryouts for the Southside will begin at 2 p.m.

"All parents are requested to please encourage their boys to be present," declared John Turnage, an organization spokesman, who pointed out that the boys should appear only for the workouts for riders, and the field's only filly, Briarwood (106), James Preston.

NOT FINAL

Big 10 Approves Rose Bowl Pact

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — The Big Ten bid Friday to continue its agreement with West Coast colleges to send a team to the Rose Bowl every New Year's day.

Faculty representatives and athletic directors not only went on record in favor of a new contract for the bowl, but also authorized the Rose Bowl Committee to inaugurate negotiations with the West Coast to insure a new agreement.

Because of the stand of the Big Ten in favor of sending a team to the bowl every year, it was believed that the Tournament of Roses or the newly formed association of western universities, would extend an invitation virtually automatically.

The Big Ten has had a team in the bowl annually for the past 13 years, winning 12 and losing one game. But the old agreement, which the Big Ten had approved four times, expired last August when the Pacific Coast Conference the other party of the agreement, was dissolved.

The last game under the old contract will be next Jan. 1 when athletic directors of the old Pacific Coast conference will serve as trustees to sponsor the bowl game.

Friday's vote by the Big Ten was not final since under conference parliamentary procedures the faculty of each member school must vote on the bowl approval. A vote of rejection by any one faculty would force another conference ballot at the next meeting in May when approval then would be effective without further discussion.

There was no information from the conference as to Friday's exact vote, but it was believed to have been 7 to 3 in favor of a new contract. Though approvals of the past have been by the narrowest majorities, it was believed that the matter definitely would come up for a second vote in May and would be approved then, again by a slight majority.

The conference Friday also completed rewriting its recruiting rule, making two changes. One would permit institutions to pay transportation for one campus visit by a prospective athlete and the other added penalty clauses to the rule.

PEORIA NEWSCASTER

Subpoenaed After Gambling Charge

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A radio newscaster Friday was subpoenaed to appear before the Peoria County grand jury to explain his source for a broadcast in which he said between $20,000 and $30,000 per basketball game was being bet in the city.

Eugene Pratt, state's attorney, said George W. Barrett, news for radio station WIRL, would be questioned concerning a broadcast about Peoria basketball gambling.

In the newscast, Barrett, former managing editor of the Peoria Journal, now merged with the Peoria Star, said:

"WIRL today learned from an authoritative source that bigtime betting on basketball games, including games Bradley University plays, is going on in Peoria.

"As much as $20,000 to $30,000 is said to be bet on each game as the season draws to a close. . . . The odds are national and the same here (Peoria) as in Springfield and other Illinois cities where similar setups exist."

"Several taverns in the city are said to be pickup places for small bets. Larger bets, however, may be made by phone to a number which is generally known among 'ner bettors in the community.'"

In the same broadcast, Barrett said odds for games that Monday night had Bradley favored by 13½ points over Houston. Bradley won the game by 14 points, 74-60.

In the national basketball scandal of 1950-51, six Bradley players admitted they had rigged point spreads, but said they never threw any games.

Bradley is reported a 3 to 5 points favorite in Saturday's game with Missouri Valley Conference game with Oscar Robertson-led Cincinnati. The contest is the second meeting this season between the highly ranked teams. At Cincinnati, Bradley lost to the Bearcats 85-84 in a double overtime Jan. 5.

GRAMBLING MUST WAIT

Wilcox Assured Of Point Championship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Paul Wilcox of Davis & Elkins was assured the small college basketball scoring championship Friday but other leaders will have to await the outcome of post-season tournaments.

Wilcox ended his season with an insurmountable lead of 33.6 points a game. NCAA statistics showed Wilcox five full points ahead of Carl Brune of Lowell Tech (Mass.), who has also completed his campaign.

Grambling (La.) has three titles hanging on its performances in the NAIA tournament. The Tigers, with a 27-0 record through March 4, lead in team offense with a 96.5 points-per-game average, head the list in team floor shooting at .512 and their Jim Duplainier is leading in individual field goal accuracy with a .640 mark.

Florida A&M, which began regional play in the NCAA small college tournament Friday night, has a 94.8 offensive record and could oust Grambling in this department. Yeshiva (N.Y.) can back into the floor shooting title if Grambling falls below the New Yorkers' .504 mark.

Duplainier, meanwhile, must remain hot or lose out to Ed Delk, McPherson (Kan.), with a .625 percentage or Bob Phillips of Black Hills State (S.D.), who finished with .602.

Wheaton, Ill. (.765) and Wabash College of Indiana (.747), the two top teams from the free throw line battled for the title Friday night as they clashed in the opening round of the Great Lakes regional of the NCAA small college tournament.

Bill Reece of Lenoir-Rhyne (N.C.) is the individual leader in free shooting at .904. He must continue to hit 9 out of 10 in tournament play to beat Joe D'Auria (.898) of Tusculum (Ala.).

Jim Davis of King's (Pa.). Finished play with a 22.6 lead in rebounds. Tom Cooke of Chapman (Calif.) can better his 21.8 average in extra-season play.

Humboldt State (Calif.) tops all teams in defense with an average yield of 50.4. Wittenberg (Ohio) is second with 51.6 and St. Austin (Tex.) third at 52.7. All are still active.

58 Gridders In Practice At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Spring practice is well under way at Ferriday High School as the Bulldogs completed their first week of workouts. So far there are 58 boys out for the spring drills.

Coach Matulich and his backfield boys ran through fundamental drills of ball handling, blocking, tackling, running plays, timing drills, pass defense drills, and running. The linemen under the watchful eye of Head Coach Watkins were going through some fundamental drills of blocking and tackling, pulling out of the line, two on one blocking, and running.

Regular quarterback Billy Clifton was out the first day, but has been unable to return because of a knee injury. Clifton hurt his knee last season and he aggravated the old injury the first day of practice.

With the absence of Clifton, the Bulldogs have only one other quarterback with any experience. The job of quarterbacking has fallen to Ray McCollum for the rest of the spring drills. It had been planned to use McCollum in the vacated fullback spot, due to the replacement of James Foote back in the line. McCollum ran the Ferriday "B" team last fall and showed up very well.

There will be a brother combination on the left side of the Ferriday line for spring practice and for this fall. At left tackle will be senior James Poole and at left guard will be freshman Jerry Poole.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Stu Miller, the National League's earned run champion, will be on the mound when the San Francisco Giants open their 29-game exhibition slate against Cleveland Saturday in Tucson.

Rookies Joe Shipley and Dom Zanni will follow Miller, each going three innings against the Tribe.

Manager Bill Rigney staged a long base running drill Friday to reduce the miscues committed last year by his fledgling stars.

TRIBE VS. GIANTS
TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — One of the oldest exhibition rivalries in baseball will be renewed here Saturday when the Cleveland Indians meet the San Francisco Giants.

The Indians hold a slight edge in the spring series that began in 1934, winning 169 games, the Giants 165. Six ended in ties.

Herb Score, Mike Garcia and Dick Brodowski will pitch the opener for the Tribe.

Minnie Minoso, the only absentee from the Cleveland camp, is expected to arrive Saturday from Havana. He is being fined $100 a day effective last Monday, by General Manager Frank Lane for reporting late.

TWO NEWCOMERS
CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies will have two new infielders in their lineup Saturday when they open the exhibition season against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Sarasota.

Gene Freese will be the third baseman, and George Anderson will be at second, Manager Eddie Sawyer said. Don Cardwell, Seth Morehead and Al Schroll already had been picked to do the hur-

STAN WON'T PLAY
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Stan Musial, at 38 doing his conditioning by ear, will skip the St. Louis Cardinals' earlier exhibition games, including Saturday's Grapefruit League opener with the Yankees.

"Solly (Hemus) is letting me set my own pace," said the seven-time National League batting champion and collector of 3,000 hits. "I've rarely missed an exhibition game over the years, but now I'd like to take more time to get ready, to minimize chances of pulling a leg muscle."

NEGRO TO PLAY
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (UPI) — Pumpsie Green, the first Negro player ever to wear a Red Sox uniform, Saturday will open the Cactus League season at shortstop against the Chicago Cubs in nearby Mesa.

Green, up from Triple A Minneapolis, is out to take the job away from Don Buddin who played the position last season.

Exhibition Season Opens Today In Arizona, Florida

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league baseball exhibition season opens in Florida and Arizona Saturday with all 16 clubs facing problems they hope will be ironed out in the next month.

Even pennant-winning Managers Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves have their work cut out for them before the start of the regular season April 9.

Stengel's anxiety is directed toward left field where Norm Siebern turned in a good hit, no field job in 1958. The Braves are seeking an adequate replacement for second baseman Red Schoendienst stricken with tuberculosis and out for the season.

The Yankees kick off their exhibition schedule against the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Braves meet Pittsburgh at Ft. Myers, Fla. In other games booked for the Sunshine State, it's Cincinnati vs. the Chicago White Sox at Tampa, Philadelphia vs. Los Angeles at Sarasota, Baltimore vs. Kansas City at West Palm Beach and Detroit vs. Washington at Orlando.

Let's look at some of the problems facing the big league teams along with their strong and weak points (teams listed in order of 1958 finish):

AMERICAN LEAGUE
NEW YORK — Pitching mediocre unless Whitey Ford and Don Larsen can stay healthy all year. They had sore arms last two seasons. Versatile Tony Kubek, in Army until late April, likely will not be of help for the first couple of months.

CHICAGO — Trouble at first base unless Sherm Lollar can make the switch from catcher and John Romano or Earl Battey prove capable of taking Lollar's place. A lot depends on rookie Johnny Callison, the highly touted outfielder.

BOSTON — Acquisition of Vic Wertz from Cleveland makes batting order a powerful one. Pitching fair although Herb Moford, from Detroit, should help in relief.

CLEVELAND — Weak at first base unless outfielder Larry Doby can fill the bill. Shortstop also a problem. Addition of Billy Martin and Jim Piersall should help a lot. Good young pitching staff, especially if Herb Score can shake off injury jinx.

DETROIT — Requires better years from Al Kaline and pitcher Billy Hoelt to make strong run. Tightened left side of infield by acquiring Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges from Washington. Don Mossi and Ray Narleski, both from Cleveland, can give pitching a big boost.

BALTIMORE — Needs strong comeback by Connie Johnson, troubled by sore arm in 1958. New infielders, Bobby Avila and Billy Klaus, can help. Has crack young outfielder in Willie Tasby, up from Louisville.

KANSAS CITY — Veteran second baseman Wayne Terwilliger should steady infield. Pitching has quantity, not quality unless veterans Art Houtteman and Russ Meyer surprise. Slugger Zeke Bella may help in outfield.

WASHINGTON — Good front-line pitchers, Pedro Ramos, Camilo Pascual, and outstanding reliever, Dick Hyde. Big question whether Reno Bertioia and Ron Sanford, exchanged for Yost and Bridges, will do as well as their predecessors.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
MILWAUKEE — In addition to getting Schoendienst replacement, Braves need better year from Ed Mathews (only .251 last season). Can be stronger if Bob Buhl's pitching arm comes around and injury-plagued outfielders Wes

Covington and Bill Bruton are able to go most of the way.

PITTSBURGH — Frank Thomas' big bat may be missed although club still has powerful offense. Manager Danny Murtaugh must decide who's on first among Ted Kluszewski, Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson. Excellent pitching.

SAN FRANCISCO — Catching weak with only Bob Schmidt and Hobie Landrith. Can go places if Jack Sanford, obtained from Philadelphia, has same season he had two years ago (19 victories). Great outfield depth. Infield very sound if Andre Rodgers can make grade at shortstop.

CINCINNATI — Has lots of batting strength with pickup of Frank Thomas. Pitching potentially strong—depends on comeback by Don Newcombe and better year by Joe Nuxhall. Well-regarded southpaw prospect in Jim O'Toole.

X-CHICAGO — Young pitchers must come through. Needs some exceptional years from Ernie Banks, Lee Walls, Bobby Thomson and Walt Moryn. Earl Averill, from Cleveland, may help spell veteran Al Dark at third.

X-ST. LOUIS — Shortstop may be problem with only Alex Grammas and Billy Harrell. Strengthened pitching by acquiring Marv Grissom, Alex Kellner and Ernie Broglio. But Wilmer Mizell and Lindy McDaniel, both with poor 1958 pitching records, must improve. Stan Musial has to get used to outfield again.

LOS ANGELES — Skipper Walt Alston must straighten out second base, third and shortstop spots. Has Don Zimmer, Charley Neal, Jim Gilliam, Dick Gray, Bob Lillis and couple of others—but few played one position very long in 1958. Wally Moon, from St. Louis, and rookie Ron Farley should help outfield.

PHILADELPHIA — May have solved second base situation with George Anderson from Montreal. Little other change except for acquisition of pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas from San Francisco.

X-Tried for fifth.

58 Gridders In Practice At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Spring practice is well under way at Ferriday High School as the Bulldogs completed their first week of workouts. So far there are 58 boys out for the spring drills.

Coach Matulich and his backfield boys ran through fundamental drills of ball handling, blocking, tackling, running plays, timing drills, pass defense drills, and running. The linemen under the watchful eye of Head Coach Watkins were going through some fundamental drills of blocking and tackling, pulling out of the line, two on one blocking, and running.

Regular quarterback Billy Clifton was out the first day, but has been unable to return because of a knee injury. Clifton hurt his knee last season and he aggravated the old injury the first day of practice.

With the absence of Clifton, the Bulldogs have only one other quarterback with any experience. The job of quarterbacking has fallen to Ray McCollum for the rest of the spring drills. It had been planned to use McCollum in the vacated fullback spot, due to the replacement of James Poole back in the line. McCollum ran the Ferriday "B" team last fall and showed up very well.

There will be a brother combination on the left side of the Ferriday line for spring practice and for this fall. At left tackle will be senior James Poole and at left guard will be freshman Jerry Poole.

The schedule of Solunar Periods as printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

TWO FAVORITES

12 Run Today In Louisiana Derby

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—C. B. Fischbach's improved Festival King and Greentree Stable's Sputnik have the favorites role to themselves in the $40,000-added Louisiana Derby Saturday at the Fair Grounds.

The names of 12 three-year-olds were dropped into the starters' box Friday, but the attention was focused on Festival King and Sputnik.

Festival King gathered supporters with a smashing victory in the Derby Trial last Monday while Sputnik ran third. But Festival King had a seven-pound advantage in the weight, something he won't enjoy in the Derby.

Should the 12 go, this 34th running of Louisiana's "Run for the Orchids" will gross $51,175 with the winner collecting about $38,000.

The race lost some of its allure when T. A. Grissom withdrew his Speedy Nason and Elkhart Stable failed to enter Open View. Nason won his two Fair Grounds starts while Open View was a strong runner-up to Trolius in last week's Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah.

Sputnik won three starts at the Fair Grounds and with a fast track and the comparatively light weight of 111 pounds, he figures to be a rugged customer in the mile and one eighth Derby.

Festival King trailed Sputnik in several races before he came through with his Derby Trial victory.

Jockey Johnny Heckmann will be aboard Sputnik while Willie Carstens will pilot Festival King, also assigned 111 pounds.

The other probable starters include Festival King's running mate, Frosty Star (111), jockey R. Miguez; Mrs. Roger Wilson's Jackie Price (106) no rider; Preston Madden's Dhaulagiri (111), Donald Brumfield; Master P. Lynch (111), Ray Broussard; Copalan Stable's Joe's Master (111), Jimmy Combest; Reverie Knoll Farm's Smoke Stream (111), Pete Anderson; M. L. Wilson's Jerry please encourage their boys to be present," declared John Turnage, an organization spokesman, who pointed out that the boys should appear only for the workouts for boys in their own section of the city. Adult leaders and team managers will be on hand to direct the workouts.

Spring Tryouts For Little Boys Scheduled Today

Little Boys Baseball of West Monroe swings into action this week with the beginning of spring tryouts for the eight — 10 — 12 — year-olds Saturday at Little Boys' Baseball Park on North Seventh street.

West Monroe is divided for two leagues with all boys south of Crosley street going into the Southside League's area; and the Northside League drawing its talent from boys living on the north of Crosley.

The Northside loop calls for its player tryout at 9 a.m. Saturday. Tryouts for the Southside will begin at 2 p.m.

"All parents are requested to please encourage their boys to be present," declared John Turnage, an organization spokesman, who pointed out that the boys should appear only for the workouts for boys in their own section of the city. Adult leaders and team managers will be on hand to direct the workouts.

PEORIA NEWSCASTER

Subpoenaed After Gambling Charge

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — A radio newscaster Friday was subpoenaed to appear before the Peoria County grand jury to explain his source for a broadcast in which he said between $20,000 and $30,000 per basketball game was being bet in the city.

Eugene Pratt, state's attorney, said George W. Barrett, news for radio station WIRL, would be questioned concerning a broadcast about Peoria basketball gambling.

In the newscast, Barrett, former managing editor of the Peoria Journal, now merged with the Peoria Star, said:

"WIRL today learned from an

authoritative source that bigtime betting on basketball games, including games Bradley University plays, is going on in Peoria.

"As much as $20,000 to $30,000 is said to be bet on each game as the season draws to a close. . . . The odds are national and the same here (Peoria) as in Springfield and other Illinois cities where similar setups exist."

"Several taverns in the city are said to be pickup places for small bets. Larger bets, however, may be made by phone to a number which is generally known among 'leg' bettors in the community."

In the same broadcast, Barrett said odds for games that Monday night had Bradley favored by 13½ points over Houston. Bradley won the game by 14 points, 74-60.

In the national basketball scandal of 1950-51, six Bradley players admitted they had rigged point spreads, but said they never threw any games.

Bradley is reported a 3 to 5 points favorite in Saturday's big Missouri Valley Conference game with Oscar Robertson-led Cincinnati. The contest is the second meeting this season between the highly ranked teams. At Cincinnati, Bradley lost to the Bearcats 85-84 in a double overtime Jan. 5.

Cards Retire Wayne Bock

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League Friday announced the retirement of Wayne Bock, 250-pound defensive tackle, who will devote full time to pro wrestling.

Bock was drafted in 1957 but, due to injury, played only four Card games in 1957 and none in 1958.

GRAMBLING MUST WAIT

Wilcox Assured Of Point Championship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Paul Wilcox of Davis & Elkins was assured the small college basketball scoring championship Friday but other leaders will have to await the outcome of post-season tournaments.

Wilcox ended his season with an insurmountable lead of 33.6 points a game. NCAA statistics showed Wilcox five full points ahead of Carl Brune of Lowell Tech (Mass.), who has also completed his campaign.

Grambling (La.) has three titles hanging on its performances in the NAIA tournament. The Tigers, with a 27-0 record through March 4, lead in team offense with a 96.5 points — per — game, average, head the list in team floor shooting at .512 and their Jim Duplantier is leading in individual field goal accuracy with a .640 mark.

Florida A&M, which began regional play in the NCAA small college tournament Friday night, has a 94.8 offensive record and could oust Grambling in this department. Yeshiva (N.Y.) is back into the floor shooting title if Grambling falls below the New Yorkers' .504 mark.

Duplantier, meanwhile, must remain hot or lose out to Ed Delk, McPherson (Kan.), with a .625 percentage or Bob Phillips of Black Hills State (S.D.), who finished with .602.

Wheaton, Ill. (.765) and Wabash College of Indiana (.747), the two top teams from the free throw line battled for the title Friday night as they clashed in the opening round of the Great Lakes regional of the NCAA small college tournament.

Bill Reece of Lenoir — Rhyne (N.C.) is the individual leader in foul shooting at .904. He must continue to hit 9 out of 10 in tournament play to beat Joe D'Auria (.898) of Tusculum (Ala.).

Jim Davis of King's (Pa.). Finished play with a 22.6 lead in rebounds. Tom Cooke of Chapman (Calif.) can better his 21.8 average in extra-season play.

Humboldt State (Calif.) tops all teams in defense with an average yield of 50.4. Wittenberg (Ohio) is second with 51.6 and S. F. Austin (Tex.) third at 52.7. All are still active.

Leach Beats Out Moreland For GSC Scoring Crown

LAKE CHARLES, La. — North-western's Jimmy Leach won the 1958-59 Gulf States conference basketball scoring championship, beating out Louisiana Tech's Jackie Moreland with a late-season outburst.

In his last three conference games, Leach broke loose for 31, 43 and 54 points, and wound up the 10-game conference season with a total of 272 points and a 27.2 average.

Moreland, Louisiana Tech's 6-foot-8 center, was second with 227 points and a 22.7 average. Two other players finished the season averaging 20 points or better:

SLT's Bill McMorris (22.3) and McNeese's Stan Kernan (20.3).

Of the high-scoring foursome, only Leach is a senior. Moreland proved to be the loop's top rebounder, picking the ball off the boards 166 times, for an average of 16.6 per game in conference play. Second was Northeast center Billy May, with a 12.8 average. Ron Klosterman was third at 9.5.

McMorris had the dubious distinction of committing more fouls than any other player — 45 in 10 games. He fouled out of action in seven of 10 GSC contests. The other two individual crowns went to Southeastern Louisiana College aces. Jess Shanks, Jon forward, won the field goal shooting crown, with 44 goals in 75 shots, a shooting mark of .587, tops among players with 75 or more shots.

Bryan Pietri, Southeastern freshman guard, was the leading free-throw performer, hitting 43 times in 51 tries for an .843 percentage.

Four players were listed among the leaders in all five departments: Stan Kernan and Don Troutman of McNeese, Larry Simon of SLI and Billy May of Northeast.

Here are the individual leaders, based on conference competition only:

WOMEN'S OPEN

Wright Sets Pace At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Wright played a water-logged Hyde Park golf course in 72 strokes Friday — two over par — and clung to first place in the Jacksonville Women's Open.

Halfway through the 72-hole event, the long-driving blonde from San Diego, Calif., has 144 and a one stroke lead over her friend and traveling companion, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C.

Miss Rawls added 73 to her first round 72.

The municipal course was soggy from rains that fell during the night. The weather was clear and sunny by the time the 28 contestants started play, but miniature lakes dotted the fairways and cut down the distance of drives and iron shots.

Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., the defending champion, shot the best round at 72. She birdied three holes on the front nine but offset them with a trio of bogeys.

With her opening 77, she had 149 and a tie for fifth place.

Marlene Hagg of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, who displaying with a bandaged right hand because of a minor burn, shared third place at 148.

Freckled Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., was tied with Miss Smith at 149.

Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla., had a disastrous 80 after shooting 71 in the first round and slipped well back in the field.

Miss Wright, seeking her third title in the $6,000 tourney, was far less accurate than in her first round subpar 70. She had a pair of three-putt greens and one penalty stroke.

"I didn't get the ball close to the hole," was her summation of the round.

The leaders:

Mickey Wright 70-74-144
Betsy Rawls 73-75-148
Marlene Hagg 73-75-148
Fay Crocker 73-75-148
Patty Berg 73-75-149
Marilyn Smith 77-72-149
Betty Bush 77-72-150
Bonnie Randolph 71-80-151
Jo Ann Prentice 76-75-151
Louise Suggs 76-76-151
Wendy Smith 76-76-151
Beverly Hanson 74-77-151
Jackie Pang 77-75-152
Paula Tesse 76-76-154
Betty Dodd 77-75-156
Joyce Ziske 79-78-157

Judge Artie Schwartz voted for Redl seen rounds to two with one even. Referee Al Berl had Jordan ahead, 6-4. The last vote announced was that of Judge Bill Recht. He had it exactly even, four rounds and four points for each with two rounds even. The AP card had Redl ahead 6-4.

Although he suffered a nasty gash under his left eye in the fourth round, the stringbean, 5-10, finished powerfully to gain the draw. A fine final round just got him under the wire. He got the nod on that frame from all three officials.

The referee gave the 23-year-old Brooklynite, four of the last five rounds. Judge Recht also awarded him four of the last five rounds and called the eighth even. In sharp contrast Judge Schwartz saw Redl taking four of the last five. The AP card scored three of the last five for Jordan and also gave him the first.

State Track Threatened By Clerks Union

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Jefferson Downs racetrack in Jefferson Parish, scheduled to open its first 45-night meeting Monday, was threatened Friday with picketing by union parimutuel employees.

Members of the Parimutuel Clerks Guild of Louisiana, Local 328, walked out of a meeting between track and union officials Thursday night. The dispute reportedly was over contract wage and job provisions.

Track officials said Friday Jefferson Downs will open in scheduled "with or without the union."

The guild and track management signed a contract March 3, but both sides admitted there have been subsequent issues on which no agreement has been reached.

George Husky, general manager of the track, said about 80 percent of the New Orleans Fair Grounds parimutuel workers are members of the guild and are attempting to obtain a high wage scale at Jefferson Downs with an eye toward boosting wages at the New Orleans track.

Tanforan Opens 55-Day Season

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Tanforan's 55-day race meeting opened Friday with attendance of 8,916 despite a strike of culinary workers and bartenders.

However, parimutuel betting on the eighth race was down sharply — indicating that perhaps a lot of the fans got hungry and departed.

Legal Snarls Still Confuse Chisox Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — More legal maneuvering developed Friday in the Chicago White Sox family feud, plus a charge Dorothy Comiskey Rigney accepted a "rotten deal" in the projected sale of her majority holdings to Bill Veck.

Veck has an option to buy, before March 31, 54 per cent of all Sox stock for $2,700,000.

In the wake of Thursday's Probate Court dismissal of Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey's effort to prevent his sister Dorothy from selling out to Veck came these developments:

1. Dorothy's attorneys asked immediate distribution of her stock from the estate of her mother, former Sox President Mrs. Grace Comiskey. The estate holds 1,041 of the 3,235 shares Dorothy would sell to Veck.

2. Comiskey's attorneys were given until March 11 to answer that motion, arguments on which will be heard March 16.

3. Comiskey's attorneys filed an appeal in Circuit Court of Probate Judge Robert Dunne's dismissal of Chuck's petition to halt the stock sale.

ACC Head Blasted In McGuire Note

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina basketball Coach Frank McGuire says he never intended a letter he wrote to UNC alumni criticizing Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner Jim Weaver to be made public.

McGuire wrote in his letter to 600 members of UNC's Educational Foundation that Weaver "acutally slandered Lee Shaffer and myself by issuing an official reprimand." He was commenting on Weaver's ruling on a free-for-all fight that marked a UNC-Wake Forest basketball game at Winston-Salem Feb. 12.

"I emphatically do not agree with his (Weaver's) judgment," McGuire wrote, "and I truly believe he is prejudiced, having been the athletic director at Wake Forest for a number of years."

Weaver declined to comment on McGuire's statements.

McGuire said, "The letter I wrote to the university's Educational Foundation was not intended for the press ... The thing should have been a dead issue long ago and it would have in many sections of the country. The idea here seems to be that controversy makes better news than basketball."

Betting Coup Or Hoax—It Took Effect

NEW YORK (AP)—Was it an attempt at a betting coup or just a vicious hoax?

There was mixed opinion Friday over the telephone call St. John's basketball star Alan Seiden's father had been seriously injured in an auto accident and had been taken to a hospital.

The call was made to the Madison Square Garden basketball department about 4 p.m. Seiden, who had just arrived, had some anxious moments before he finally reached his father's garage and learned that he had not been in an accident.

The father, Mickey, was a spectator at the Garden Thursday night as St. John's edged New York University, 57-55, on Tony Jackson's 25-foot jump shot just before the final buzzer.

Alan, who has averaged about 22 points a game, scored only 10 in his season's low. But he had a big hand in his team's victory.

Basketball experts figured the game should have been rated a tossup, or that maybe NYU should have been a slight favorite on its late season surge.

According to one source, St. John's was a betting favorite all the way. The point spread opened at three, went down to 1½ and closed with St. John's favored by 4½.

If any big money showed on NYU the points would have dropped. Those who are inclined to believe it was a hoax, point out the call was made too early to do any damage to the St. John's cause.

"Can you imagine anyone doing something as low as this," said Alan. "The only thing I can figure out is that it was some cheap hoodlum trying to upset me."

Coach Joe Lapchick of St. John's felt the call must have affected Seiden to some degree.

"Even if it only made him that much more anxious to win it had its effect," said Lapchick.

Arizin Passes Mark As Nats Fall To Philly

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Paul Arizin tallied 38 points, setting a personal record of 1,827 for a season, as the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Syracuse Nats 118-114 in a National Basketball Assn. game here Friday night.

Arizin's old record for one season was 1,817 in the 1956 season. The Warriors trailed 29-26 at the end of the first period, but they took the lead in the early minutes of the second period and were never again headed. The halftime score was 53-52.

Arizin had 18 field goals and two foul shots. Joe Graboski was runner-up in the Warriors' scoring column with 23 points. Woody Sauldsberry tallied 18.

High man for Syracuse was Togo Palazzi with 37 points. Dolph Schayes scored 20 for the losers. Syracuse nipped at Philadelphia's heels all the way and the third quarter ended at 87-84.

Monzant is reported to have been offered $11,500, an increase of $4,000 over last season's salary. "It's no longer a question of money and I'm not reporting to the Giants," said Monzant.

Leach Beats Out Moreland For GSC Scoring Crown

LAKE CHARLES, La. — North-western's Jimmy Leach won the 1958-59 Gulf States conference basketball scoring championship, beating out Louisiana Tech's Jackie Moreland with a late-season outburst.

In his last three conference games, Leach broke loose for 31, 43 and 54 points, and wound up the 10-game conference season with a total of 272 points and a 27.2 average.

Moreland, Louisiana Tech's 6-foot-8 center, was second with 227 points and a 22.7 average. Two other players finished the season averaging 20 points or better: SLI's Bill McMorris (22.3) and McNeese's Stan Kernan (20.3).

Of the high-scoring foursome, only Leach is a senior.

Moreland proved to be the loop's top rebounder, picking the ball off the boards 165 times, for an average of 16.5 per game in conference play. Second was Northeast center Billy May, with a 12.8 average. Ron Klosterman was third at 9.5.

McMorris had the dubious distinction of committing more fouls than any other player — 45 in 10 games. He fouled out of action in seven of 10 GSC contests. The other two individual crowns

Wright Sets Pace At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Wright played a water-logged Hyde Park golf course in 74 strokes Friday — two over men's par — and clung to first place in the Jacksonville Women's Open.

Halfway through the 72-hole event the long-driving blonde from San Diego, Calif., has 144 and a one stroke lead over her friend and traveling companion, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C.

Jordan Gains Draw Against Favored Redl

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Ed-Ed Jordan, subbing for injured Gaspar Ortega, came from behind Friday night and earned a 10-round draw with favored Stefan Redl of Passaic, N.J., in a television bout at Madison Square Garden.

Jordan, of Brooklyn, weighed 143½, Redl 146½.

When the verdict was announced, Redl's manager hollered "where's the commissioner. What kind of a decision is that?"

But apparently it was all right with the crowd of some 2,500 which paid about $5,000. They cheered the one vote in Jordan's favor.

Judge Artie Schwartz voted for Redl seen rounds to two with one even. Referee Al Berl had Jordan ahead, 6-4. The last vote announced was that of Judge Bill Recht. He had it exactly even, four rounds and four points for each with two rounds even. The AP card had Redl ahead 6-4.

Although he suffered a nasty gash under his left eye in the fourth round, the stringbean, 5-10 lb finished powerfully to gain the draw. A fine final round just got him under the wire. He got the nod on that frame from all three officials.

The referee gave the 23-year-old Brooklynite four of the last five rounds. Judge Recht also awarded him four of the last five rounds and called the eighth even. In sharp contrast Judge Schwartz saw Redl taking four of the last five. The AP card scored three of the last five for Jordan and also gave him the first.

State Track Threatened By Clerks Union

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jefferson Downs racetrack in Jefferson Parish, scheduled to open its first 45-night meeting Monday, was threatened Friday with picketing by union parimutuel employees.

Members of the Parimutuel Clerks Guild of Louisiana, Local 328, walked out of a meeting between track and union officials Thursday night. The dispute reportedly was over contract wage and job provisions.

Track officials said Friday Jefferson Downs will open in scheduled "with or without the union."

The guild and track management signed a contract March 3, but both sides admitted there have been subsequent issues on which no agreement has been reached.

George Husky, general manager of the track, said about 80 per cent of the New Orleans Fair Grounds parimutuel workers are members of the guild and are attempting to obtain a high wage scale at Jefferson Downs with an eye toward boosting wages at the New Orleans track.

Tanforan Opens 55-Day Season

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — Tanforan's 55-day race meeting opened Friday with attendance of 8,316 despite a strike of culinary workers and bartenders.

However, parimutuel betting on the eighth race was down sharply — indicating that perhaps a lot of the fans got hungry and departed.

the night. The weather was clear and sunny by the time the 28 contestants started play, but miniature lakes dotted the fairways and cut down the distance of drives and iron shots.

Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan. the defending champion, shot the best round at 72. She birdied three holes on the front nine but offset them with a trio of bogeys. With her opening 77, she had 149 and a tie for fifth place.

Marlene Hagge of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, who displaying with a bandaged right hand because of a minor burn, shared third place at 148.

Freckled Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., was tied with Miss Smith at 149.

Bonnie Randolph of Naples, Fla., had a disastrous 80 after shooting 71 in the first round and slipped well back in the field.

Miss Wright, seeking her third title in the $6,000 tournament, was far less accurate than in her first round subpar 70. She had a pair of three-putts greens and one penalty stroke.

"I didn't get the ball close to the hole," was her summation of the round.

Legal Snarls Still Confuse Chisox Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — More legal maneuvering developed Friday in the Chicago White Sox family feud, plus a charge Dorothy Comiskey Rigney accepted a "rotten deal" in the projected sale of her majority holdings to Bill Veeck.

Veeck has an option to buy, before March 31, 54 per cent of all Sox stock for $2,700,000.

In the wake of Thursday's Probate Court dismissal of Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey's effort to prevent his sister Dorothy from selling out to Veeck came these developments:

1. Dorothy's attorneys asked immediate distribution of her stock from the estate of her mother, former Sox President Mrs. Grace Comiskey. The estate holds 1,041 of the 3,235 shares Dorothy would sell to Veeck.
2. Comiskey's attorneys were given until March 11 to answer that motion, arguments on which will be heard March 16.
3. Comiskey's attorneys filed an appeal in Circuit Court of Probate Judge Robert Dunne's dismissal of Chuck's petition to halt the stock sale.
4. Robert E. Cantwell Jr., counsel for Comiskey, asserted in Probate Court, "Dorothy has gotten a rotten deal on the Veeck option if the truth were known. Chuck Comiskey is ready to give her $500,000 more than Veeck has offered, but Dorothy refused to sit down and take things over."

Oak Grove Girls Gain State Finals

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — Oak Grove made good at the foul line to defeat Farmerville, 59-47, here last night to gain the state class A girls' finals.

Oak Grove gained its victory margin at the foul line, hitting 29 of 39 charity tosses to 17 of 25 for Farmerville. Both clubs scored 15 field goals.

The winners opened by scoring 10 points before Farmerville could scratch and were never behind. Oak Grove, champions of district 2-A, had a 15-5 lead after one period, a 21-15 advantage at halftime and a 36-24 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Oak Grove will play Amite, 47-46 winner of Mt. Carmel, in the state finals next Tuesday night.

Three players, all guards, fouled out in the game. Oak Grove's Marion Mercer went out in the third and Sonja Hough had four fouls. Eula Nyegaard and Charlene Hudson of Farmerville collected five fouls and departed before the end while Sandra Allen had four.

Sonnye Howell and Barbara Richey led Oak Grove's scoring with 22 points each, while Nelda Manley contributing 15. Miss Richey made only three field goals but connected on 16 of 21 free throws. Peggy Wade led Farmerville, 1-A champion, with 24 points. Bonny Haye got 15 and Betty White 9.

Delany After 37th Straight Indoor Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — The Knights of Columbus track meet scheduled for Saturday will mark an important anniversary for Ron Delany.

The galloping Irishman, currently a postgraduate student at Villanova, won the K. of C. 1,000-yard race in 1955. Since then, he hasn't been beaten on boards.

He has run up a streak of 35 straight victories, 30 of them at a mile. He's had a few close ones, but he still hasn't met his master.

Istvan Rozsavolgyi will give it another try in the Frank A. Brennan mile in this year's K. of C. meet. Rozy, ace Hungarian distance runner, is one fellow Delany fears.

Rozy knows all the tricks of the trade, but it's becoming increasingly apparent that the best he can hope to do is force Delany to break his own world indoor record of 4:02.5 — and perhaps run the first 4-minute job ever indoors.

The other three starters will be Bobby Seaman, former UCLA star and a 4:01.4 performer outdoors; Peter Close of St. John's; and Barrie Almond, a Houston freshman from Australia.

Giant Pitcher Ramon Monzant Will Not Report

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) Ramon Monzant said Friday he's fed up with baseball and can't be tempted by pay boosts to rejoin the San Francisco Giants' pitching staff.

Monzant is reported to have been offered $11,500, an increase of $4,000 over last season's salary. "It's no longer a question of money and I'm not reporting to the Giants," said Monzant.

Supporting Card Set For Tuesday

A supporting card featuring unbeaten Ladell Pate of West Monroe was announced yesterday for Tuesday night's 12-round Louisiana welterweight championship bout between Clarence Cook and titleholder Johnny McKoin.

An amateur bout is slated to open the night's card at 8 o'clock and a Battle Royal will be staged just before the main event, according to promoter August Barngartner.

Tickets for the championship card are currently on sale at Fink's Men's Store in downtown Monroe and at the City C&A Club and a Boone's Barber Shop. There will be a special door for holders of advance tickets.

Pate, victorious in eight starts as a pro, will meet Dennis Boney of Bonita in the night's feature four-rounder. Boney is classed as a youngster who likes to mix it up. Both boys are lightweights.

Another Bonita boy, Cecil Sims, will meet Eddie Nations in a middleweight battle. Nations is a former member of the West Monroe Athletic Club's amateur stable and has appeared on several fight cards here as a simon-pure.

Willie Bull, back in action after returning from Chicago, will meet Sam Rivers in another four-rounder.

Promoter Baumgartner has announced that there will be three doors open at the Arena Tuesday night. The main ticket window will handle ringside, general admission and reserve seat tickets.

The door on the left side of the Arena will handle general admission only while middle entrance will be reserved for the holders of advance tickets.

Kerby, Bell Gain Finals In Florida

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio, and Judy Bell of Wichita, Kan., Friday reached the finals of the Florida East Coast Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Miss Bell, medalist in the qualifying round, turned back Mrs. Fran Emerson of Dayton, Ohio, 5 and 3.

Miss Kerby had to come from behind to defeat Mrs. Barbara Fittin of Hamilton, Ohio, 2 and 1 in the other semifinal match.

Mrs. Fittin Thursday upset Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore, Md., winner of last week's South Atlantic Tournament at Ormond Beach.

Miss Bell and Miss Kerby will play an 18-hole title round Saturday. The winner gets a leg on the Mrs. William R. Kenan Jr. trophy.

In her match with Mrs. Fittin, Miss Kerby lost three of the first five holes to par golf and was two down at the turn. She squared the match on the 13th.

On the 16th, Miss Kerby hit her tee shot to the green while Mrs. Fittin sent hers into a bunker. Miss Kerby went one up when she was down in 3 and Mrs. Fittin took a 4.

Both reached the green with their second shots at the 17th but Miss Kerby was down with a par 4 while Mrs. Fittin needed a 5. Miss Bell, 22-year-old college senior, had her match with Mrs. Emerson in hand all the way.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

There Are Specific Toys For Specific Ages

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The array of toys for infants and small children is so extensive that no one should have difficulty finding something to please them. But there are toys which are just right for their age and stage of development and those are the ones we don't want them to miss. Just at first the baby can only look, and so toys which flutter in front of him, or are tied to his crib so his aimless hand movement will set them to moving, seem about the best we can do. They should be colorful, as strong colors attract and hold his eyes. At about four months he'll hold out his hand and try to grasp his mother's eyeglasses, or the beads around her neck. Now he is able to hold a rattle in his hand and though he'll drop it he sometimes shakes it purposefully.

HARMLESS Whatever he has in his hand will go in his mouth so it should be harmless and washable. And it should be strong enough to resist biting and have no removable parts.

able, hairy or splintery parts to it. Toys made of plastic or rubber are strong and resistant to use to which baby will put them. By the time the baby is staggering around under his own power he'll love anything he can push ahead of him. Those long sticks with the bell attachment suit him perfectly and though you'll be freeing it from chair legs, if he has a long space in which to push, he'll be tireless in playing with it. Later he'll want to pull things, anything, a big chair, a big block, a wagon loaded with his toys, something that stimulates his muscles. As he goes puffing about, dragging these heavy loads, he reminds you of the ant staggering under objects twice his size.

ONE INSIDE ANOTHER Every child reaches a stage when putting one object inside another is a thrilling pastime. It doesn't make much difference whether it is a pile of patty pans, a drip coffee pot with three parts, or one of those nice, wooden toys

Also the following pieces were played on the Marimba: Le Secret, (Gautier), Jerry Lee Clark, and Hungarian Dance No. 5, (Brahms), Carole Clark.

The following members attended: Linda Atkinson, Mary Ann Caldwell, Carole Clark, Jerry Lee Clark, Judy Cobb, Linda Crow, Jan Gramling, Laura Griffith, Edwina Hopkins, Peggy Lanier, Cynthia Leigh, Lynn Masur, Nancy Talbot, Judy Swayze, and Sandra Marshall.

Mrs. F. V. Allison and Mrs. James G. Caldwell served as counselors. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all.

with spokes and circles and squares to be fitted into their accompanying slots. He'll like them all.

And when he reaches the age for blocks, let them be good and heavy ones of all shapes, sizes and weights. He'll want to build towers, houses, trains, roads and he'll learn a lot about weights and contours while he is doing it. From infancy to 18 months and beyond the child has a whole day full of leisure and it should be spent not only pleasurably but profitably — education wise. It will be if he has the right toys.

Supper Is Planned At Shady Grove

A large group was present for the February meeting of the Shady Grove Elementary School P. T. A. The program was planned to commemorate the founding of P. T. A., and to refresh in the minds of those present the objectives and goals of P. T. A.

Mrs. Jean Griggs was program chairman and presented an interesting program before the group. Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. William Hopkins gave the lives of the co-founders of P. T. A. Children of the third grades represented children of other countries in the world and told about P. T. A. in these countries.

During the business session, it was decided to hold a chicken-spaghetti supper at the school on March the 20th. Also, at this time a nominating committee for next year's officers was appointed.

Refreshments consisting of punch and a beautifully decorated Founders Day cake were served by the executive committee. Room count was won by Miss Lindsay's third grade.

Roll out scraps of leftover pie dough; sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and paprika; cut into long strips with pastry wheel. Bake in a hot oven and serve with tomato juice for a first course.

BIB . . . . Chalk white beads in a bib necklace give the desired bulky jewelry look to a basic shirt dress. Bib matching pin is worn on belt; bracelets add final note.

CHOKER. . . . Eight strands of graduated color in beads, crystals and pearls give a new dressy look to the classic shirtwaist dress. Bangle bracelets repeat color.

COLLAR PINS . . . . Pairs of pins in graduated sizes add just the right accent to new shirtwaist collar.

Shirt Dress Starts New Jewelry Mode

By DOROTHY ROE
Now that the shirtwaist dress is established as the top fashion hit for spring and summer, 1959, the question is — what kind of jewelry to wear with it?

Fashion changes have kept the jewelry designers in a dither for the last few seasons. They had just turned out millions of three-yard strands of beads to wear with the late and unlamented chemise when along came the Empire style, and everything had to be changed. Big, ornate brooches and dangling earrings were the prescription for this phase.

Now waistlines are back to normal and the shirt dress is tops, so jewelry does another about-face. As a matter of fact, designers are having a field day dreaming up new ways to change the look of the basic shirtwaist with switches of jewelry.

To dress up a simple shirt dress, nothing is more effective than a jeweled choker necklace of multiple strands, worn close about the throat, with bracelets to match.

Another effective choice is the bib necklace, made of half-a-dozen graduated strands of beads, pearls or fake jewels. The idea is to fill in the V of the open-collared neckline with an effective splash of coordinated color.

Plain bangle bracelets, worn several at a time in different harmonizing colors, dress up the bare arm look beneath a push-up cuff.

SHARON WORLEY'S seventh birthday was celebrated with a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Worley on Ludwig St. in West Monroe.

The old-fashioned way of roasting chicken or turkey is still a fine one: baste often with melted butter.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Dramatizing Sorrow, Maybe She Is Happy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm 21, in college, and pinned to a beautiful girl. I've considered marriage (in about three years) and she's willing to wait. The trouble is, she's so suspicious I can't make a move without her checking up to see if I'm where I'm supposed to be.

Her father cheated on her mother left and right and although they were never divorced, they fought constantly. She says she's going to make sure BEFORE marriage that her guy is a one-woman man.

It's very embarrassing to have her phone the fraternity house three times in one evening. Frequently, I find her parked out in her car when I leave the library. I've given her no reason to distrust me. Do you think she will outgrow this? I'm very troubled and need advice. — THE HUNTED

Dear Hunted: The girl's tempestuous home life and her own sense of inadequacy have twisted her thinking pretty thoroughly. Since you've given her no cause for concern and she insists on keeping the bloodhounds on the trail, suggest gently that her groundless fears are symptoms of a sick personality and that she should get professional help.

If she refuses to accept this notion, ease out of the romance or prepare for a life of misery. Unduly suspicious people sometimes develop vivid imaginations and become unable to distinguish fantasy from reality. After many years the pattern becomes set and the person becomes unteachable and unreachable.

Dear Ann Landers: Our only daughter married a no-good loafer. We never liked him and she knew it.

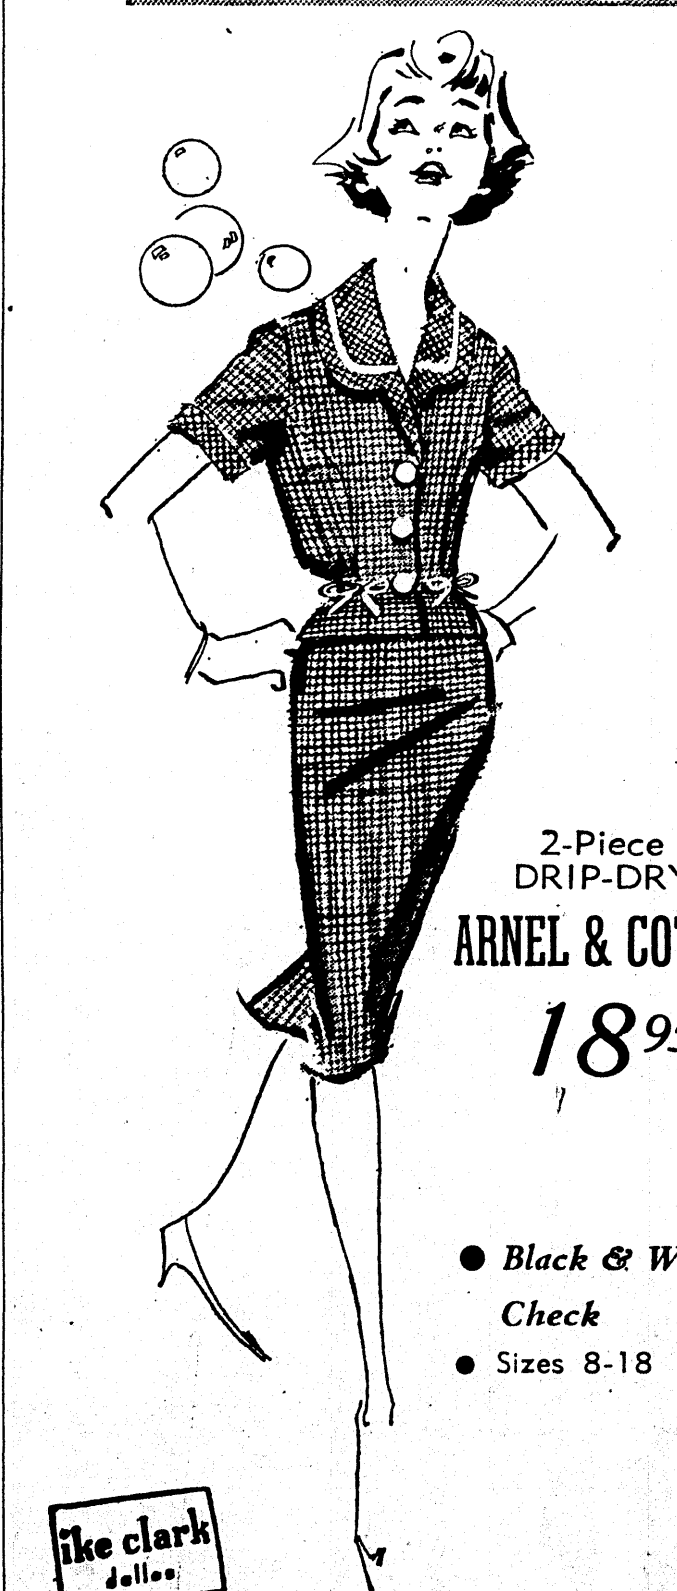

She opened a beauty shop in her home and works 14 hours a

Dramatizing Sorrow, Maybe She Is Happy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I'm 21, in college, and pinned to a beautiful girl, three children. It breaks our hearts to see this once-beautiful girl slaving away and doing the work of three people.

Never once does she utter a word of complaint. She tells us she is "happy", that he's a good father and husband but down on his luck temporarily. She won't let us help her financially although we know she can use it. We've told her our home is open to her and the children, but she refuses to discuss it.

How can we help her? We fear her health will break down if she keeps this up. — HEARTSICK PARENTS

Dear Heartsick Parents: If you honestly want to help her, stop dramatizing your sorrow and making offers to break up her home. The woman says she is happy, and maybe she is.

It could be that she's trying to make the best of a poor situation (and perhaps she's not as miserable as you think). The kindest thing you can do is to pretend not to notice her difficulties. Leave the girl a little dignity.

Always dry the inside of celery branches well when you plan to stuff them with a cheese mixture so the stuffing will adhere. Or instead of the cheese combination, mix peanut butter with a little mayonnaise and some hot sauce and use this mixture for the celery stuffing.

If she refuses to accept this notion, ease out of the romance or prepare for a life of misery. Unduly suspicious people sometimes develop vivid imaginations and become unable to distinguish fantasy from reality. After many years the pattern becomes set and the person becomes unteachable and unreachable.

THEY HAD A GLIMPSE OF PARADISE
By JOSEPHINE CRISLER
Arlington, Virginia

Many of us know some individual whose life has been revitalized by a brush with death. We know others whose concept of life eternal gives them an inner radiance. Call it what we will — a miracle, a vision, or a revelation — such experiences set up a chain reaction of inspiration to others.

I have had more than one such friend, and several of them were very young. There was a 19-year-old pilot, killed early in World War II. He had scribbled a poem on the back of an envelope and tucked it in his last letter home; it reached his family the day after news of his death.

There are those who will tell you that it ranks with Keats and Shelley. Perhaps you have read John Magee's "High Flight" which ends with that majestic line:

"I put out my hand and touched the face of God."

The young poet's mother told me: "I don't allow myself to think of the crash. I think instead of what he would want me to remember."

To Angola

Two Monroe Negroes were flown to the state penitentiary at Angola yesterday by deputies of Ouachita Parish Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Grant identified the pair as William Shoulders, 23, and Sammy Lee Gray, 24.

Shoulders is slated to serve two years for an attempted burglary charge and three years for burglary.

Gray was convicted on one count of burglary and three counts of forgery. He received six years on each charge. His sentences will run concurrently.

Chosen

West Monroe High School's Rebel Band is one of 25 chosen to participate in the Kentucky Derby Festival Parade April 30.

Band Chairman Roy E. Boesser said the selection of the West Monroe band marked the first time a Louisiana band has been chosen for the event. Bands from Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana also will perform.

Camp said the Rebel Band was chosen on past performances, adding that the band displayed "high stepping" cadences and new uniforms in such events as the State Fair at Shreveport, Bastrop's North Louisiana Cotton Carnival and the Stock Show at Delhi, copping first place.

Speaker

Dr. C. A. Roberts, anesthetist at St. Francis Hospital, spoke to the Northeast State Student Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association recently.

Dr. Roberts was presented by Dr. Cecil Headlee, instructor in the School of Pharmacy at Northeast and sponsor of A. P. H. A.

Recuperating

The author of the Morning World's "Jes' Ramblin'" column, H. H. Brinsmade, is recuperating from illness at his home after being hospitalized for several days. He expects to resume work on his column within a short time, he said yesterday.

Over 5,000 Riot In Brazil After Police Brutality

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—More than 5,000 persons rioted in the streets of the central Brazilian city of Goiania Friday and threatened to invade the state governor's palace. Troops dispersed them.

Dispatches from Goiania said no one was injured.

The riots stemmed from what demonstrators considered police brutality Thursday night in breaking up a band of students protesting increases in school tuition. Fifteen students were reported injured, some seriously, by club-wielding police.

Soviet Trawlers Ordered Freed By Philippines

MANILA (UPI)—Foreign Minister Felixberto Serrano Friday night ordered the Philippine navy to release five Russian fishing trawlers detained since they entered Philippine waters a week ago.

Serrano said a special Defense Department intelligence team had found the reasons offered by the Russians for intruding in northern Philippine waters to be "satisfactory." The fishermen claimed they anchored in Dirigui Bay last Friday because one trawler developed engine trouble on the high seas.

The Soviet fishing flotilla, which had refused to be escorted to the Poro Point Naval Base for interrogation, was expected to sail shortly for Vladivostok.

can completely eradicate the very natural wonder as to what passed through the mind of a loved one when death approached. For these, there is comfort in the words of an eminent doctor, who told me:

"I have practiced medicine for 40 years. I have seen sudden death, and I have watched lingering death. Few people show any fear at the moment of passing, some, indeed, seem transfigured. My young brother was like that. At 17, he lay dying of a long and incurable illness. I was sitting beside him, my hand on his pulse, waiting for the end. He seemed to weak ever to move again.

"Suddenly, he sat bolt upright, crying: 'Oh, isn't that beautiful? Isn't that the most glorious music you ever heard?'"

FACE RADIANT
"His face was radiant as he fell back in my arms, dead. I, who would have rejected the speculative proof of a theologian, could not reject the fact that my young brother, in the moment of his passing, had seen and heard something incredibly beautiful — something I could neither see nor hear."

But most spectacular of all is the experience of Mrs. R. B. Counts of Memphis, Tenn., who met death, and who no longer fears it, because — as she told me — "while I was away, I had a glimpse of Paradise."

Lest you should think she is some sort of crank, let me assure you that she is one of the sanest, most intelligent and consistently hard-working individuals of my acquaintance. She supports herself and her mother in the highly competitive business of real estate. Here is her story as she told it to me:

"We were returning from a visit to our married daughter. A man driving a truck pulled out of line on a hill . . . he had been drinking . . . the black-top road was wet. When he saw us, he slammed on his brakes.

"NO MEMORY OF CRASH
"I have no memory of the crash. My glasses were imbedded in my face . . . my jaws were broken in five places . . . Her voice dropped a little. 'I am so grateful. I could have been blinded or terribly mutilated.

"My first moment of consciousness was the realization that I had 'come back' from something so beautiful, I can't describe it even to myself. Every night before I go to sleep, I try to recapture it again. . . . I remember trees and flowers . . . color and the most glorious light!"

Her voice trembled and for a moment I thought she would not go on. Then she said: "The beauty of it was secondary, really . . . it was the utter peace . . . the sense of security . . . the sure conviction that everything was all right. You see, I had been a chronic worrier all my life — about bills, about every little problem . . . about things that never even happened.

ONLY GRATITUDE
"But during those seven months, when I had to be fed through a tube, I never seemed to mind the pain. I felt only gratitude for the revelation of divine love that had come to me."

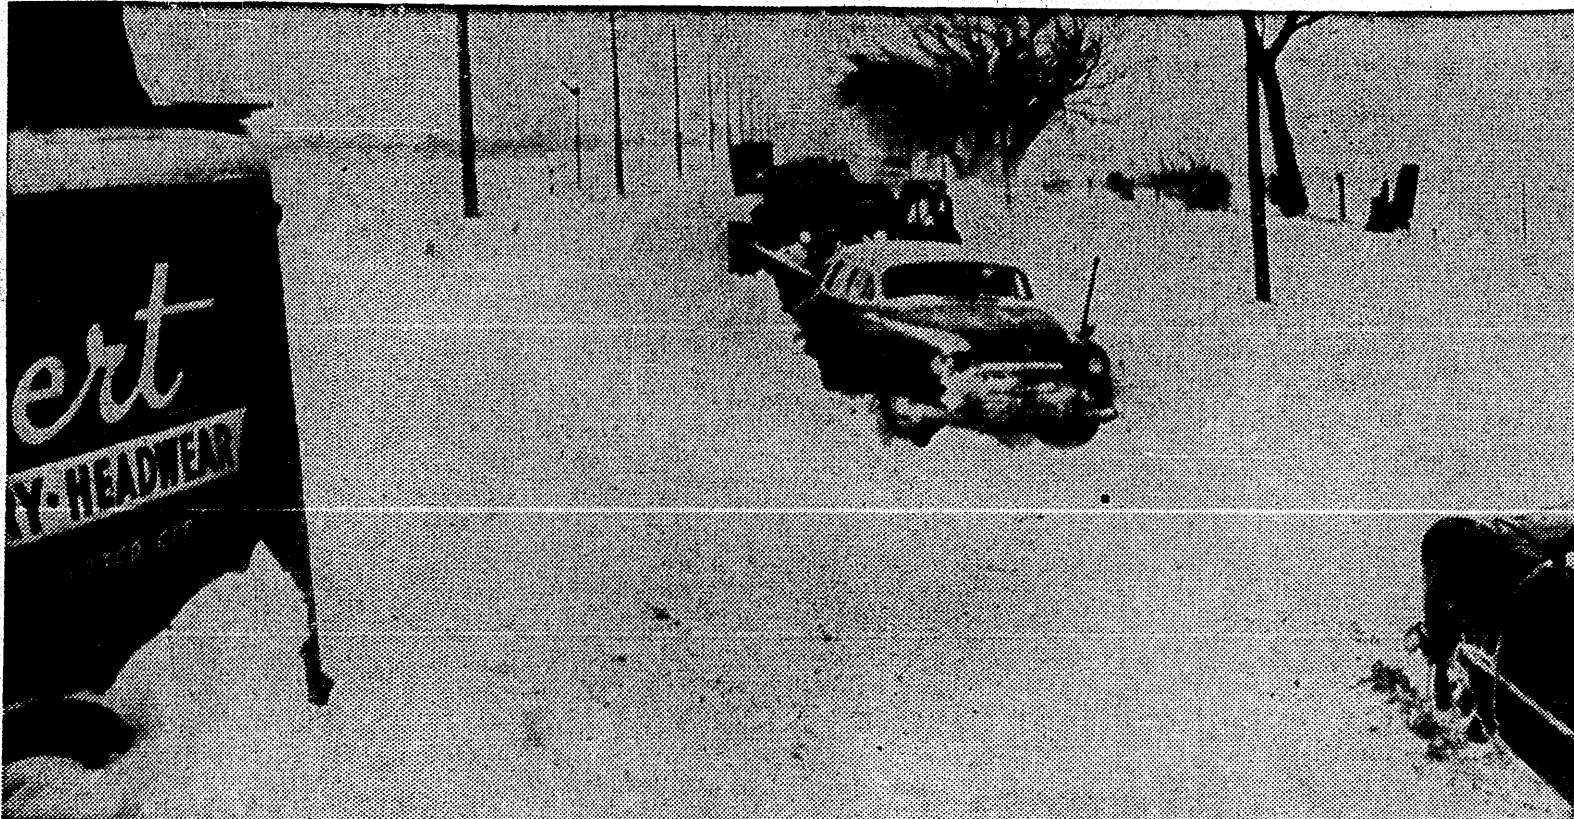

At this point I interrupted: "Now that you seem to have lost all fear of death, do you want to die?"

"Lots of people have asked me that. I can only tell you that I love life and I want to live as long as I can be useful."

"As a matter of fact," she added, "life is ever so much better in every way. I have quit worrying and fretting. If there is something I can do about a situation, I do it. If not, I put that problem behind me and go on to something I can do something about."

"I shrink from trying to force my own thoughts on people who have a different viewpoint, but if I knew that death would come tomorrow, or next week, it would seem as natural as a journey."

"I wish all those who are afraid and those who mourn, could know what I know, that I had a glimpse of Paradise. There is indeed no death; what seems so is transition."

MONROE

Judge W. M. Harper yesterday levied two 60-day compulsory terms in city court session.

Sentenced were Joe Hobgood, 30, 615 Morris Road, and Matthew Fields, 29, Monroe. Hobgood was charged with simple escape and Fields with theft.

Harper ordered that nine men picked up in Monroe for vagrancy be held for fingerprinting. Eight persons were fined for public intoxication, three, overparking; two, reckless driving; and one, improper muffler.

Bonds forfeited in court yesterday were five, speeding; one, reckless driving; one, no driver's license; and five, overparking.

WEST MONROE

On an aggravated assault charge, Dottie A. Belt, 31, 120 Copley St., was fined $50 in city court yesterday by Judge Jasper Jones.

Jack Taylor, 44, 1324 North 7th St., was sentenced to six months in jail on a simple battery charge. One person was fined $25 or 25 days for public drunkenness and another forfeited a $20.50 bond for speeding.

Progress Reported In Fire Prevention

The director of fire prevention education for Louisiana said in Monroe yesterday that Louisiana schools are "far in front" of many school systems in the country on the matter of fire safety measures.

Deputy Fire Marshal J. T. Lane, visiting from the state fire marshal's office in New Orleans, made the statement after completing a speaking tour of Union Parish public schools and two parochial schools in Ouachita Parish.

Lane appeared on invitation from deputy fire marshals A. S. "Bud" Tidwell, Monroe, and Carlton Underwood, Mangham.

"In the last six years fire prevention and safety measures have progressed tremendously in the state," Lane said.

He attributed the origin of the educational program to state Fire Marshal John Coon.

Local school officials have cooperated fully with the fire marshal's office, Lane added, and have made the utmost use of the educational program.

The fire marshal explained that most of his and other deputies with schools was in visitation and lecturing to school students about fire safety.

Lane, Tidwell, Underwood, West Monroe assistant fire chief Aubrey Taylor, and Morris Grepps, transportation supervisor for Ouachita Parish schools, made the tours yesterday.

The group finished its visits in Ouachita Parish at St. Paschals and Our Lady of Fatima Catholic schools.

Fire officials with Lane expressed their appreciation of the work and the fire marshal's office gave to aid local fire officials and schools.

Tidwell said that Lane has been asked to return to Northeast Louisiana for visits to Morehouse Parish schools, but the dates had not been set.

Lane noted a step-up in active fire drills at smaller schools since Coon issued an order of for one drill each month at every school.

Coon's order came shortly after 90 children and three nuns died in a blaze that swept Our Lady of Angels Catholic school in Chicago, December 1.

"However most schools have been having active drills every month for the past six years," Lane added.

First National Bank Building Is Well Planned

Officials at First National Bank started planning their progressive expansion program several years ago. In 1957 a site was purchased at the intersection of Cypress and Natchitoches.

Then Architect Beuford Jacka was hired to prepare plans for the building. In February, 1958 a construction contract was signed with Jesse F. Heard and Sons to erect a structure containing over 16,000 square feet of floor space.

The beautiful new home of the First National Bank has been completed and bank officials announce that they have moved from their present quarters to their new building. Open house will be held Saturday, at which time the public is cordially invited to view the new building, and banking facilities. The new building is of contemporary design and incorporates many of the newest materials available.

The building is constructed of steel, concrete and brick with a generous use of glass especially in the two story glass stairhall at the main entrance, which enclosed a stair to the second floor. The stair is covered with ceramic tile in various shades of green and blue. The stairhall is lighted with many concealed lights and three large chandeliers which seems to be floating in mid air.

The main lobby on the first floor has terrazzo floors and a wall to wall lighted plastic ceiling. The plastic ceiling is white with spots of colored panels. The walls and tellers cages are American cherry, finished natural with a beautiful abstract mural done in ceramic tile behind the tellers.

At one end of the main lobby there are two large vaults with time controlled locks. One vault contains only safe deposit boxes with several booths close by where customers may use their boxes in complete privacy.

The large bookkeeping room is directly behind the tellers with adjoining doors to speed up the service to the customers. There are two large drive-in windows served from the bookkeeping room. These windows are located in such a manner that the drive-in customer can easily approach the windows and be served even in a heavy rain. The driveway is large and if one window is occupied it is easy to drive past to the next window.

There is a large paved parking area around the bank and a large entrance and lobby adjoining to accommodate customers who drive and wish to use the inside facilities.

There is also an oversized night depository located for easy access and well lighted for safety. The depository was especially made to handle the largest of packages.

The first floor contains all of the banking facilities, however, on the second floor is a large meeting room with an adjoining office. At one end of the meeting room is a large lounge with complete kitchen cabinets and appliances. This kitchen, or snack bar, can be closed off with folding doors made of birch. Also, the lounge can be separated from the meeting room by birch folding doors which give a paneled wall effect when closed.

The meeting room and lounge overlook the down town area through a wall of glass which can be closed by drapes in order that movies may be shown. There is a speakers platform at the front of the room and also an auxiliary air conditioning unit for added cooling for large gatherings. The floor is covered with vinyl tile in a terrazzo pattern matching the terrazzo in other parts of the building.

The ceilings throughout the building with the exception of the lighted plastic ceiling in the main bank lobby, are acoustic tile to soften the noises in the various rooms. The meeting room is lighted by three large chandeliers and also indirect cove lighting of neon.

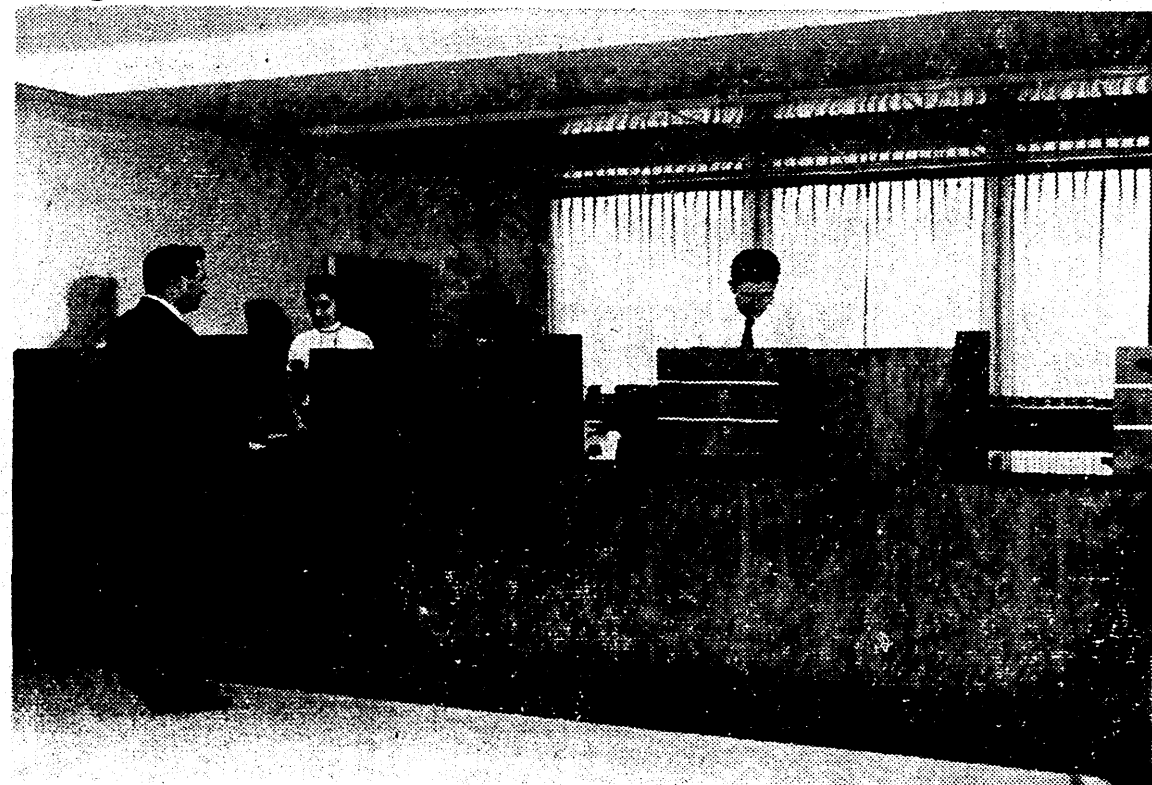

The wide corridor outside the meeting rooms serves as a lobby and is wider at one end of the building to form a sitting room and is furnished with modern sofa, chairs, and coffee table. This sitting area has its own special lighting and a large view of the city. Close to this area and the meeting room are the spacious rest rooms. The large ladies powder room is furnished with chairs and tables and large mirrors. The walls and floors are covered with colorful ceramic tile.

The remaining portion of the second floor contains rental storage areas and equipment for heating and cooling the entire building. The system consists of thirty tons of cooling capacity and a large boiler for heating.

The building is divided into four zones with individual thermostats for each zone to control the temperature.

The large plastic letters spelling First National Bank on the exterior of the building are lighted from within by tubes of neon and are controlled by time switches as are many of the other lights. The large one spelling First was custom made and is ten feet in length.

The architect for the building was assisted by Fred Kull, local consulting engineer, who designed the mechanical portion of the building, and Lester G. High, structural engineer, who engineered the steel framing and concrete. Gregor Goethals was the interior decorator and selected the beautiful colors of carpet, drapes, furniture and walls.

INSTALLMENT LOANS serviced in separate department.

Installment Loan Open
'Till 5 p.m.

The facilities provided for the installment loan department in the First National Bank's new building are an outstanding feature of the structure.

This department is located on the first floor at the north end of the building. During banking hours it can be reached from the south and north entrances to the bank. After banking hours it is closed off with folding doors from the bank's main lobby and then may be entered only from the north entrance.

The installment loan department will be open until 5 p.m. as a convenience for its customers.

Garland Hammons, cashier, is in charge of the installment loan department and he is assisted by Miss Ethel Landreaux, teller.

The term "installment" indicates the kind of banking done in this department. It is here that regular payments are made on home improvement loans, automobile loans, etc.

"We are especially proud of this department," said President J. W. Roberson. "It was designed as a convenience for our installment loan customers and we feel sure it will meet with a great deal of approval."

Drive-In Service
Second To None
At New Location

Two modern drive-in windows have been installed on the west side of the new First National Bank Building to serve the bank's customers who prefer to transact business from their automobiles.

Both window facilities are located under a roof to protect customers during bad weather.

The window units were designed and manufactured by Mosler, recognized as one of the best known manufacturers of banking equipment.

"Our window service provides facilities to transact any banking business a customer may wish," Roberson said.

The approach to the drive-in windows will be roomy, black-topped driveways, providing openings on Cypress and Natchitoches streets.

"This will be our first offering of drive-in service," Bank President J. W. Roberson said. "We expect the windows to be one of the most popular features at the new bank."

"We expect the drive-in windows especially popular with the ladies who bring children to town with them when they transact their banking business," Roberson said.

HIDDEN TALENT
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Police found out that one of 30 prisoners being taken to the city prison farm had a hidden talent. He picked the lock on the paddy wagon Wednesday and 10 prisoners hopped out before guards corrected the situation. Three were recaptured.

Ten times as many American soldiers died of disease in the Spanish-American war than perished from battle wounds.

Paying, Receiving Facilities Tops

One of the more impressive features of the newly opened First National Bank's lobby is a lengthy row of tellers windows which greet customers as they enter either of the two main entrances.

"The latest style in teller case design was selected for this section of the bank," according to President J. W. Roberson. "We ing teller stations are Leon Massey and Sam Yeager, assistant cashiers, and Ed Bufkin, teller.

Although the bank is now equipped with surplus teller cages, Roberson points out that when the new building was planned provisions were made to provide for future needs. Growth anticipation is reflected in other departments of the bank too.

"We knew that it would be foolish to build without considering our future growth," Roberson said. Asked how long he expects facilities in the new building to meet the bank's growing need, Roberson pointed out "that depends on how fast we grow, of course."

History Of Bank Is Traced; First Conceived In 1951

It might be said that the conception of the First National Bank of West Monroe developed during lunch between H. A. McDonald, and the late D. Y. Smith on Labor Day in 1951.

Smith, acting for N. B. James and Associates, who were instrumental in organizing the Sterling bank about two years prior to this time, approached the subject by asking McDonald if he would be interested in joining them in the organization of a bank in West Monroe. The subject was discussed at length and McDonald indicated he was interested in the venture.

On October 1, 1951 a formal letter went to the comptroller of currency in Washington, D. C. requesting advice on the procedure in obtaining a charter for a national bank. The reply was prompt advising the sponsors to contact the chief examiner of the 11th Federal Reserve District in Dallas, Texas and they would arrange a date for a conference on the matter.

The date agreed upon was October 10, 1951 at which time N. B. James, R. L. Davis, Sr. and McDonald participated. At the conclusion of the conference the chief examiner indicated there was justification for an application.

Formal application was made and an investigation was conducted on February 27 and 28, 1952. The investigators for the comptroller of currency's office, the Federal Reserve Bank, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation conducted their examination for the need of a bank in West Monroe and made their report. Nothing was heard of this until early April, 1952. The comptroller of the currency's office in Washington, D. C. advised the organizing group that upon the basis of a report submitted, by those conducting the examination, he could not justify the granting of a charter for a national bank in West Monroe. This was a keen disappointment.

N. B. James and Associates withdrew from the sponsoring group because of pressing demand of their time for other business interest. After this withdrawal, the late S. John Williams joined the venture and he and H. A. McDonald spearheaded the drive from that point on together with W. A. Allen, Fred E. Bennett, Ronald Lee, Davis, Sr., E. E. Eaves, W. C. Feazel, Lee Hawkins, F. E. Maxwell and O. N. Reynolds as a sponsoring group.

After several weeks of negotiating with the national banking authorities in Washington, D. C. and Dallas, Texas, they agreed to reopen the case and a new application was made. After securing scores of letters from interested citizens and business people in this area expressing the need of a bank in West Monroe, R. L. Davis, Sr., S. J. Williams, and H. A. McDonald flew to Washington, D. C. and in a conference with the officials of the comptroller of currency's office it was tentatively agreed to grant a charter for a national bank in West Monroe conditioned upon approval by the chief examiner of the comptroller of currency of the 11th Federal Reserve District, Dallas, Texas.

After several conferences between the sponsoring group and the chief examiner's office in Dallas it was agreed that they would make another investigation and examination for the need of a national bank in West Monroe conditioned upon the sponsoring group finding a man suitable to the chief examiner with banking experience to manage the bank. This was the hardest job anyone could ever be expected to do. To find a capable qualified man to handle a job managing a bank and not having a bank to manage. That was their job and fate worked with them. Mr. H. A. McDonald said "The country could be looked over with a fine tooth comb and a better man could not be found than J. W. Roberson of Houston, Texas." Mr. Roberson is now active president of the First National Bank of West Monroe.

Finally on November 5, 1952 a wire was received from the comptroller of currency's office in Washington, D. C. advising the sponsoring group that their second application for a charter of a national bank had been approved.

After the usual procedure of organizing, selling the stock, collecting, and etc., there was the necessity for a place to do business. The group acquired the property at the corner of Cotton and Natchitoches Streets and constructed a modern and up to date banking house, which in their opinion, at the time, would last ten, twelve, or maybe fifteen years. But thanks to the patronage of the people in this area the bank has made such growth that it began to realize two years ago it had to have larger quarters and more facilities to handle their increasing business. Property was acquired on the corner of Cypress and Natchitoches Streets where our modern and up to date facilities are being opened to the people in this area.

The bank had capital account $375,000 when it opened. In December, 1957 an additional $87,500.00 was paid in making the total paid in capital account $462,500.00. December 31, 1958 the capital account with reserves was $613,869.90 which makes a total capital account in excess of $150,000.00 more than paid in. This additional $150,000.00 came from earnings.

During the five years of operation the bank has been a boost to the economy of this community opening with seven employees. Today the bank has fifteen on the payroll. They have paid out in salaries through December 31, 1958 $295,087.32. The First National bank has paid to the city, parish and state a total of $70,859.12 in property taxes. In addition to this the bank has paid to its stockholders a total of $53,000.00 in cash dividends.

The support and patronage through these five years have made these new modern facilities possible. We keenly appreciate the confidence that you have placed in us and we re-dedicate ourselves at this time to continue providing the best banking service possible. We invite you to come visit our new bank and you will share our pride in these new ultra modern quarters.

Enough saw timber to build 35 million new houses now stands in the commercial forests of California.

New Offices In Plush Privacy

First National Bank executives and loan officers moved into the bank's new building to find private offices with complete, modern and convenient facilities.

Thick carpeting adorns the floors in the executive office area.

On the immediate right, after entering at the south end of the building, is the office of Harvey McDonald, chairman of the board. His office will also accommodate executive conferences and even board meetings.

Next to McDonald's office is that of President J. W. Roberson. Other bank officials who have private offices in the executive office area are Delma Carter, vice - president and Carl White, also a vice - president.

Just outside the executive offices is a customers' lounging area, serviced with comfortable seats where customers may sit for chats and business meetings.

Miss Marian Harrell, whose desk will be in one section of the customers' lounging area, will serve as receptionist and secretary to the bank officers. She will also supply information to customers.

Roberson described the executive office facilities as "representative of the consideration we intend to give our customers. With our arrangement we will be able to provide private meetings with all loan officers."

Bookkeeping Important At 1st National

Just as bookkeeping is a vitally important phase of any business, it is one of the most important functions in a bank, where all records must be kept correctly to the 'nth degree.

The First National Bank of West Monroe prides itself on the efficiency of its bookkeeping department, where a tremendous amount of work is done.

Mary Ethel West, Mrs. Clara Nolan, Mrs. Martha Jane McCurdy, and Mrs. Shelbie Lenard, the proof clerk. Mrs. Joyce Trawick serves as drive-in teller.

It is also the bookkeeping department's job to prepare a monthly statement for each account. This statement goes out to the customer with his cancelled checks; and it shows his outstanding balance, the day-to-day deposits, the checks drawn against the account in the past 30 days, and the balance. Thus, the monthly statement provides the customer with an accurate account of his finances for the month.

The date agreed upon was October 10, 1951 at which time N. B. James, R. L. Davis, Sr. and McDonald participated. At the conclusion of the conference the chief examiner indicated there was justification for an application.

Formal application was made and an investigation was conducted on February 27 and 28, 1952. The investigators for the comptroller of currency's office, the Federal Reserve Bank, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation conducted their examination for the need of a bank in West Monroe and made their report. Nothing was heard of this until early April, 1952. The comptroller of the currency's office in Washington, D. C. advised the organizing group that upon the basis of a report submitted, by those conducting the examination, he could not justify the granting of a charter for a national bank in West Monroe. This was a keen disappointment.

N. B. James and Associates withdrew from the sponsoring group because of pressing demand of their time for other business interest. After this withdrawal, the late S. John Williams joined the venture and he and H. A. McDonald spearheaded the drive from that point on together with W. A. Allen, Fred E. Bennett, Ronald Lee Davis, Sr., E. E. Eaves, W. C. Feazel, Lee Hawkins, F. E. Maxwell and O. N. Reynolds as a sponsoring group.

After several weeks of negotiating with the national banking authorities in Washington, D. C. and Dallas, Texas, they agreed to reopen the case and a new application was made. After securing scores of letters from interested citizens and business people in this area expressing the need of a bank in West Monroe, R. L. Davis, Sr., S. J. Williams, and H. A. McDonald flew to Washington, D. C. and in a first conference with the officials of the comptroller of currency's office it was tentatively agreed to grant a charter for a national bank in West Monroe conditioned upon approval by the chief examiner of the comptroller of currency of the 11th Federal Reserve District, Dallas, Texas.

After several conferences between the sponsoring group and the chief examiner's office in Dallas it was agreed that they would make another investigation and examination for the need of a national bank in West Monroe conditioned upon the sponsoring group finding a man suitable to the chief examiner with banking experience to manage the bank. This was the hardest job anyone could ever be expected to do. To find a capable qualified man to handle a job managing a bank and not having a bank to manage. That was their job and fate worked with them. Mr. H. A. McDonald said "The country could be looked over with a fine tooth comb and a better man could not be found than J. W. Roberson of Houston, Texas." Mr. Roberson is now active president of the First National Bank of West Monroe.

Finally on November 5, 1952 a wire was received from the comptroller of currency's office in Washington, D. C. advising the sponsoring group that their second application for a charter of a national bank had been approved.

After the usual procedure of organizing, selling the stock, collecting, and etc., there was the necessity for a place to do business. The group acquired the property at the corner of Cotton and Natchitoches Streets and constructed a modern and up to date banking house, which in their opinion, at the time, would last ten, twelve, or maybe fifteen years. But thanks to the patronage of the people in this area the bank has made such growth that it began to realize two years ago it had to have larger quarters and more facilities to handle their increasing business. Property was acquired on the corner of Cypress and Natchitoches Streets where our modern and up to date facilities are being opened to the people in this area.

The bank had capital account $375,000 when it opened. In December, 1957 an additional $87,500.00 was paid in making the total paid in capital account $462,500.00. December 31, 1958 the capital account with reserves was $613,869.90 which makes a total capital account in excess of $150,000.00 more than paid in. This additional $150,000.00 came from earnings.

During the five years of operation the bank has been a boost to the economy of this community opening with seven employees. Today the bank has fifteen on the payroll. They have paid out in salaries through December 31, 1958 $295,087.32. The First National bank has paid to the

New Offices In Plush Privacy

First National Bank executives and loan officers moved into the bank's new building to find private offices with complete, modern and convenient facilities.

They are located on the right side of the building, as the lobby is approached from the south entrance.

Thick carpeting adorns the floors in the executive office area.

On the immediate right, after entering at the south end of the building, is the office of Harvey McDonald, chairman of the board. His office will also accommodate executive conferences and even board meetings.

Next to McDonald's office is that of President J. W. Roberson. Other bank officials who have private offices in the executive office area are Delma Carter, vice - president and Carl White, also a vice - president.

Just outside the executive offices is a customers' lounging area, serviced with comfortable seats where customers may sit for chats and business meetings.

Miss Marian Harrell, whose desk will be in one section of the customers' lounging area, will serve as receptionist and secretary to the bank officers. She will also supply information to customers.

Roberson described the executive office facilities as "representative of the consideration we intend to give our customers. With our arrangement we will be able to provide private meetings with all loan officers"

Bookkeeping Important At 1st National

Just as bookkeeping is a vitally important phase of any business, it is one of the most important functions in a bank, where all records must be kept correctly to the 'nth degree.

The First National Bank of West Monroe prides itself on the efficiency of its bookkeeping department, where a tremendous amount of work is done.

Mary Ethel West, Mrs. Clara Nolan, Mrs. Martha Jane McCurdy, and Mrs. Shelby Lenard, the proof clerk. Mrs. Joyce Trawick serves as drive-in teller.

It is also the bookkeeping department's job to prepare a monthly statement for each account. This statement goes out to the customer with his cancelled checks; and it shows his outstanding balance, the day-to-day deposits, the checks drawn against the account in the past 30 days, and the balance. Thus, the monthly statement provides the customer with an accurate account of his finances for the month.

Personal Lock Boxes Big Bank Feature

Personal safety deposit boxes have become a popular item with bank customers in recent years, so the First National Bank of West Monroe did not overlook such an important fact when the bank's new building was erected at the intersection of Cypress and Natchitoches streets.

A huge vault room contains a large number of these personal lock boxes on the south end of the new building. The safety deposit box vault is located adjacent to the main bank vault, where the bank keeps its own surplus and other valuables. The vaults are completely fireproof.

Adjacent to the safety deposit box vault the bank has installed private booths where customers may take their personal lock boxes for completely private handling.

SPACE LAWS URGED

Solon Fears Reds Will Claim Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) tangled with the State Department's top lawyer Friday on the need for hurry-up space laws to keep Russia from claiming the moon.

"Suppose the Russians were to turn the moon red as a propaganda stunt — which they could do," Fulton said.

"Do we have the right to put a blue and white band around it and make it red, white and blue?"

In the somewhat cloudy atmosphere of the House Space Committee hearing, department Counsel Loftus Becker replied, "there is a lot more to claiming sovereignty under international law than sticking a red flag into the ground."

Fulton said the United States should push ahead "as quickly as possible" to resolve such prickly problems by reaching agreement on an international space law.

Becker said he had advised U.S. officials to "make haste slowly" in reaching any sort of international space agreement. Deploing the fact that there are at present no legal limits on space, Fulton asked Becker "what should the government tell the General Electric Co. if it wants to launch a network of communications satellites? May they do it?"

Or, he said, "what should I advise the 14th Street Boys Club in my district" about whether they may launch a rocket?

"The most practical advice to you is to tell them to hire a lawyer," Becker said. "I don't give advice to private citizens. I give advice to the secretary of state."

Later, Assistant Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox offered a steady hand when he told the committee the United States was moving ahead in the field by taking part in the forthcoming talks of the U.N. Space Law Committee.

He said the committee—boycotted by Russia — would attempt to draw up an inventory of international law that would be applicable to space and survey problems in the entire field.

PLANS PLASTER MILL SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Fibre-board Paper Products Corp. plans to construct a plaster mill with an annual capacity of 45,000 tons adjacent to its South Gate gypsum wallboard and lath plant near Los Angeles.

Meeting Room Free To Public

A community meeting room large enough to comfortably seat more than 200 people has been provided with the completion of the new First National Bank building.

"The meeting room is one of the outstanding features of our building, we think," according to Bank President J. W. Roberson. Located on the second floor of the building, the community meeting room will be available for "any community meeting," Roberson said. He said that even before the banking facilities were relocated to the new building the community meeting room had developed as a popular spot for meetings of all kinds.

Roberson explained that the only requirement for securing the meeting room was registration in advance through George Wylie, manager of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce which maintains office on the second floor of the bank adjacent to the community auditorium.

"We encourage the public to feel free to use the meeting room at any time they have a need for it," according to Roberson. "We built it and equipped it for that purpose," he said.

To the rear of the meeting room the bank employees lounge was located and equipped with a stove, refrigerator, coffee urn and various other facilities. The employees' lounge area can be opened up to become a part of the main community meeting room.

British Chief Says Moscow Trip Helpful

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said Friday his mission to Moscow was helpful even though the immediate results of his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev were not "very great."

Macmillan made his assessment of his recent "reconnaissance" visit to Russia in a speech at a luncheon here. He was on a brief "meet the people" visit to Northern Ireland, the first of a series of journeys that will keep him away from London for most of March.

It was announced in London and Washington that Macmillan had accepted an invitation from President Eisenhower to go to the United States to discuss the Berlin crisis and his talks with Khrushchev. He will visit Paris, Bonn, and Ottawa before arriving in Washington March 19.

A radio Moscow broadcast Friday said Macmillan's visit to the Soviet Union was a "distinct step" toward dispelling international tensions. It added, however, that U. S. officials were "quite cool" in their comments on the trip.

Citizens Group Forms For Drive To End Gambling

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A new group comprising clergymen and citizens in St. Bernard Parish formed to attack gambling activities said Friday it would gather evidence of gambling because it isn't satisfied with law enforcement.

The Rev. Homer Hughes, leader of the group, said he and other members were told this week by Dr. Nicholas Trist, parish sheriff, that deputies were enforcing the law to the best of their ability.

When Dr. Trist said he needed evidence to prosecute gamblers, the group offered a list of seven places where gambling allegedly occurred in the past two weeks and said it would gather more evidence.

"Whether you call these small-time operations or not," The Rev. Hughes said, "it's still against the law and it's going on plenty."

In Baton Rouge, Gov. Earl Long has delayed answering an anti-gambling petition presented by other church groups until the attorney general has chance to study it.

Oil Production In Alabama Dips During January

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Alabama oil production dipped slightly in January. The decline was due to a drop in the output at the big Citronelle field.

A report by the State Oil & Gas Board Friday listed total production for the month by the state's 270 production wells as 478,566 barrels. This was a drop of 6,910 barrels from December output.

Citronelle produced 376,321 barrels during the month, down 7,697 barrels from December.

Southern States Oil Co., Jackson, Miss., was completing a new producer at Citronelle. The well, drilled to 11,490 feet, is located about 2 miles southeast of the Donavan discovery well.

The Southern States well is the 174th producer in that field and was the 13th brought in there this year.

Mexican Paper Blames Bolivia Riots On Reds

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A leading Mexican newspaper charged Friday this week's anti-American riots in Bolivia resulted from the "poisonous and insidious action of Communist agents."

Disturbances Monday and Tuesday in La Paz, the Bolivian capital, resulted in the death of two persons and in damages to the buildings of the U.S. Embassy and other U.S. government offices which were stoned by demonstrators protesting an article in Time magazine.

An editorial in the newspaper Excelsior here said Bolivians could have demanded satisfaction from the magazine, asked for a United States investigation and even staged public demonstrations against the publication.

Lawsuits Ask For $144,345 In Payments

Three lawsuits totalling $144,345.53 were filed yesterday with the Ouachita Parish Clerk of Court's office, two for injuries received in falls, and one as result of a car wreck.

Asking $49,044.93 are Mr. and Mrs. R. Donald Dervan of Savannah, Ga., formerly of Monroe. Mrs. Dervan states that she fell on a "heavily waxed floor" in the Monroe Morgan and Lindsey store on Nov. 14, 1958.

She claims serious back injuries, loss of work as teacher in a modeling school, and internal injuries necessitating surgery and asks $42,500. Her husband asks $5,544.93 for medical expenses and loss of her salary.

In the second suit, a total of $77,230 is asked by two Monroe couples. Defendants are George Theodos of Ruston and the Grain Dealers Mutual Insurance Co.

Mrs. Opal W. Thompson, 58, states that as she was driving east on Cypress St., West Monroe last Oct. 3, she halted behind another vehicle and Theodos rammed her vehicle, propelling it into the one in front.

CHARGES She charges that she suffered neck injuries, back strain, cuts, bruises, partial loss of speech due to a tongue injury and extreme nervousness and asks $50,000.

Mrs. Mary V. Davis, 60, a passenger in the Thompson auto, asks $25,000 for neck injury, lacerations, anxiety and extreme nervousness.

W. W. Thompson asks $1307 medical and maid expenses, John W. Davis is suing for $923 medical and maid bill.

A $18,050.60 damage suit was filed by Mrs. Beulah Bradberry against Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dispenza, 414 Breard, her landlords for the past 14 years.

She states that she constantly asked them to place a handrail next to the outside steps, but none was added and on March 7, 1958, she fell on the steps.

The suit charges that she received disabling back and leg injuries, underwent surgery and has been unable to work since that time.

Milner Corp. Takes Over State Times

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Dumas Milner Corp. took control of the Jackson State Times Friday, merging the financially pressed paper into one of the holdings of Jackson industrialist R. E. Dumas Milner.

Milner issued a prepared statement saying the stockholders of both the Dumas Milner Corp. and the Citizens Publishing Co., which published the four-year-old afternoon paper, had approved the merger.

The Milner Corp. manufactures household cleansers.

The statement said the same board of directors of the State Times will continue to serve and the merger will bring no changes in the policies, management, personnel or operation of the paper.

Three officers of the publishing firm were named vice presidents of the merged group. They are former mayor Leland Speed Sr., real estate man W. P. Bridges Sr., and State Times publisher O. A. Robinson.

Milner said the merger will give the paper financial stability and enable it to continue operation.

He told stockholders of the State Times at their merger meeting last month he could take 52 cents of every dollar he put into the paper from tax funds. The paper has been losing money since its operation began, and its losses would offset Milner Corp. profits for tax purposes.

Polish Embassy

Member Is Held As Spy Contact

BRUSSELS (UPI)—A member of the Polish Embassy staff in Brussels—a man identified only by the initial "M"—was arrested Thursday night while trying to contact a spy ring operating in Belgium, the Justice Ministry announced Friday.

The ministry said the embassy official, who apparently did not have diplomatic status, was caught while depositing a large sum of money and a message at a secret drop for a member of the spy group.

Police sources said the contact to whom the money and message were supposed to go also was arrested and added, "more arrests may be made soon."
